examining the newly important places where the good life flourished like Los Angeles where Hollywood lived Palm Springs where Hollywood vacationed San Diego where the Navy went the California Institute of Technology in Pasadena where Einstein went and changed his view of the universe and college towns like Berkeley We read about the rich urban life of San Francisco and Los Angeles and in newly important communities like Carmel and San Simeon the home of William Randolph Hearst where each Thursday afternoon automobiles packed with Hollywood celebrities would arrive from Southern California for the long weekend at Hearst Castle The 1930s were the heyday of the Hollywood studios and Starr brilliantly captures Hollywood films and the society that surrounded the studios Starr offers an astute discussion of the European refugees who arrived in Hollywood during the period prominent European film actors and artists and the creative refugees who were drawn to Hollywood and Southern California in these years Igor Stravinsky Arnold Schoenberg Man Ray Bertolt Brecht Christopher Isherwood Aldous Huxley Thomas Mann and Franz Werfel Starr gives a fascinating account of how many of them attempted to recreate their European world in California and how others like Samuel Goldwyn provided stories and dreams for their adopted nation Starr reserves his greatest attention and most memorable writing for San Francisco For Starr despite the city's beauty and commercial importance San Francisco's most important achievement was the sense of well being it conferred on its citizens It was a city that magically belonged to everyone Whether discussing photographers like Edward Weston and Ansel Adams hard boiled fiction writers or the new breed of female star Marlene Dietrich Jean Harlow Bette Davis Carole Lombard and the improbable Mae West The Dream Endures is a brilliant social and cultural history in many ways the most far reaching and important of Starr's California books

Hollywood's Ancient Worlds Jeffrey Richards, 2008-07-01 Jeffrey Richards examines the cultural social economic and technological circumstances that dictated the rise and decline of each successive cycle of Ancient World epics from the silent film era to the golden age of the 1950s right up to the present day Gladiator 300 Rome Analysis reveals that historical films are always as much about the time in which they are made as they are about the time in which they are set The ancient world is often used to deliver messages to the contemporary audience about the present hostility to totalitarian regimes both Fascist and Communist concern at the decline of Christianity support for the new state of Israel celebrations of equality and democracy and concern about changing gender roles The whole adds up to a fresh look at a body of films that people think they know but about which they will learn a good deal more
