Hamilton, 2008-03-01 From the tumbling walls of Jericho to a Jewish girl who became the queen of Persia the historical books of the Bible are intriguing and unquestionably fascinating In this comprehensive introduction veteran Old Testament professor Victor Hamilton demonstrates the significance of the messages contained in these biblical books by carefully examining content structure and theology He details the events and implications of each book chapter by chapter providing useful commentary on overarching themes and the connections and parallels between Old Testament texts Now in paper      The Hebrew Bible Frederick E. Greenspahn, 2008 In April of 2001 the headline in the Los Angeles Times read Doubting the Story of the Exodus It covered a sermon that had been delivered by the rabbi of a prominent local congregation over the holiday of Passover In it he said The truth is that virtually every modern archeologist who has investigated the story of the exodus with very few exceptions agrees that the way the Bible describes the exodus is not the way it happened if it happened at all This seeming challenge to the biblical story captivated the local public Yet as the rabbi himself acknowledged his sermon contained nothing new The theories that he described had been common knowledge among biblical scholars for over thirty years though few people outside of the profession know their relevance New understandings concerning the Bible have not filtered down beyond specialists in university settings There is a need to communicate this research to a wider public of students and educated readers outside of the academy This volume seeks to meet this need with accessible and engaging chapters describing how archeology theology ancient studies literary studies feminist studies and other disciplines now understand the Bible Joshua Traditions and the Argument of Hebrews 3 and 4 Bryan J. Whitfield, 2013-06-26 This monograph examines the place of chapters 3 and 4 in the larger argument of Hebrews particularly the relationship of the people of God in Heb 3 7 4 13 to the surrounding discussion of the high priest The connection between the great high priest and the people of God proved a central question for twentieth century scholars including Ernst K semann The first chapter of this work examines previous attempts to explain the flow of the argument and revisits the proposal of J Rendel Harris who thought attention to the two Joshuas of the Hebrew Bible was the key to connecting Heb 3 7 4 13 to its frame The second chapter examines reading practices within Second Temple Judaism that shaped those of the author of Hebrews Two subsequent chapters explore the history of Second Temple interpretation of the texts central to Harris s proposal Numbers 13 14 and Zechariah 3 The Levi priestly tradition receives particular attention The following chapter provides a careful study of the early chapters of Hebrews that explores allusions and echoes to Numbers and to Zechariah The monograph concludes with a positive assessment of much of Harris s proposal The Jewish Quarterly Review Cyrus Adler, Solomon Schechter, Abraham Aaron Neuman, Solomon Zeitlin, 1988 The Journal of Jewish Studies, 1993 The Textual History of 2 Kings 17 Timo Tapani Tekoniemi, 2021-09-07 The textual history of the Books of Kings forms one of the most complex and debated issues in the modern text historical scholarship This book examines and reconstructs the textual history of 2 Kings 17 in light of the preserved textual evidence The analysis of textual differences between the LXX the Old Latin and the MT allows the reconstruction of the oldest text attainable The Old Latin version appears to have in many cases best preserved the Old Greek edition of the chapter now lost in the Greek witnesses due to Hebraizing revisions The Old Greek version of 2 Kings 17 evidences a Hebrew Vorlage often radically differing from the MT In most cases the MT exhibits signs of later editing The LXX can thus help the scholars reconstruct multiple text historical layers previously out of our reach as well as shed new light on certain historiographical details recounted in 2 Kings 17 As supposed by the literary critics for well over a century the textual data shows beyond doubt that there happened vast editing and rewriting of the Books of Kings even at very late date Text critical considerations are therefore not only useful but invaluable to all scholarly work on 2 Kings 17 and the Books of Kings as a whole Jewish Studies at the Turn of the Twentieth Century, Volume 1: Biblical, Rabbinical, and Medieval Studies European Association for Jewish Studies. Congress, 1999 169 papers from the Toledo Congress of the European Association for Jewish Studies offering a broad realistic perspective on the advances achievements and anxieties of Judaic Studies from the Bible to our days on the eve of the new millennium Uncovering Ancient Editing Ville Mäkipelto, 2018-10-08 The Hebrew Bible is a product of ancient editing but to what degree can this editing be uncovered Uncovering Ancient Editing argues that divergent textual witnesses of the same text so called documented evidence should be the starting point for such an endeavor The book presents a fresh analysis of Josh 24 and related texts as a test case for refining our knowledge of how scribes edited texts Josh 24 is envisioned as a gradually growing Persian period text whose editorial history can be reconstructed with the help of documented evidence preserved in the MT LXX and other ancient sources This study has major implications for both the study of the book of Joshua and text historical methodology in general

The Exodus Itinerary Sites Michael D. Oblath, 2004 The Israelite exodus from Egypt forms the foundational national origin narrative in the Hebrew Bible Although it is a compelling and popular tale only minimal supportive circumstantial evidence exists beyond the Bible In this book Michael D Oblath details the geographical context within which the Hebrew Bible was written With this backdrop he presents the geographical conceptualization of the exodus as described by the biblical sources Within their references to the various exodus itinerary sites these sources consistently locate the sites in proximity to known geographical locations Oblath indicates that within the geographical memory of the biblical sources the presupposition of an exodus from Egypt is incorrect Rather the narrative describes events originating in the southern region of ancient Israel between the Negeb and the Gulf of Elath

The Invasion of Sennacherib in the Book of Kings Paul S. Evans, 2009 The invasion of Sennacherib in 701 BCE is a classic issue for both biblical scholars and historians alike Extant Assyrian Biblical and even Greek texts all refer to Sennacherib and many different theories have been put forward in attempts to understand the relationship between these various accounts Despite the rise of new literary rhetorical criticism in biblical studies studies tackling the problem of Sennacherib's invasion have been dominated by historical critical work on the issue and have virtually ignored rhetorical methodology Against this trend this book employs both traditional historical critical methods and newer rhetorical methods in an effort to utilize the biblical texts in a historical reconstruction of this famous Assyrian assault on ancient Judah The Rewritten Joshua Scrolls from Qumran Ariel Feldman, 2013-11-27 In addition to three scrolls containing the Book of Joshua the Qumran caves brought to light five previously unknown texts rewriting this book These scrolls 4Q123 4Q378 4Q379 4Q522 5Q9 as well as a scroll from Masada Mas 1039 211 are commonly referred to as the Apocryphon of Joshua While each of these manuscripts has received some scholarly attention no attempt has yet been made to offer a detailed study of all these texts The present monograph fills this gap by providing improved editions of the six scrolls an up to date commentary and a detailed discussion of the biblical exegesis embedded in each scroll The analysis of the texts is followed by a reassessment of the widely accepted view considering 4Q123 4Q378 4Q379 4Q522 5Q9 and Mas 1039 211 as copies of a single composition Finally the monograph attempts to place the Qumran scrolls rewriting the Book of Joshua within the wider context of Second Temple Jewish writings concerned with the figure of Joshua The Scepter and the Star John J. Collins, 2010-11-12 John J. Collins here offers an up to date review of Jewish messianic expectations around the time of Jesus in light of the Dead Sea Scrolls He breaks these expectations down into categories Davidic priestly and prophetic Based on a small number of prophetic oracles and reflected in the various titles and names assigned to the messiah the Davidic model holds a clear expectation that the messiah figure would play a militant role In sectarian circles the priestly model was far more prominent Jesus of Nazareth however showed more resemblance to the prophetic messiah during his historical career identified as the Davidic Son of Man primarily after his death In this second edition of The Scepter and the Star Collins has revised the discussion of Jesus and early Christianity completely rewritten a chapter on a figure who claims to have a throne in heaven and has added a brief discussion of the recently published and controversial Vision of Gabriel Reconsidering Nehemiah's Judah Deirdre N. Fulton, 2015-09-08 In this work Deirdre N. Fulton examines the differences in the MT and LXX texts of Nehemiah 11 12 She portrays the rebuilding of Judah by focusing on the people who settled in Jerusalem a catalog of settlements in Judah a list of temple personnel and a narrative of the dedication and procession around the walls of Jerusalem In this systematic study the author analyzes the textual divergences and changes these chapters underwent over time While both traditions cast Nehemiah 11 12 in Persian period Judah the textual divergences between the MT and LXX reveal intentional changes that occurred during the Hellenistic period
