Soldiers And Societies In Post Communist Europe Legitimacy And Change:

Soldiers and Societies in Postcommunist Europe A. Forster, T. Edmunds, 2003-09-08 This major comparative study examines the development of military society relations in central and eastern Europe since the collapse of communism. Soldiers and Societies in Post Communist Europe explores how the interaction of the common challenges of postcommunism and the diverse circumstances of individual countries are shaping patterns of military society relations in this changing region. Detailed country case studies written by international experts to a common analytical framework compare the experiences of Poland, the Czech Republic, Slovakia, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania, Romania, Bulgaria, Slovenia, Croatia, Yugoslavia, and Ukraine. Civil-Military Relations in Post-Communist Europe Timothy Edmunds, Andrew Cottey, Anthony Forster, 2013-10-18 Fifteen years after the fall of communism we are able to appraise the results of the multi-faceted postcommunist transition in Central and Eastern Europe with authority. This volume specifically addresses the fascinating area of Civil Military relations throughout this transitional period. The countries of the region inherited a onerous legacy in this area: their armed forces were part of the communist party state system and most were oriented towards Cold War missions; they were large in size and supported by high levels of defence spending and they were based on universal male conscription. Central and eastern European states have thus faced a three-fold civil military reform challenge: establishing democratic and civilian control over their armed forces; implementing organisational reform to meet the security and foreign policy demands of the new era; and redefining military bases for legitimacy in society. This volume assesses the experiences of Poland, Hungary, Latvia, Romania, Croatia, Serbia, Montenegro, Ukraine, and Russia in these areas. Collectively, these countries illustrate the way in which the interaction of broadly similar postcommunist challenges and distinct national contexts have combined to produce a wide variety of different patterns of civil military relations. This book was previously published as a special issue of European Security. The Challenge of Military Reform in Postcommunist Europe A. Forster, T. Edmunds, 2002-10-23 This major comparative study examines the challenges faced by countries of postcommunist Europe in reforming and professionalizing their armed forces. It explores how the interaction of the common challenges of postcommunism and the diverse circumstances of individual countries are shaping professionalization processes in this changing region. The detailed country case studies in this volume, written by leading experts to a common analytical framework, compare the experiences of Poland, the Czech Republic, Slovakia, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania, Romania, Bulgaria, Slovenia, Croatia, FRY, Russia, and Ukraine. Soldiers and Societies in Post-communist Europe: Legitimacy and Change A. FORSTER, 2001 Electoral Systems and Political Transformation in Post-Communist Europe S. Birch, 2003-11-25 Electoral Systems and Political Transformation in Post Communist Europe assesses the influence of electoral systems on political change in 20 post-communist European states. The main finding is that electoral institutions have systematic effects on the formation of representative structures. Party-enabling aspects of electoral laws such as list proportional representation tend to foster popular inclusion in politics and institutionalized party systems whereas politician enabling rules such as single member districts and ballots that allow voters to select individuals often favour the development of weakly structured systems and high levels of popular exclusion from the representative process

Europeanization and Regionalization in the EU's Enlargement to Central and Eastern Europe J. Hughes,G. Sasse,2004-10-12 This book is a study of EU conditionality and compliance during the enlargement to the Central and Eastern European candidate countries EU conditionality for membership is widely understood as having been a driving force for Europeanization providing incentives and sanctions for compliance or non compliance with EU norms such as the Copenhagen Criteria and the adoption of the acquis communautaire By taking regional policy and regionalization as a case study this book provides a comparative analysis of the effects of conditionality on the Central and East European countries and explores the many paradoxes and weaknesses in the use of EU conditionality over time The Construction of Liberal Democracy Jack J. Porter,2010 Rogue and failed states present numerous security challenges to the United States and the rest of the international community Not only do these states offer refuge and at times assistance to violent nonstate actors such as terrorist organizations and pirate syndicates their continued inability to respond to citizens needs and unwillingness to respect human dignity establish the foundations for ongoing regional and global instability With this challenge in mind current U S and international foreign and security policy is directed at assisting these fragile communities in their efforts at democratic state and nation building The primary focus of this analysis is a detailed examination of two earlier and successful efforts at democratization the Federal Republic of Germany and South Africa paying particular attention to the role of civil military institutions After outlining the substantial theoretical and practical obstacles confronting these states the monograph highlights the potential roles that the new armed forces can play in the democratic transition and consolidation phases The analysis concludes with a number of policy recommendations and suggestions for those involved in these formidable and critical efforts Armed Forces and Society in Europe A. Forster,2005-10-31 In the post Cold War era European militaries are engaged in an ongoing adaptation which is challenging relations between armed forces and the societies that they serve This book offers an innovative conceptual framework to critically evaluate contemporary civil military relations across the continent of Europe It analyzes eight key issues in armed forces and society relations to explore the scale and intensity of these changes The Area of Freedom, Security and Justice in the Enlarged Europe K. Henderson,2004-11-30 The European Union is constantly changing both in the number of countries it embraces and in policy areas where it plays a major role The new millennium has witnessed two major changes in the EU s scope On 1 May 2004 it enlarged to include ten new member states and the new European Constitution defines providing citizens with an area of freedom security and justice as one of its primary aims This book is unique in analyzing the interplay of the two spheres The "Democratic Soldier" Sabine Mannitz,2013-10-22 Since the end of the Cold War almost all European countries have reformed their armed forces focusing on downsizing internationalization and professionalization This paper examines how these changes in security sector governance have affected the normative model underlying the military's relationship to democracy using the image of the democratic soldier Drawing on a comparative analysis of 12 post socialist traditional and consolidated democracies in Europe the different dimensions of the national conception of soldiering are analysed based on the official norms that define a country's military and the ways in which individual members of the armed forces see their role Cases converge around the new idea of professional soldiering as a merging of civilian skills with military virtues in the context of the military's new post Cold War missions Yet despite this convergence research also shows that specific aspects of national traditions and context continue to influence the actual practice of soldiering in each case The contradictions that result between these old and new visions of the role of the military and the soldier illustrate the tensions that exist between political goals and defence reform dynamics

A Democratic Audit of the European Union C. Lord,2003-11-30 A Democratic Audit of the European Union provides a systematic assessment of democracy in the EU against clearly defined criteria Christopher Lord offers a double challenge to generalizations about a democratic deficit in the EU On the one hand it shows that standards of democratic performance in the EU may vary across Union institutions and decision making processes On the other hand it shows that they can vary across key dimensions of democratic governance including citizenship rights participation representation responsiveness transparency and accountability

European Security Since the Fall of the Berlin Wall Frederic Merand,2011-01-01

There have been dramatic changes to the landscape of European security in the twenty years since the fall of the Berlin Wall The essays in European Security Since the Fall of the Berlin Wall collectively take stock of how approaches to security in Europe have changed both in practice and in theory since the end of the Cold War Organized into three sections this collection begins with an exploration of the broad changes in Europe's security environment relating to issues such as terrorism and the rising importance of energy security The second section describes the adaptations of Europe's institutional framework including the transformation of NATO and the evolution of European armed forces while the closing essays examine regional security issues with the Middle East the Balkans and Russia Covering a broad spectrum of theoretical approaches and written in a clear engaging style European Security Since the Fall of the Berlin Wall will illuminate European security debates for years to come

Mayes,2005-11-01 This book provides an original and wide ranging analysis of the impact of Economic and Monetary Union EMU on economic governance in the EU and in several key Member States within and outside the Euro area Its emphasis is on adaptation how EMU encourages change in

The Routledge Handbook of Civil-military Relations Thomas C. Bruneau,Florina Cristiana Matei,2013 The Routledge Handbook of Civil Military Relations not only fills this important lacuna but offers an up to date comparative analysis which identifies three essential components in civil military relations 1 democratic civilian control 2 operational effectiveness and 3 the efficiency of the security institutions This Handbook will be essential reading for students and practitioners in the fields of civil military relations

In Pursuit of Liberalism Rachel A. Epstein,2008-09-29 Though the fall of the Soviet Union opened the way for states in central and eastern Europe to join the world of market oriented Western democracies the expected transitions have not been as easy common or smooth as sometimes perceived Rachel A Epstein investigates how liberal ideas and practices are embedded in transitioning societies and finds that success or failure depends largely on creating a social context in which incentives held out by international institutions are viewed as symbols of an emerging Western identity in the affected country Epstein first explains how a liberal worldview and institutions like the European Union World Bank the International Monetary Fund and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization go hand in hand and why Western nations assume that a broad and incremental program of incentives to join will encourage formerly authoritarian states to reform their political and economic systems Using Hungary Poland Romania and the Ukraine as case studies she demonstrates the limits of conditionality in the face of national social perceptions and elucidates the three key points around which a consensus within the state must emerge before international institutions can expect liberalization domestic officials must be uncertain about how changing policies will affect their interests the status of international and domestic institutions must not be in jeopardy and the proposed policies must seem credible In making her case Epstein cleverly bridges the gap between the rationalist and constructivist schools of thought Offering new data on and fresh interpretations of reforming central bank policies privatizing banks with foreign capital democratizing civil military relations and denationalizing defense policy In Pursuit of Liberalism extends well beyond the scope of previous book length studies

Defence Reform in Croatia and Serbia--Montenegro Timothy Edmunds,2013-09-13 This book examines defence reform in Croatia and Serbia Montenegro since 2000 focussing particularly on the institution and consolidation of democratic and civilian control of the armed forces the reform of conflict era forces structures and the influence of the West including defence assistance and political conditionality

War, Identity and the Liberal State Victoria Basham,2013-07-24 This book critically examines the significance of gender race and sexuality to wars waged by liberal states Drawing on original field research with British soldiers it offers insights into how their everyday experiences are shaped by and shape a politics of gender race and sexuality that not only underpins power relations in the military but the geopolitics of wars waged by liberal states Linking the politics of daily life to the international is an intervention into international relations IR and security studies because instead of overlooking the politics of the everyday this book insists that it is vital to explore how geopolitical events and practices are co constituted reinforced and contested by it By utilising insights from Michel Foucault the book explores how shared and collectively mediated knowledge on gender race and sexuality facilitates certain claims about the nature of governing in liberal states and about why and how such states wage war against illiberal ones in pursuit of global peace and security The book also develops post structural work in international relations by urging scholars interested in the linguistic construction of geopolitics to consider the ways in which bodies objects and architectures also reinforce particular ideas about war identity and statehood The Ukrainian Crisis Tracey German, Emmanuel Karagiannis, 2018-12-07 The conflict in eastern Ukraine continues with little sign of a negotiated resolution Crimea has been absorbed into the Russian Federation and celebrates the third anniversary of its integration in March 2017 The ongoing nature of the conflict contrasts with a lack of academic exploration of the issues surrounding it To date most analyses have focused on the geopolitical implications of the Ukrainian crisis such as the impact on NATO Russia relations and foreign policy responses to the crisis from a variety of state and supranational actors including the EU and Russia The role of sub state and non state actors and implications for them has been largely overlooked This volume seeks to rectify this by examining a wide array of non state and sub state actors that have both played a role in the conflict in Ukraine and been indirectly impacted by it British Foreign Policy and the National Interest T. Edmunds, J. Gaskarth, R. Porter, 2014-11-18 Whose interests does British foreign policy serve Is the national interest a useful explanatory tool for foreign policy analysts This interdisciplinary collection responds to these questions exploring ideas of Britain s national interest and their impact on strategy challenging current thinking and practice in the making of foreign policy
