Autobiographical Identities in Contemporary Arab Culture Valerie Anishchenkova, 2014-07-16 Over the last 40 years autobiography in Arab societies has moved away from exemplary life narratives and toward more unorthodox techniques such as erotic memoir writing postmodernist self fragmentation cinematographic self projection and blogging Valerie Anishchenkova argues that the Arabic autobiographical genre has evolved into a mobile unrestricted category arming authors with narrative tools to articulate their selfhood Reading works from Arab nations such as Egypt Iraq Morocco Syria and Lebanon Anishchenkova connects the century's rapid political and ideological developments to increasing autobiographical experimentation in Arabic works The immense scope of her study also forces consideration of film and online forms of self representation and offers a novel theoretical framework to these various modes of autobiographical cultural production Iraq's Modern Arabic Literature Salih J. Altoma, 2010-10-14 Covering 60 years of materials this bibliography cites translations studies and other writings which represent Iraq's national literature including recent works of numerous Iraqi writers living in Western exile The volume serves as a guide to three interrelated data o Translations that have appeared since 1950 as books or as individual items poems short stories novel extracts plays diaries in print and non print publications in Iraq and other Arab and English speaking countries including Australia Canada the United Kingdom and the United States o Relevant studies and other secondary sources including selected reviews and author interviews which cover Iraqi literature and writers o The scope of displacement or dispersion of Iraqi writers artists and other intellectuals who have been uprooted and are now living in exile in Arab or other Western countries By drawing attention to a largely overlooked but relevant and extensive literature accessible in English this first of its kind book will serve as an invaluable guide to students of contemporary Iraq modern Arabic literature and other fields such as women's studies postcolonial studies third world literature American Arab Muslim Relations and Diaspora studies All the Women Inside Me Jana Elhassan, 2022-12-07 Shortlisted for the International Prize of Arabic Fiction Surviving a cold childhood overshadowed by her parents unhappiness and their distant relationship to her Sahar expects to escape through marriage when she meets the compelling and charming Sami who is interested in every detail of her life But what seemed at first to be his loving interest rapidly becomes controlling and ultimately abusive Sahar yearns for a way out of her intertwined experiences of loss and loneliness In All the Women Inside Me Jana Elhassan presents an intricate psychological portrait of a woman as well as the complexities of interpersonal relationships The novel's innovative structure allows it to plumb psychological and philosophical depths beyond the specific characters revealing a profound humanity Sahar's father is the lapsed leftist who masks his boredom by busying himself with great causes Her depressed mother's nerves are as delicate as the crystal she keeps immaculately polished in her home A charlatan sheikh trades in religious magic making a profit off of people's misery A boyfriend leaves his great love to marry a more appropriate good girl Sahar navigates her way through so many relationships ill prepared by her parents and unhappy childhood home Her imagination is what allows her to act out all of the desires she has been denied throughout her whole life from her childhood to her abusive marriage But she also finds solace in her best friend Hala who has faced her own difficult childhood and adolescence and later a series of destructive relationships At the same time that this novel is able to capture the intensity of emotions and experiences in women's lives it is not merely a story about the power of imagination to enrich the lives of oppressed women Elhassan's novel is a stark appraisal of how far women are pushed and the length to which women will go to escape a reality that is rotten at the core War and Occupation in Iraqi Fiction Ikram Masmoudi, 2015-06-19 The last three decades in Iraqi history can be summarized in these words dictatorship war and occupation After the fall of Saddam's regime Iraqi novelists are not only writing about the occupation and the current disintegration of Iraq but are also revisiting previous wars that devastated their lives This book examines how recent Iraqi fiction about war depicts the Iraqi subject in its relation to war coercion subjugation and occupation The theoretical medieval concept of the homo sacer the killable as defined by Giorgio Agamben is used to explore the lives and the experiences of different war actors such as the soldier the war deserter the camp detainee and the suicide bomber depicted in their e bare lifee as men doomed to death in the necropolitical context War and Occupation in Iraqi Fiction is an exploration of fictional works by a new generation of leading Iraqi authors such as Ali Badr Shakir Nuri Najm Wali Hdiya Hussein and others It brings to light the overarching continuum in the production of homines sacri in Iraq Instances of homo sacer under the dictatorship are complemented by new instances found in the camp and under the state of exception of the occupation and the war on terror The Iraqi Spring Ahmed Al-Rawi,2025-10-01 Since 2003 and following the U S led invasion Iraq witnessed tremendous changes to its political social and economic structures and this book critically maps recent popular protests that engulfed the country and led to the death of thousands of civilian protesters It delves into the nuances of the Iraqi socio political context and offers a brief historical overview of political activism by investigating the internal structure of activism in the country as well as the regional and international dimensions The study involves critical ethnographic research including interviews with Iraqi activists social media analysis Arabic and English news analysis as well as in depth assessment and contextualization of the Iraqi protests The author argues that there is a need to call the protests an Iraqi Spring because of the country s unique historical demographic and political circumstances Iraqi Women Nadjie Sadig Al-Ali,2007-02-12 Publisher description

Pluralism in the Iraqi Novel after 2003 Ronen Zeidel,2020-01-13 Pluralism in the Iraqi Novel is about the use of literature and the novel to express the new content of an Iraqi national identity constructed after the American invasion of 2003 Instead of the homogenizing national identity in Iraqi literature created before 2003 postoccupation literature presents Iraqi society as a kaleidoscope of multiple religious identities converging in an accommodating Iraqi national identity The author argues that this could not have happened without the upheaval of 2003 and its consequent results democracy and political restructuring that incorporated Shia for the first time into the ruling political coalition in recognition of their numerical majority Literature was consequential to processing the complicated subject of Shia Sunni relations and the sectarian identity of each and even more in the wake of the geopolitical events of 2003 literature was instrument in bringing representation of the Kurds the small minorities and even the last Jews of Iraq to the fore As such literature demonstrated its revolutionary power and formed the basis for a New Iraq Two Novels Mary Boykin Chesnut,2002 These short unfinished novels address a wide range of subjects related to women and serve as an extension of the valuable source material found in the diaries revealing much about southern history and culture gender roles slave mistress relations childhood education the experiences of westward migration and the impact of the Civil War on private lives and relationships Broken: A YA Paranormal Romance Novel (Volume 1 of the Reflections Books) Dean Murray,2011-12-26 Sometimes love finds you
