extensive archival research Sp ter s biography expertly traces the key influences on Kracauer s intellectual development and presents his most important works and ideas with great clarity At the same time Sp ter ably documents the intensity of Kracauer s personal relationships the trauma of his flight and exile and his embrace of his new homeland where finally the groundlessness of refugee existence gave way to a more stable life and with it some of the intellectually most fruitful years of Kracauer s career The result is a vivid portrait of a man driven both by an urge to capture reality to attend to the things that are overlooked or misjudged that still lack a name as he put it and by a need to find his place in a hostile threatening world

Health and illness are intensely personal matters. It seems self-evident that health is a basic necessity of the good life though it is often taken for granted. Illness on the other hand challenges our sense of security and may introduce acute anxiety into our lives. Health and Illness in a Changing Society provides a lively and critical account of the impact of social change on the experience of health and illness. It also examines the different sociological perspectives that have been used to analyse health matters. While some of the ideas developed in the last twenty years remain relevant to social research in health today many are in need of urgent revision.

Environmental Education and Training Patricia D. Park, Deborah A. Blackman, Gin Chong, 2018-08-13 Published in 1998 the impact of current organizational behaviour upon the environment and concern over the long term effects has become almost a household topic. There are a growing number of reference books which discuss the various aspects and importance of this matter but they often do so in isolation from the environment education and training. In addition to this little has been discussed about the inter relationships between the various aspects of organizational behaviour and its impact on the environment. This book intends to bridge the gap. It discusses the importance of environmental education and training in three different disciplines: the legal aspects, financial implications and managerial choices and decision making.

Bridge-makers and Cross-bearers Jung Ha Kim, 1997 This volume considers what it is to be a woman in the context of the Korean American church. Drawing on participant observation interviews and a review of historical documents Jun Ha Kim focuses on four major issues: the role of religious institutions within ethnic communities; the role of Christian churches as patriarchal institutions; issues of status inconsistency and role conflict in marginalized communities; and the relative importance of gender and race/ethnicity in shaping the identities of women of color.

Media and the Experience of Social Change Tim Markham, 2017-07-28 For centuries scholars have fretted about the gulf that exists between the enormity of historical change and the banality of people's everyday lives. This is said to be exacerbated in our media saturated age immersed as we have become in an endless stream of sensations and distractions. In response media theorists and practitioners alike try to come up with new ways of breaking through people's complacency and waking them up to the reality of what's going on out there. Drawing on both philosophy and an investigation of what people actually do with media this book takes aim at that conventional wisdom and opens up new ways of thinking about media and the way we experience change. For politics, journalism, activism and humanitarianism the upshot is that we shouldn't be trying to provoke moments of revelation amongst publics and audiences but to understand what is really at stake in the way the present endlessly unfolds in everyday life.
