Internet provides a new world, way of thinking, and way to communicate. Thus, there is Netiquette, an ethical guideline of how to behave or to communicate among the the netizens. Mean-while, the teachers's awareness to properly communicate in one of vocational school in Purwokerto shows a low level. The bad way in real life communication affects their way in communicating using social media which then sometimes results in legal matter. Though there has not been any case re-corded by the court, it is still worrying since teachers should be a role model for their students. There should be some efforts to make them aware of legal obedience and communicating ethics in cyberspace for those teachers.*

Introduction

In the last two decades, internet network infrastructure development (both by government and private) followed by the emergence of communication technology products (in the form of mobile phones and android) and supporting software which can directly connect to internet causes significant information or communication traffic development.<sup>1</sup> Katz and Rice said that the availability of network infrastructure is one of the prerequisites in internet communication. Other issues related to access issues are society involvement, and social interaction and expression.<sup>2</sup> The problem of internet access is already solved with the rise of internet providers including built in and android products. However, the real issue lies in other prerequisites which are society involvement, and social interaction and expression.
