Marxism and National Identity Robert Stuart, 2006-06-01 Post Marxists argue that nationalism is the black hole into which Marxism has collapsed at today s end of history Robert Stuart analyzes the origins of this implosion revealing a shattering collision between Marxist socialism and national identity in France at the close of the nineteenth century During the time of the Boulanger crisis and the Dreyfus affair nationalist mobs roamed the streets chanting France for the French while socialist militants marshaled proletarians for world revolution This is the first study to focus on those militants as they struggled to reconcile Marxism s two national agendas the cosmopolitan conviction that workingmen have no country on the one hand and the patriotic assumption that the working class alone represents national authenticity on the other Anti Semitism posed a particular problem for such socialists not least because so many workers had succumbed to racist temptation In analyzing the resultant encounter between France s anti Semites and the Marxist Left Stuart addresses the vexed issue of Marxism s involvement with political anti Semitism
