Texts Facts And Femininity Exploring The Relations Of Ruling:

Texts, Facts and Femininity Dorothy E. Smith, 2002-11 Texts Facts and Femininity is a collection of essays which illustrate the full range of work by this leading feminist scholar on social relations as texts It includes Smith's famous essay K is mentally ill

Institutional Ethnography Dorothy E. Smith, 2005-05-26 Outlines a method of inquiry that uses everyday experience as a lens to examine social relations and social organization This book is suitable for classes in sociology ethnography and women's studies

Mothering for Schooling Alison Griffith, Dorothy Smith, 2005-07-08 Griffith and Smith explore the innumerable hidden seemingly mundane tasks like getting kids ready for school helping with homework or serving on the PTA can all have profound effects on what occurs within school Based on longitudinal interviews with mothers of school age children this book exposes the effects mothers work has on educational systems as a whole and the ways in which inequalities of educational opportunities are reproduced

Social Work as Narrative Christopher Hall, 2019-05-23 First published in 1997 this volume presents a critical analysis of how social work is formulated in everyday practice Christopher Hall sets the task of exploring how social workers make their work visible and justifiable through their talk and writing The analysis examines conversations and documents in which social workers describe and justify their work in research interviews reports and case notes Social workers construct convincing occupational stories to convince judges supervisors and other critical readers and listeners Drawing on narrative analysis Hall explores how such language practices create characters plots and address audiences At the time of publication the use of reflexive writing was seen as controversial however this study was a forerunner to what has become a flourishing scholarship in narrative and reflexivity in social work writing and practice

Languages of Labor and Gender Kathleen Canning, 2002 Kathleen Canning explores the changing meanings of women's work in Germany during the transformation from agrarian to industrial state from the mid nineteenth century through 1914 Canning places gender at the heart of the transitions from workshop to factory community to society and estate to class in the textile producing regions of the Rhineland and Westphalia

Collaborative Information Behavior: User Engagement and Communication Sharing Foster, Jonathan, 2010-06-30 This book coordinates and integrates current research and practices in the area of collaborative information behavior providing information on empirical research findings theoretical frameworks and models relevant to understanding collaborative information behavior Provided by publisher

Moral Regulation and Governance in Canada Amanda Glasbeek, 2006 Moral Regulation and Governance in Canada offers an outstanding selection of readings that represents an overview of the key issues in deviance moral regulation and governance in Canada from a distinctly Canadian perspective It effectively tracks the sociology of deviance from governmentality studies to theories of social control Of particular note is the focus this book gives to gender issues It also argues that sometimes what is considered deviant is less related to criminality and more concerned with the perception of normalcy

time the anthologized works of Sarah Fenstermaker and Candace West have been collected along with new essays to provide a complete understanding of this topic of tremendous importance to scholars in social science Mapping Feminist International Relations in South Asia Shweta Singh, Amina Mohsin, 2024-12-30 This book provides a comprehensive overview of feminist international relations in South Asia. It highlights the key contentions, debates, and tensions in the field and studies how the trajectory of feminist international relations in the region has been marked by dialogue, dissidence, and difference with the Global North. In doing so, the volume draws attention to different feminist histories, herstories, and differing ways of knowing, seeing, and doing global politics. It particularly foregrounds a feminist intersectional postcolonial lens to a diverse range of issues such as women, peace, and the security agenda, populism, and nationalism, militarism, and militarisation, and underlines the rich, textured contours of feminist epistemologies in South Asia. An important contribution, the book will be of great interest to scholars, teachers, and students of feminism, international relations, postcolonialism, women's studies, gender studies, security studies, and South Asian studies Feminist Disability Studies Kim Q. Hall, 2011-10-24 The essays in this volume are contributions to feminist disability studies. The essays constitute an interdisciplinary dialogue regarding the meaning of feminist disability studies and the implications of its insights regarding identity, the body, and experience Data Culture and the Organisation of Teachers' Work Nerida Spina, 2020-05-31 Data Culture and the Organisation of Teachers' Work provides an in-depth look at how the political and media scrutiny of teachers, pupils, and schools now organises teaching and learning. Spina also examines how educational data is used in schools and where it fails to take account of the everyday experiences of school leaders, teachers, and students. Drawing on primary research and discussing practice in relation to the National Assessment Programme Literacy and Numeracy (NAPLAN), this book discusses the strengths and weaknesses of a data-driven approach, the restrictions this can impose, and how to navigate them as a teacher. Ideal for scholars and postgraduate students of education, this book provides a comprehensive institutional ethnographic look into the daily lived experiences of teachers and the effects of standardised testing Mapping Social Relations Marie L. Campbell, Frances Gregor, 2004-09-07 This is a book about a distinctive methodological approach inspired by one of Canada's most respected scholars, Dorothy Smith. Institutional ethnography aims to answer questions about how everyday life is organized. What is conventionally understood as the relationship of micro to macro processes is, in institutional ethnography, conceptualized and explored in terms of ruling relations. The authors suggest that institutional ethnographers must adopt a particular research stance, one that recognizes that people's own knowledge and ways of knowing are crucial elements of social action and thus of social analysis. Specific attention to text analysis is integral to the approach, as is a sensitivity to gender relations. Institutional ethnography is remarkably well suited to the human service curriculum and the training of professionals and activists. Its strategy for learning how to understand problems existing in everyday life appeals to many researchers who are looking for guidance on how to take practical action. At the same time, the highly elaborated theoretical foundation of institutional ethnography is difficult to deal with in the brief time most students are in the classroom. The authors successfully tackle the issue of teaching and applying institutional ethnography. Campbell and Gregor have been testing out instructional methods and materials for many years. MAPPING SOCIAL RELATIONS is the product of that effort. Discourse, Power, and Resistance Down Under Mark Vicars, Tarquam McKenna, Julie White, 2012-10-26. This edited collection is an eclectic and provocative volume taken from presentations that reflect the scholarship of the inaugural AQR DPR Down Under conference that was held in Cairns in 2011 in Australia. This was a ground breaking conference that brought together scholars, researchers, and practitioners from across Australia, UK, Japan, Italy, Finland, New Zealand, Luxembourg, South Africa, Vietnam, Malaysia, Tanzania, and Mexico. The theme of the conference represented at the conference and in this volume was that of Politicizing Qualitative Research. Delegates presented papers that sought to challenge research practices that too often can delegitimize. Other ways of knowing, confronting, disrupting, and resisting the epistemological common sense way of doing research within the academy can be a risky business and is often a fraught and contested endeavor. However, as the papers in this volume illustrate, contestation promises opportunities for re-perceiving, re-interpreting, and productively disrupting the orthodoxies of disciplinarity. Many thanks to Ignacio Rojas whose patient assistance and expertise as an artist in designing the cover proved invaluable in bringing this book to print. Foucault and Family Relations Malcolm Joyce, 2019-05-14. Foucault and Family Relations: Governing from a Distance in Australia analyzes how notions of property ownership were instrumental in maintaining family stability and continuity in rural Australia, outlining how inheritance and divorce laws functioned to govern the internal relationships of families to assist the state to rule from a distance. Using a selection of Foucault's ideas on the family, sexuality, race, space, and economics, this book shows how property operated as a disciplinary device which was underpinned by technical ideas such as surveying and cartography. This book uses legal judgments as a form of ethnography to show how property as a socio-technical device allowed a degree of local freedom for owners. This aspect of property allowed the state to stimulate ideas of local freedom to assist in ruling from a distance, demonstrating how the rural family as a domestic unit became a key field of intervention for the state as the family represented a bridge to larger relationships of power. The International Handbook on the Sociology of Education Carlos Alberto Torres, Ari Antikainen, 2003. This handbook discusses the social context of education, outlining the challenges as well as the advances in public and private education systems at the start of the new millennium. It presents an integrated account of social theory and methodologies along with applied perspectives. The Oxford Handbook of Diversity in Organizations Regine Bendl, Inge Bleijenbergh, Elina Henttonen, Albert J. Mills, 2015. Description of the foundations of organizing and managing diversities and multidisciplinary, intersectional, and critical analyses on key issues. Mapping the Language of Racism Margaret Wetherell, Jonathan Potter, 1992. Divided into two parts, this book reviews and criticizes sociological and psychological theoretical approaches to the topic of racism and introduces the challenges to them posed by discourse analysis It examines how white New Zealanders make sense of their own history and actions towards the Maori minority

The Marx Machine Charles Barbour, 2012-01-01 This book employs recently developed techniques of literary criticism philosophical argumentation and bibliographical or manuscript analysis to bring Marx's early works and especially his early polemics into conversation with his most contemporary post Marxist critics It argues that some of Marx's best known concepts ideology and historical materialism for example in fact represent responses to the kinds of arguments that many people mount against them today

Reflections from the Wrong Side of the Tracks Stephen L. Muzzatti, C. Vincent Samarco, 2006 The essays in this collection challenge the predominant image of working class people in higher education by providing a series of analyses and personal commentaries from a wide range of working class academics Reflections From the Wrong Side of the Tracks imparts a critical and substantial narrative about what it means to be from the working class and work in academe

Critical Strategies for Social Research William K. Carroll, 2004 Edited by Canadian sociologist William K Carroll this thought provoking volume is designed for research methods courses in sociology and social sciences Critical Strategies for Social Research explores ways in which several key research strategies bring an emancipatory dimension to social analysis The new approaches recognize that social analysis is a form of knowledge production that takes place in a human constructed world marked by injustice and persistent inequality Carroll considers five influential and productive strategies of inquiry Dialectical Social Analysis Institutional Ethnography Participatory Action Research Critical Discourse Analysis Social Inquiry as Communicative Reason
