Thanksgiving For A Liberated Prophet An Interpretation Of Isaiah Chapter 53:

Thanksgiving for a Liberated Prophet Roger Norman Whybray, 1978 Thanksgiving for a liberated prophet Roger Norman Whybray, 1978 From Repentance to Redemption Jeremiah Unterman, 1987-12-01 The relationship of repentance to redemption in Jeremiah is a problem compounded of authenticity and redaction From an intensive analysis of the relevant texts and a review of the secondary literature Unterman argues that the dominant trend of scholarship is methodologically flawed and biased The Jeremianic texts dealt with in this study represent concepts and vocabulary which influence or logically precede Ezekiel and II Isaiah fit the historical background of the late 7th and 6th centuries BCE and relate to but are essentially different from the literature known as Deuteronomistic Jeremiah's thought on the relationship of repentance to redemption is to be understood from the historical and ideological background of the prophet himself This thought progressed through three stages in Jeremiah's early prophecies on redemption human repentance and divine mercy are equal factors between 597 and 587 repentance plays a secondary role to YHWH's mercy during the period of the destruction of Jerusalem the prophet's despair at the people's inability to repent results in the elimination of the demand for repentance so that redemption would now depend solely on God's mercy Included in this study are excursuses on the prophets Amos Hosea Ezekiel and II Isaiah which help to place Jeremiah's thought in historical perspective A Traditional Quest Dan Cohn-Sherbok, 1991-03-01 Louis Jacobs has made a formidable contribution to Jewish scholarship over the last 40 years In addition he has inspired a generation of students of Judaism as well as members of his own congregation at the New London Synagogue The contributors to this volume in his honour include a wide range of distinguished scholars Beginning with Jacob Neusner's essay on the transformation of the Dual Torah in the first four centuries CE the volume ranges over a variety of topics in the field of Bible Talmud history and theology mirroring the wide range of Louis Jacobs' own interests In addition a full bibliography of Louis Jacobs' publications is included The Earth and the Waters in Genesis 1 and 2 David Toshio Tsumura, 1989-08-01 Enormous amounts of interpretive efforts have gone into the first book of the Hebrew Bible In modern critical studies of Genesis for instance it is often suggested that the nature of the earth waters relationship in Chapter 1 is totally different from that in Chapter 2 Professor Tsumura here offers a linguistic analysis of some key terms related to the initial situation of the earth in its relationship with the waters in Gen 1 2 and Gen 2 5ff that helps to clarify some of the hermeneutic issues at stake The Triumph of Irony in the Book of Judges Lillian R. Klein, 1988-09-01 The Confessions of Jeremiah in Context A. R. Diamond, 1987-01-01 Zephaniah Paul R. House, 1989-01-01 The Identity of the Individual in the Psalms Steven J. L. Croft, 1987-09-01 The first monograph devoted to this perennial question in Psalm study for three quarters of a century Croft's work provides a fresh and comprehensive treatment The initial chapters approach the central issue via the associated problems of the identity of the psalmists' enemies and the psalmists' description of themselves as poor In the remaining three chapters all the psalms in which an I speaks are examined under one of three headings royal psalms psalms intended for use by a private person and those to be delivered by a minister in the cult a prophet wisdom teacher or temple singer The fascinating question of the royal ritual is raised in the context of the discussion of royal psalmody and a new reconstruction of this ritual is suggested Disability and Isaiah's Suffering Servant Jeremy Schipper, 2011-09-01 Although disability imagery is ubiquitous in the Hebrew Bible characters with disabilities are not The presence of the former does not guarantee the presence of the later While interpreters explain away disabilities in specific characters they celebrate the rhetorical contributions that disability imagery makes to the literary artistry of biblical prose and poetry often as a trope to describe the suffering or struggles of a presumably nondisabled person or community This situation contributes to the appearance or illusion of a Hebrew Bible that uses disability as a rich literary trope while disavowing the presence of figures or characters with disabilities Isaiah 53 provides a wonderful example of this dynamic at work The Suffering Servant figure in Isaiah 53 has captured the imagination of readers since very early in the history of biblical interpretation Most interpreters understand the servant as an otherwise able bodied person who suffers By contrast Jeremy Schipper's study shows that Isaiah 53 describes the servant with language and imagery typically associated with disability in the Hebrew Bible and other ancient Near Eastern literature Informed by recent work in disability studies from across the humanities it traces both the disappearance of the servant's disability from the interpretative history of Isaiah 53 and the scholarly creation of the able bodied suffering servant Greek Text of Jeremiah Sven Soderlund, 1987-03-01 This work contributes to the growing body of work on the Septuagint and specifically to the book of Jeremiah and in turn critiques and evaluates the work that has grown up around the Greek translation Soderlund focuses specifically on chapter 29 as he argues this chapter epitomizes the issues and concerns of the text as a whole The examination of the inner Greek critical problem can be plentifully analysed in this chapter while the oracles against the Philistines and Edom are representative of the important textual decisions relevant to this book Thus does Soderlund include a history of the Greek Text of Jeremiah as well as an in depth analysis of the methodology in Jeremiah in this careful and systematic work The Sense of Biblical Narrative David Jobling, 1986-01-01 The Sense of Biblical Narrative II David Jobling, 1987-03-01 These three studies continue the methods and aims of Volume I 1978 2nd edn 1986 applying a structuralist method developed mainly from Claude Lévi Strauss and A J Greimas to various texts and problems in the narrative sections of the Hebrew Bible The new studies go beyond those of the previous volume however in two ways They begin to take account of the deconstructive method of Derrida the standing on its head of structuralism and they seek to make a contribution to feminist and liberation exegesis and hermeneutics The first study is a deconstruction of Genesis 2-3 showing that the oppositions which the text purports to establish including divine vs human and male vs female are in fact assumed in advance The second deals with the implicit political theory of the Deuteronomists and discovers an indeterminate attitude to monarchy The third inspired by Norman K Gottwald and seeking from a great methodological distance to illuminate his problematic of Israel's origins analyses the attitude implied by the Bible towards Transjordan and the Israelites who live there

The Song of Fourteen Songs Michael D. Goulder, 1987-03-01 A persuasive account in brief compass of the dramatic flow of the Song of Songs Many sensitive observations on the imagery of the songs are presented in the form of a running commentary The author offers his own original verse translation of the fourteen poems

Exegesis at Qumran: 4Q Florilegium in I George J. Brooke, 1984-08-01 A comprehensive analysis of the text 4Q Florilegium must begin with the acknowledgement that the text is fragmented in nature and alludes to others through quotations With this acknowledgement Brooke moves on to address the relevant contextual aspects of the text What becomes clear is this without appreciation of exegetical devices and techniques at use in early Judaism any analysis of 4QFlor is as fragmentary as the text itself Brooke's thorough and precise methodology for working through the text via context makes this book the go to work on 4Q Florilegium

The Word of God in Transition William M. Schniedewind, 1995-09-01 The Chronicler distinguishes between traditional prophets and inspired messengers and thereby highlights a radical transition in the meaning of the word of God which takes place in the post exilic period The Chronicler summarizes his perspective in 2 Chron 36 16 saying that Israel rejected his prophets the messengers of God and his word i e Torah This distinction is reflected in the forms and functions of prophetic speech in the books of Chronicles Thus the prophets speak to the king and the inspired messengers e g priests levites speak to the people The prophets interpret narrative events for the king they explain how God acts The inspired messengers exhort the people admonishing them how they should act The prophets speeches usually do not use any kind of inspiration formula but the inspired messengers speeches are prefaced with possession formulas These possession formulas are not typical of classical prophecy and mark the rise of a new kind of prophecy namely the inspired interpretation of texts These inspired messengers are thus forerunners of the inspired interpreters of scripture in Qumran early Christianity and Judaism

Persian Royal-Judaean Elite Engagements in the Early Teispid and Achaemenid Empire Jason M. Silverman, 2019-11-14 Jason Silverman presents a timely and necessary study advancing the understanding of Achaemenid ideology and Persian Period Judaism While the Achaemenid Persian Empire c 550 330 BCE dwarfed all previous empires of the Ancient Near East in both size and longevity the royal system that forged and preserved this civilisation remains only rudimentarily understood as is the imperial and religious legacy bequeathed to future generations In response to this deficit Silverman provides a critically sophisticated and interdisciplinary model for comparative studies While the Achaemenids rebuilt the Jerusalem temple Judaean literature of the period reflects tensions over its Persian re establishment demonstrating colliding religious perspectives Although both First Zechariah 1 8 and Second Isaiah 40 55 are controversial the greater imperial context is rarely dealt with in depth both books deal directly with the temple's legitimacy and this ties them intimately to kings engagements with cults Silverman explores how the Achaemenid kings portrayed their rule to subject minorities the ways in which minority elites reshaped this ideology and how long this impact lasted as revealed through the Judaeen reactions to the restoration of the Jerusalem temple Exploring the Old Testament J. Gordon McConville, 2016-01-08 This critically informed and theologically sensitive introduction to the Prophets considers the often misunderstood prophetic books of the Old Testament including an exploration of their historical context their artful use of language and their place within the chorus of Old Testament voices I Have Heard Your Prayer Michael E. W. Thompson, 2012-05-22 Michael Thompson has had a long standing interest in the Old Testament and during recent years has focused in particular on the subject of prayer It has been his ambition to write a book which will offer guidance to those in the churches who are asking what the Old Testament has to say to them about the life of prayer today yet which will also help those who wish to study Old Testament prayer in a more academic way The book is thus about an aspect of biblical spirituality but it also seeks to be a guide to those who wish to delve further into this neglected subject Of Prophets' Visions and the Wisdom of Sages Heather A. McKay, David J. A. Clines, 1997-01-01 Old Testament prophecy and wisdom are two of the main themes with which Norman Whybray formerly of the University of Hull has concerned himself in his highly productive and innovative scholarly career In honour of his seventieth birthday a distinguished international group of scholars have expressed their personal and professional admiration for him with essays that Are particularly rich And significant The roll call of contributors reads Brenner Brueggemann Cazelles Clements Clines Coggins Crenshaw Eaton Gelston Gordon Goulder Grabbe Jeppesen Knibb Mayes Mettinger Soggin and Williamson
