Lorena S. Walsh, 2012-12-01 Lorena Walsh offers an enlightening history of plantation management in the Chesapeake colonies of Virginia and Maryland ranging from the founding of Jamestown to the close of the Seven Years War and the end of the Golden Age of colonial Chesapeake agriculture Walsh focuses on the operation of more than thirty individual plantations and on the decisions that large planters made about how they would run their farms She argues that in the mid seventeenth century Chesapeake planter elites deliberately chose to embrace slavery Prior to 1763 the primary reason for large planters debt was their purchase of capital assets especially slaves early in their careers In the later stages of their careers chronic indebtedness was rare Walsh's narrative incorporates stories about the planters themselves including family dynamics and relationships with enslaved workers Accounts of personal and family fortunes among the privileged minority and the less well documented accounts of the suffering resistance and occasional minor victories of the enslaved workers add a personal dimension to more concrete measures of planter success or failure George Washington and the West Charles H. Ambler, 2018-08-25 Few books about George Washington treat exclusively his western interests and activities As these interests were extensive and admittedly determining factors in his career as a soldier the present volume offers a much needed picture of this phase of Washington's life The author offers substantial evidence to refute the charges that Washington's interests were predominantly selfish because of his large holdings in the West and calls to mind that in statesmanship Washington is seen at his best in his efforts to unite the East and West Originally published in 1936 A UNC Press Enduring Edition UNC Press Enduring Editions use the latest in digital technology to make available again books from our distinguished backlist that were previously out of print These editions are published unaltered from the original and are presented in affordable paperback formats bringing readers both historical and cultural value Maryland's Blue and Gray: A Border State's Union and Confederate Junior Officer Corps Kevin Conley Ruffner, 1997 Miscellaneous Publication ,1939 Southern Waters Craig E. Colten, 2014-10-13 Water has dominated images of the South throughout history from Hernando de Soto s 1541 crossing of the Mississippi to tragic scenes of flooding throughout the Gulf South after Hurricane Katrina But these images tell only half the story as urban industrial and population growth create unprecedented demands on water in the South the problems of pollution and water shortages grow ever more urgent In Southern Waters The Limits to Abundance Craig E Colten addresses how the South in an environment fraught with uncertainty can navigate the twin risks of too much water and not enough From the arrival of the first European settlers the South's inhabitants have pursued a course of maximum exploitation and control of the area's plentiful waters investing widely in wetland drainage and massive flood control projects Disputes over southern waterways go back nearly as far obstruction of fish migration by mill dams prompted new policies to protect aquatic life as early as the colonial era Colten argues that such conflicts which have heightened dramatically since the explosive urbanization of the mid twentieth century will only become more frequent and intense making the shift toward sustainable use a national imperative In tracing the evolving uses and abuses of southern waters Colten offers crucial insights into the complex historical geography of water throughout the region A masterful analysis of the ways in which past generations harnessed and consumed water Southern Waters also stands as a guide to adapting our water usage to cope with the looming shortage of this once abundant resource Debtors and Creditors in America Peter J. Coleman, 1999 Americans now depend more heavily upon credit than any other society on Earth or any other time in history Borrowing has become a way of life for millions of families and it is hard to imagine a time when charge accounts did not exist Nonetheless it would be a mistake to assume that because a wallet filled with plastic instead of cash is a relatively new phenomenon Americans have not been borrowers and lenders since the colonization of the New World Author Peter J Coleman proves otherwise In one Form or another notes of hand book credit commercial paper mortgages land contracts settlers borrowed to pay their passage from Europe to buy and clear land to build and operate mills to purchase slaves and to gamble and drink Debtors prison awaited those who could not pay their debts and a pauper s grave received the unfortunate who lacked the private means to feed and clothe himself in prison While the debtors prisons described in this book no longer exist the author maintains that our credit oriented society has yet to devise cheap efficient equitable and humane methods of enforcing contracts for debt Peat Land in the Pacific Coast States in Relation to Land and Water Resources Alfred Paul Dachnowski-Stokes.1936 Agricultural Library Notes .1927 Appalachia in the Making Mary Beth Pudup, Dwight B. Billings, Altina L. Waller, 2000-11-09 Appalachia first entered the American consciousness as a distinct region in the decades following the Civil War The place and its people have long been seen as backwards and other because of their perceived geographical social and economic isolation These essays by fourteen eminent historians and social scientists illuminate important dimensions of early social life in diverse sections of the Appalachian mountains The contributors seek to place the study of Appalachia within the context of comparative regional studies of the United States maintaining that processes and patterns thought to make the region exceptional were not necessarily unique to the mountain South The contributors are Mary K Anglin Alan Banks Dwight B Billings Kathleen M Blee Wilma A Dunaway John R Finger John C Inscoe Ronald L Lewis Ralph Mann Gordon B McKinney Mary Beth Pudup Paul Salstrom Altina L Waller and John Alexander Williams
