distribution of power under different systems of labour exploitation slavery feudalism and especially capitalism Professor Martin sees power as most concentrated in slavery most dispersed in capitalism and shows the extent and importance of this dispersal by a detailed discussion of power relations within industrial and political organizations including trade unions and a critique of contemporary elitist theories By reorienting political sociology around the concept of power and by analyzing the conventionally distinct fields of industrial and political sociology within a common theoretical framework Roderick Martin offers a persuasive redefinition of the sociology of politics This is a must read for scholars and researchers of sociology
