The Lost One Stephen D. Youngkin, 2005-09-30 Often typecast as a menacing figure Peter Lorre achieved Hollywood fame first as a featured player and later as a character actor trademarking his screen performances with a delicately strung balance between good and evil His portrayal of the child murderer in Fritz Lang's masterpiece M 1931 catapulted him to international fame Lang said of Lorre He gave one of the best performances in film history and certainly the best in his life Today the Hungarian born actor is also recognized for his riveting performances in The Man Who Knew Too Much 1934 The Maltese Falcon 1941 and Casablanca 1942 Lorre arrived in America in 1934 expecting to shed his screen image as a villain He even tried to lose his signature accent but Hollywood repeatedly cast him as an outsider who hinted at things better left unknown Seeking greater control over his career Lorre established his own production company His unofficial graylisting by the House Committee on Un American Activities however left him with little work He returned to Germany where he co authored directed and starred in the film Der Verlorene The Lost One in 1951 German audiences rejected Lorre's dark vision of their recent past and the actor returned to America wearily accepting roles that parodied his sinister movie personality. The first biography of this major actor, The Lost One: A Life of Peter Lorre, draws upon more than three hundred interviews, including conversations with directors Fritz Lang, Alfred Hitchcock, Billy Wilder, John Huston, Frank Capra, and Rouben Mamoulian, who speak candidly about Lorre both the man and the actor. Author Stephen D. Youngkin examines for the first time Lorre's pivotal relationship with German dramatist Bertolt Brecht, his experience as an immigrant from Hitler's Germany, his battle with drug addiction, and his struggle with the choice between celebrity and intellectual respectability. Separating the enigmatic person from the persona long associated with one of classic Hollywood's most recognizable faces, The Lost One is the definitive account of a life triumphant and yet tragically riddled with many failed possibilities. American Rivals of James Bond Graham Andrews, 2023-02-27 This is a critical history of spy fiction film and television in the United States with a particular focus on the American fictional spies that rivaled and were often influenced by Ian Fleming's James Bond. James Fenimore Cooper's Harvey Birch, based on a real-life counterpart, appeared in his novel The Spy in 1821. While Harvey Birch's British rivals dominated spy fiction from the late 1800s until the mid 1930s, American spy fiction came of age shortly thereafter. The spy boom in novels and films during the 1960s, spearheaded by Bond, heavily influenced the espionage genre in the United States for years to come, including series like The Man from U.N.C.L.E. and Matt Helm. The author demonstrates that while American authors currently dominate the international spy fiction market, James Bond has cast a very long shadow for a very long time. Whodoneit! A Film Guide Terry Rowan, 2015-03-23 The Comprehensive Film Guide to Amateur Sleuth, Detective, Police Stories of Film and Television. A look at the writers, Private Investigators, Lawyers, and the Hollywood Personal that produced them, and other interesting stories that have Mystery and Intrigue. Charlie Chan at the Movies Ken Hanke, 2011-01-14 From his primitive nonseries beginnings through the well-known Fox series of 44 films, 1931-1949, here is the complete history of famous film detective Charlie Chan. The films are presented in chronological order with full cast and credits, synopses, and evaluations. Biographical details on the three most famous screen Chans, Warner Oland, Sidney Toler, and Roland Winters, and background information on series directors and supporting players, insights into the making of the films, and the full story of the abrupt halt in 1949, as well as an array of the detective's aphorisms or Chanograms, are included. Numerous photos throughout. Turner Classic Movies Presents Leonard Maltin's Classic Movie Guide Leonard Maltin, 2015-09-29 The definitive guide to classic films from one of America's most trusted film critics. Thanks to Netflix and cable television, classic films are more accessible than ever. Now co-branded with Turner Classic Movies, Leonard Maltin's Classic Movie Guide covers films from Hollywood and around the world from the silent era through 1965, and from The Maltese Falcon to Singin' in the Rain and Godzilla, King of the Monsters. Rawitsch,2014-10-16 Frank Capra has long had a reputation as being the quintessential American director the man who perfectly captured the identity and core values of the United States with a string of classic films in the 1930s and 40s including It Happened One Night Mr Smith Goes to Washington and It s a Wonderful Life However as Elizabeth Rawitsch argues Capra s construction of national identity did not occur within an exclusively national context She points out that many of his films are actually set in or include sequences set in China Latin America the Philippines and the South Seas Featuring in depth textual analysis supported by original archival research Frank Capra s Eastern Horizons explains that Capra s view of what constituted America changed over time extending its boundaries to embrace countries often far from the United States Complicating Edward Said s theory of Orientalism as a strict binary in which the West constructs the East as an inferior other it demonstrates that East and West often intermingle in films such as The Bitter Tea of General Yen and in Capra s orientation documentaries for World War II American servicemen Capra imagined a kind of global community albeit one with heavy undertones of British and American imperialism Investigating shifts in what Capra s America has meant over time both to Capra and to those who have watched and studied his films this innovative book offers a startlingly fresh perspective on one of the most iconic figures in American film history Twentieth Century Fox Michael Troyan,Jeffrey Paul Thompson,Stephen X.
