Textiles for Homes and People Margil Vanderhoff, Lavina Franck, Lucille Campbell, 1973-06-01 Textiles for Homes and People Margil Vanderhoff, Lavina Franck, Lucille Campbell, 1985 Faded and Threadbare Historic Textiles and their Role in Houses Open to the Public Margaret Ponsonby, 2016-04-15 Many historic houses that open to the public in England and Wales particularly those owned by the National Trust preserve their contents rather than restore them to a particular period The former owners of these houses often retained objects from various periods and this layering of history produces interiors that look aged and patinated Although the reason for this preservation and lack of fashionable renewable can be attributed to declining economic fortunes in the twentieth century there are many examples of families practising this method of homemaking over a much longer period Taking National Trust properties as its central focus this book examines three interlocking themes to examine the role of historic textiles Firstly it looks at houses with preserved contents together with the reasons for individual families choosing this lifestyle secondly the role of the National Trust as both guardian and interpreter of these houses and their collections and finally and most importantly the influence of textiles to contribute to the appearance of interiors and their physical attributes that carry historical resonances of the past The importance of preserved textiles in establishing the visual character of historic houses is a neglected area and therefore the prominence given to textiles in this project constitutes an original contribution to the study of these houses Drawing upon a range of primary sources including literature produced by the National Trust for their sites and documentary sources for the families and their houses such as diaries letters and household accounts the study takes a broad approach that will be of interest to all those with an interest in material culture heritage collecting studies and cultural history Publications on Human Nutrition and Home Economics Research in the United States Department of Agriculture, 1924-1954 United States. dismissive and silently keep his own counsel But in these newspaper articles contained herein there is no taking the fifth amendment as he opens up to us and explains his sometimes complex views I think he ultimately felt especially given his many years in church ministry that he d earned to right to speak as pastor to anyone who comes to him He turns no one away In this book Father Haven engages our minds and allegiances as he attempts to provide some answers if not at least one meaning to his lifetime hero Christ Jesus his Lord Human-Centered Service Design for Healthcare Transformation Mario A. Pfannstiel,2023-01-27 This book explores the use of human centered service design Through a variety of case studies and best practices it highlights ways to systematically improve the provision of healthcare services to different target and age groups in order to understand customer expectations and needs The book also offers new insights into the dyadic relationship between service provider and customer each of which has their own set of goals purposes and benefits and must cope with a scarcity of resources and opportunities to optimize and design Written by recognized experts scholars and practitioners this book demonstrates how where and when to successfully apply human centered service design at multiple levels including corporate departmental and product service Value added services are not only assessed in terms of their effectiveness efficiency and productivity but also bearing in mind human emotions interactions and communication techniques as an important part of service provision Accordingly the book will appeal to scholars and practitioners in the hospital and healthcare sector and to anyone interested in organizational development service business model innovation customer involvement and perceptions and the service experience The Textile Worker ,1913
