Menahem Stern,2024-04-08 Demonizing the Other Robert S. Wistrich,2013-03-07 At the close of the twentieth century the stereotyping and demonization of others whether on religious nationalist racist or political grounds has become a burning issue Yet comparatively little attention has been paid to how and why we fabricate images of the other as an enemy or demon to be destroyed This innovative book fills that gap through an interdisciplinary cross cultural approach that brings together a distinguished array of historians anthropologists psychologists literary critics and feminists The historical sweep covers Greco Roman Antiquity the Middle Ages and the Modern Era Antisemitism receives special attention because of its longevity and centrality to the Holocaust but it is analyzed here within the much broader framework of racism and xenophobia The plurality of viewpoints expressed in this volume provide fascinating insights into what is common and what is unique to the many varieties of prejudice stereotyping demonization and hatred An Environmental Ethic for the End of the World

Scott C. Powell,2019-06-13 Is there a place for religious texts in today's global environmental conversation Some have claimed over the centuries that the Bible has given humans license to devastate the world of nature Can those same texts be a source of ecological healing This book investigates Romans 8 19 22 Paul's enigmatic passage about creation groaning out in travail which comes at the conclusion of his long Christological discourse His inclusion of nature in the Christ event is both unprecedented and has baffled scholars for centuries Could Genesis provide the explanation Four relationships shape the creation stories Prior to the fall of Adam and Eve human beings are said to live in harmony with God with themselves with one another and with the world of nature As humans disobey God each of these relationships unravels climaxing with the cursing of nature itself Is this paradigm in the background of Paul's Christology Read this way Paul's midrash on the story of creation in light of the Christ event provides deep insight into the biblical role of humans and their instrumentality in bringing both harm and healing to the world of nature Roots of Pagan Anti-Semitism in the Ancient World
