That Terrible Halloween Night:

That Terrible Halloween Night James Stevenson, 1980 Grandpa tells Louie and Mary Ann of the dreadful Halloween night that turned him into an old man That Terrible Halloween Night , After the Story's Over Linda K. Garrity, 1991 Educational resource for teachers parents and kids Coyote Nights Debra Elaine Medina, 2019-08-28 Matt Shaw trudged into his future job marriage homeownership expensive acquisitions In spite of his growing indifference it seemed too late to turn back Then Hannah crashed his Halloween party and before long nothing else mattered Go on Matt said leaning back trying to act relaxed as if he'd heard a couple hundred how I became a vampire stories It seems like there's fog in the row of trees at the back of the cemetery Like a fog has come up suddenly It's hardly ever foggy in Albuquerque so I was surprised Wondering if things could get any creepier Hannah's knee was bouncing steadily Then I thought did I see movement I looked up from the grave toward that row of trees and I think there's someone there like I could see a face for a second but then maybe it was just a swirl in the fog I can't quite make it out I better go I said it out loud and my voice startled me It seemed loud It made my heart jump But I keep standing there and I know there's someone in those trees but I just can't quite see it and I'm afraid to move Maybe if I stand still it won't notice me It will get darker and the fog will get thicker and who or whatever is there won't be able to see me and then I can get out of there I can run maybe if I don't trip over something A grave or something somebody's flowers These thoughts are racing through my mind but my body feels heavy and slow Hannah took a drink of her beer Matt felt as if she had forgotten his presence Her face was serene almost smiling I sort of stopped thinking then just stood there My hair felt damp my face was cold When I forced myself to focus on where I was I saw the face again from the corner of my eye Much closer now maybe fifty feet away I mean I didn't really see it like I see you now but there was this impression Something really horrible zeroing in on me the mouth was too big and the eyes were glittering with dark circles all the way around them Something sneaking The skin looked yellowy white against the gray white of the fog It had cloaked itself with this fog so it could get close and then pounce on me like some huge spider I lost the image whenever I tried to focus on it but I knew it was there I knew I was in trouble Then maybe twenty feet then maybe fifteen then I could see the hands and arms reaching and it was on me It got its hands on me and I don't think I ever even moved Didn't turn to run just stood there like a deer in headlights It was ugly and it stunk but it said sweet and comforting things Even the pain when it bit me took place in the middle of all these kind encouraging words and thoughts it put into my head I think I was convinced this monster had my best interests at heart A to Zoo Rebecca L. Children's Book Review Service Children's Book Review Service,1979 Bookpeople Sharron L. McElmeel,1992-06-15 Fifteen units focus on authors who speak about their ethnic heritage through their books and those who write or illustrate multicultural materials Each unit includes a full size photograph and a brief biography containing bits of background information that will fascinate students Activities that reinforce the multicultural theme and bibliographies of related books and films are also featured Ideal for the media center and the integrated curriculum Grades 1 6 The Art of the Haunted W.F. James,2014-10-30 A Thriller with a Heart A group of inner city delinquent boys is engaging in a horrible crime of violence when suddenly a strange man appears He is immediately attacked but he defeats their aggression He subdues them and makes them listen to scary ghost stories throughout the night until help arrives The unwilling audience becomes enthralled by the excitement and thrills and the mystery as slowly the stranger captures their hearts and minds

Finally a tale of Islamic Jihad in 12th Century Spain directly relates back to their own conflicts in the modern urban so called ghetto The tales all touch on art and the stranger is an artist a tortured soul whose gifts and skills transform their lives but at a terrible cost The characters are very real and believable as is the harshness of their reality that is motivating their behavior As the plot builds from crisis to crisis the changes that occur become clear and understandable as logical results of the driving action The ghost stories embedded in the plot can stand on their own and are exciting and entertaining in their own right but their significance is slowly revealed as the book nears its conclusion when the meaning of all the action begins to dawn on the boys and the reader Readers say my book makes them cry a lot quite unusual for a violent thriller which this book certainly is It does show some insight into the mentoring process taking boys from violent macho 15 year olds to civilized adult men Author The author had formal training in the Fine Arts had been a painter and had mentored inner city delinquent boys The author also amassed a vast collection of antiquities from the world s ancient cultures each piece having its own story These factors in the author s life were the direct inspiration for this fearful tale of mystery and harsh reality yet touches the heart with love
