Friend for Life Kate Humble,2021-07-01 There is one animal that is familiar to all of us, whoever we are, wherever we live. Even if we've never had direct contact with one, we will have seen one or at the very least heard one. For those of us who live in the western world, it is more than likely that one sleeps in our house, possibly even on our bed. I'm talking, of course, of the dog. Yet this animal, which lives alongside five hundred million of us all over the world, as an invaluable partner and a trusted confidant, presents us with one great unsolved mystery: how did this relationship, the most complex and enduring of any between human and animal, start in the first place? Kate Humble is a life-long animal lover. Now living on an idyllic farm in Wales, she has achieved her dream of surrounding herself with as many varieties as possible. But as with many Brits, the dog has always held a special place in her heart. Here, she uses her journey with her sheepdog puppy Teg to frame her examination of this very special relationship. Written with warmth and love and packed full of stories about rescue dogs, guide dogs, service dogs, and medical dogs, this is a must-read for anyone with a four-legged friend. Books in

Dudley Edmondson,2025-09-23 Encourage diversity in outdoor wilderness areas by reading interviews with 20 people of color who have active roles in nature. During his travels around the country as a wildlife photographer, Dudley Edmondson made a concerning observation: he was the only person of color in many of the wilderness locations he visited. He began asking himself some important questions: Why am I not seeing many people of color in the parks? Where are the voices of African Americans when it comes to decisions about wild spaces? Shouldn't everyone care about the involvement of all

Americans in these issues The matter was far too important to let go Instead Dudley turned it into a project seeking out people of color who thrive in the outdoors and asking them about their experiences passions and hopes for the future He met with policymakers park rangers outdoor sports enthusiasts and others with nature centered careers The compilation of his interviews became the groundbreaking book Black Brown Faces in America's Wild Places In these interviews Dudley gets at the heart of what drew each individual to the outdoors how they first became involved with nature why they value those experiences and why they believe people of color are underrepresented in this country's natural landscape He explores the connection between this topic and issues like social justice racial prejudice personal safety economics and cultural traditions I am honored to let the insightful individuals that I interviewed during the course of writing this book explain how all of these subjects come together in this complex social problem says Dudley This 20th Anniversary Edition of Black Brown Faces in America's Wild Places features 20 personal stories from across the USA told by African Americans with strong connections to the natural world There is a bit of American history and personal history in every account Each takes you on a fascinating journey through the life of a stranger The portraits are insightful revealing and entertaining They provide a foundation for discussion about the future of our wild places and hopefully encourage people of color to take up the torch of conservation and carry it forward on behalf of all future generations of Americans I Shall Not Want Debbie Viguie,2010-07-01 Charity work can be murder It's Thanksgiving and Joseph Tyler one of the members of Cindy's church has organized a new charity that provides homeless people with rescue dogs to love and care for But one by one the homeless recipients are being murdered and their dogs stolen Could an overly competitive millionaire with his prize winning pooches and a grudge be behind the crimes Or could it be someone much closer to Joseph who has something sinister to hide Cindy and Jeremiah must rush to find a killer before he strikes again The Little Book of Lore for Dog Lovers Mary Frances Budzik,2021-06-15 Full of incredible canine capers tales of doggy derring do and plenty of puppy facts this doglopedia is essential reading for dog lovers everywhere You'll learn tantalizing trivia and tidbits about all sorts of dogs breeds characters and more Find out the answers to these questions Who are the most famous dog trainers in Hollywood having trained Lassie Toto and Old Yeller among many others What is the name of Yale's bulldog mascot Where does the proverb The best thing about a man is his dog come from When did Laika or Muttnik as she was known in the U.S become the first dog to be shot into orbit Why did Drew Barrymore deed her house to her Labrador Flossie How do dogs detect cancer in humans Reading Roundup Paul Andrew Witty,1954 The Indoor Epidemic Erik Shonstrom,2017-11-08 The Indoor Epidemic is an accessible readable book that educators parents policymakers and general readers can use to develop an in depth understanding of the role the outdoors has played in our evolutionary and cultural history and how it affects their own daily life Readers will be astounded by the depth to which a sedentary indoor lifestyle has negatively affected their ability to live a fulfilling life But it's also a story the story of our connection with the world its inhabitants and our own relationship with nature It's the story of what we know is
