Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 2000-06 The Soccer Mom's Manual Laurel Phillips, Barbara Stahl, 2000-10 So you thought that youth soccer would only impact your child's life. Yes, we thought that too. Help is here. This manual spells out what you need to know about your child's sports experience including the time, money, and equipment it takes, which rules may trigger controversy, the care and feeding of young athletes, the behaviour that's expected, yours, and what's ahead as your child gets older. Written by mums, this handy how-to is a heads up that can make your child's soccer experience a better one for your athlete, your family, and you.

The Youth Sports Crisis Steven J. Overman, 2014-10-14 This provocative critique of the youth sports movement examines the various issues surrounding children in sports and provides a plan for reform based on a change in philosophy and practice. Many American children spend more than 20 hours a week in organized sports, forgoing free time and unstructured recreational activities for the rigors of training and competition. This book offers a comprehensive critique of the youth sports movement, pitting the reality of adult-run sports programs against the needs and interests of children. It examines whether the tradeoff of normal play time for structured sports activities teaches discipline and leads to stronger character development, or if the pressures of the game, the physical strain of practicing, and the general overscheduling of children's lives have eroded the benefits associated with playing sports. Educator and former coach Steven J. Overman contends that youth-based sports programs require a radical change for the well-being of the young participants. The book explores the various problems in organized sports, including stress on the family, physical health hazards, violence, emotional duress, elitism, and hyper-competitiveness. Incorporating the perspectives of coaches, athletes, parents, physicians, and social scientists, the narrative scrutinizes the role of adults as promoters and coaches and concludes with a discussion of current and needed reforms.
