Economic Investigations in Twentieth-Century Detective Fiction

Yan Zi-Ling, 2016-03-09 In his study of Golden Age and hard boiled detective fiction from 1890 to 1950 Yan Zi Ling argues that these two subgenres can be distinguished not only by theme and style but by the way they structure knowledge value and productive labour Using the detective as a reference point and enactor of socially based interests Yan shows that Golden Age texts are distinguished by their conservatism and not only by their conservatism with the detectives actions serving to stabilize institutions with specific ideological aims In contrast the criminal investigations of the hard boiled detective who is poorly aligned with institutions and strong interest groups reveal the fragility of the status quo in the face of escalating cycles of violence Key to Yan's discussion are theories of exchange value and the gift the latter of which he suggests is more akin to detective work than is wage labour Analyzing texts by a wide range of authors that includes Arthur Conan Doyle Agatha Christie Dashiell Hammett Raymond Chandler Dorothy Sayers Raoul Whitfield George Harmon Coxe and Mickey Spillane Yan demonstrates that the detective's truth generating function most often characterized as a process of discovery rather than creation is in fact crucial to the institutional and class based interests that he or she serves

Evolutionary Psychology and Information Systems Research

Ned Kock, 2010-07-28 This book is a compilation of chapters written by leading researchers from all over the world Those researchers common characteristic is that they have investigated issues at the intersection of the elds of information systems IS and evolutionary psychology EP The main goal of this book is to serve as a reference for IS research building on EP concepts and theories in short IS EP research The book is organized in three main parts Part I focuses on EP concepts and theories that can be used as a basis for IS EP research Part II provides several exemplars of IS EP research in practice and Part III summarizes emerging issues and debate that can inform IS EP research including debate regarding philosophical foundations and credibility of related findings IS EP research is generally concerned with the use of concepts and theories from EP in the study of IS particularly regarding the impact of modern information and communication technologies on the behavior of individuals groups and organizations From a practitioners perspective the most immediate consumers of IS EP research are those who develop and use IS of which a large contingent are in businesses that employ IS to support marketing order taking production and delivery of goods and services In this context IS EP findings may be particularly useful due to the present need to design web based interfaces that will be used by individuals from different cultures and often different countries and whose common denominator is their human nature
