Ramírez de Arellano,José Gabriel Rigau Pérez,2008 Negotiated Memory Julie Rak,2004 The Doukhobors Russian speaking immigrants who arrived in Canada beginning in 1899 are known primarily to the Canadian public through the sensationalist images of them as nude protestors anarchists and religious fanatics representations largely propagated by government commissions and the Canadian media In Negotiating Memory Julie Rak examines the ways in which autobiographical strategies have been employed by the Doukhobors themselves in order to retell and reclaim their own history Drawing from oral interviews court documents government reports prison diaries and media accounts Rak demonstrates how the Doukhobors employed both classic and alternative forms of autobiography to communicate their views about communal living vegetarianism activism and spiritual life as well as to pass on traditions to successive generations More than a historical work this book brings together recent theories concerning subjectivity autobiography and identity and shows how Doukhobor autobiographical discourse forms a series of ongoing negotiations for identity and collective survival that are sometimes successful and sometimes not An innovative study Negotiating Memory will appeal to those interested in autobiography studies as well as to historians literary critics and students and scholars of Canadian cultural studies Diary in Exile, 1935 Leon Trotsky,1958 This diary of the exiled Trotsky is a powerfully evocative fragment of history and human personality Written in France and Norway it gives the day to day reflections of a fallen leader of one who has wielded power and was now in an exceptional position to observe it in the hands of others Naturally there are penetrating comments here on local and international politics often timeless in their relevance but with them comes admission to the private world of the revolutionary intellectual Here Trotsky lived with anguish was beset by loneliness and sustained himself by pride and fanaticism Freedom's Gardener Myra B. Young Armstead,2013-06-22 Unearths an unexpected bloom of liberty in an ex slave's journal Encyclopedia of Gothic Literature Mary Ellen Snodgrass,2014-05-14 Presents an alphabetical reference guide detailing the lives and works of authors associated with Gothic literature Stanley's Dream Jacalyn Duffin,2019-08-30 In 1964-65 an international team of thirty-eight scientists and assistants led by Montreal physician Stanley Skoryna sailed to the mysterious Rapa Nui Easter Island to conduct an unprecedented survey of its biosphere Born of Cold War concerns about pollution overpopulation and conflict and initially conceived as the first of two trips the project was designed to document the island's status before a proposed airport would link the one thousand people living in humanity's remotest community to the rest of the world its germs genes culture and economy Based on archival papers diaries photographs and interviews with nearly twenty members of the original team Stanley's Dream sets the expedition in its global context within the early days of ecological research and the understudied International Biological Program Jacalyn Duffin traces the origins the voyage the often complicated life within the constructed camp the scientific preoccupations the role of women the resultant reports films and publications and the previously unrecognized accomplishments of the project including a goodwill tour of South America the delivery of vaccines and the discovery of a wonder drug For Rapa Nui the expedition coincided with its rebellion against the colonizing Chilean military resulting in its first democratic election For Canada it reflected national optimism as the country prepared for its centennial and adopted its own flag Ending with Duffin's own journey to the island to uncover the legacy of the study and the impact of the airport and to elicit local memories Stanley's Dream is an entertaining and poignant account of a long forgotten but important Canadian led international expedition
