Accountability Research Hugo Letiche, Ivo De Loo, Carolyn Cordery, Jean-Luc Moriceau, 2024-07-12 This book discusses auto ethnographies of accountability undertaken in close collaboration by a multinational group of accounting and organization theory researchers over a period of three years The key assumption underlying the book is that accountability is inherently an identity creating process where the study of account making has to be done participatively with radical openness to the one s being researched as well as to their context That openness we call ethnography The values or assumptions inherent to the

practices of account and identity making in a specific context are what auto ethnographies seek to describe and identify These values and assumptions warrant critical ethical reflection and this is what the researchers presented here have tried to provide The chapters in this book all are mini studies of relatedness The scale of examination is intimate the reflections provided by the researchers are mainly methodological This book is of interest to accounting and organization theory students and scholars who believe that accountability can fruitfully be studied through auto ethnography The book extends currently existing views on how accountability can be handled and discharged between researchers and their researched when local intimate settings are studied

Civil Society in China Runya Qiaoan, 2021-09-30 Chinese civil society groups have achieved iconic policy advocacy successes in the areas of environmental protection women s rights poverty alleviation and public health This book examines why some groups are successful in policy advocacy within the authoritarian context while others fail A mechanism of cultural resonance is introduced as an innovative theoretical framework to systematically compare interactions between Chinese civil society and the government in different movements It is argued that civil society advocacy results depend largely on whether advocates can achieve cultural resonance with policymakers and the mainstream public through their social performances The effective performance is the one in which advocates employ symbols embraced by the audience policymakers and the public in their actions and framings While many studies have tried to explain the phenomena of successful policy advocacy in China through institutional or organizational factors this book not only contains extensive empirical data based on field research but takes a cultural sociological turn to identify the meaning making process behind advocacy actions Civil Society in China will appeal to students and scholars of sociology political science social work and Chinese and Asian studies more broadly The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license
