Pedhazur, Liora Pedhazur Schmelkin, 2013-04-15 In textbooks and courses in statistics substantive and measurement issues are rarely if at all considered Similarly textbooks and courses in measurement virtually ignore design and analytic questions and research design textbooks and courses pay little attention to analytic and measurement issues This fragmentary approach fosters a lack of appreciation of the interrelations and interdependencies among the various aspects of the research endeavor Pedhazur and Schmelkin's goal is to help readers become proficient in these aspects of research and their interrelationships and to use that information in a more integrated manner The authors offer extensive commentaries on inputs and outputs of computer programs in the context of the topics presented Both the organization of the book and the style of presentation allow for much flexibility in choice sequence and degree of sophistication with which topics are dealt

Assimakopoulos, 2017-11-09 This book analyses the relationships among product safety strategy and culture concurrent engineering new product development NPD processes and product safety performance Product safety is a matter of enormous economic and societal concern given the safety risks to consumers and the financial risks to producers Nevertheless a thorough conceptual understanding of the effects of NPD policies and practices is still largely missing as several large scale trends have made clarifying the role of product safety in its socio economic context difficult including the rise of consumerism and the shift in the balance of power from manufacturers to customers and regulators the internationalization of value chains and the fragmentation of markets worldwide and technological change leading to a sophistication of products that rendered average consumers increasingly unaware of risk and potential accidents This volume sets out to close the gaps among research practice and policy with an emphasis on advocating responsible product innovation

Through an in depth study of the durable juvenile products industry the authors discover important relationships for example that top management involvement safety first culture and robust NPD processes are paramount in increasing product safety and decreasing product recalls in firms On the other end of the spectrum concurrent engineering does not automatically lead to product safety they found no magic bullet through which product safety can be tied to the use of a particular tool skill or practice Offering a dynamic framework for aligning the interests of multiple stakeholders including manufacturers regulators and consumers the authors provide a clearer understanding of product safety and its implications for scholars students policy makers and practitioners in the areas of innovation management product management R D management and responsible research and innovation Advances in Psychology Research Frank Columbus,2001 Advances in Psychology Research

The Cultural Logic of Politics in Mainland China and Taiwan Tianjian Shi,2015 This book uses surveys statistics and case studies to explain why and how cultural norms affect political attitudes and behavior Rural Development And Migration Sally E. Findley,Calvin Goldscheider,2019-10-16 Perhaps because I grew up on a farm in Ohio I have long been interested in rural development Although I fl St became a migrant at the age of 17 when I left the farm to continue my studies in a city college I was not aware of the relation between rural development and migration until many years later when I began studying patterns of urban and rural poverty This research has grown out of my continuing investigation of the ways that migration has been seen as both a response to chronic conditions of rural poverty and a factor potentially exacerbating urban poverty conditions If governments wanted to deal with urban poverty they would want to restrict urban in migration yet if they reduced urban in migration this would remove one of the important means available to persons seeking to raise themselves out of rural impoverishment This would clearly be a no win situation for the rural poor the only way to deal fairly with both urban and rural poverty would be to foster socio economic development of rural areas Thus I became interested in studying the patterns of rural development which actually have had an effect on the migration decisions of rural families

Risk and Resilience John G. Borkowski,Jaelyn R. Farris,Thomas L. Whitman,Shannon S. Carothers,Keri Weed,2007-03-20 In 1984 a longitudinal study was launched at the University of Notre Dame to evaluate the social and psychological consequences of teenage parenting Interwoven Lives Adolescent Mothers and Their Children 2001 described in detail the development of these adolescent mothers and their children across the first eight years of life Major delays were first noticed in children's patterns of attachment at age 1 and their IQ and personal adjustment scores at age 3. By age 8, school-related problems were found in 70% of the children. With these data as the backdrop, this companion volume Risk and Resilience identifies major risk factors associated with long-term developmental delays as well as the processes that led to resilience in some of the mothers and children. This new volume traces the children's development at ages 8, 10, and 14. The editors focus on identifying risk and protective factors associated with important life-course trajectories as the mothers entered early adulthood and their children became adolescents. Relatively unexplored protective factors such as religiosity, patterns of father involvement, and romantic relationships were found to positively influence development for both teenage mothers and their children. This new text also addresses new methodological approaches with an emphasis on the use of hierarchical linear and structural equation modeling and dynamical systems analyses. Implications for prevention and intervention programs, intellectual, educational, and socioemotional outcome data, the dark side of rearing children in poverty, the multiple risks related to adolescent parenting, and their profound impact on children's development. How resilience emerges in children's lives and the specific factors that promote it. Risk and Resilience appeals to researchers in developmental psychology and family processes as well as agency and government professionals charged with public policy and service delivery.
