That Memory Of Evil:

The End of Memory Miroslav Volf, 2021-01-12 Winner of the Christianity Today Book Award in Christianity and Culture How should we remember atrocities Should we ever forgive abusers Can we not hope for final reconciliation even if it means redeemed victims and perpetrators spending eternity together We live in an age that insists that past wrongs genocides terrorist attacks bald personal injustices should never be forgotten But Miroslav Volf here proposes the radical idea that letting go of such memories after a certain point and under certain conditions may be a gift of grace we should embrace Volf's personal stories of persecution and interrogation frame his search for theological resources to make memories a wellspring of healing rather than a source of deepening pain and animosity Controversial thoughtful and incisively reasoned The End of Memory begins a conversation that we avoid to our great detriment This second edition includes an appendix on the memories of perpetrators as well as victims a response to critics and a James K A Smith interview with Volf about the nature and function of memory in the Christian life

Reforming Memory Robert Vosloo, 2017-10-02 Although we should acknowledge the fragility of memory we should nevertheless affirm the remarkable ability of memory to reform and transform our identity Our memories and ways of remembering are however often marked by trauma and violence Memory therefore not merely reforms it too is in need of reformation redemption and transformation With this emphasis in mind Reforming Memory grapples with the question what a responsible engagement with the past entails also for Christians and churches associated with the Reformed tradition The history of Reformed churches in South Africa is one can argue a deeply divided and ambivalent one The same figures are heroes to some and villains to others historic events are deeply ambiguous and conflicting views surround different discourses Yet the histories and perhaps futures of these churches and traditions are inextricably interwoven Reforming Memory fundamentally combines an interest in the notion of memory with an interest in South African Reformed theology and history Central is the question how should we remember and represent the past responsibly The essays collected in this book engage in different ways with this question attending in the process to some episodes in the history of the Dutch Reformed Church some influential Reformed theologians and some important Reformed practices and confessional documents

Ethnoreligiosity in the Contemporary Societies of the Former Yugoslavia Branko Sekulic, 2022-02-08 Using Christian communities in the former Yugoslavia as a case study Branko Sekulic introduces the concept of ethnoreligiosity to the theological discussion in order to resolve the confusion that occurs when scholars talk about the concepts of ethno religion or ethnoreligion Ethno religion ethnoreligion came to describe the phenomenon of ethnic religion as a certain cultural specificity and which by itself has no negative connotation but due to the lack of a better expression it has been used as a term for the phenomenon of ethnic and religious conflict and discrimination In that sense ethnoreligiosity can be defined as a phenomenon resulting from the usurpation of the religious aspect of human life by the ethnic one or more precisely it emerges as a consequence of an ethnic ethnonational ideological overtaking of the structures of the religious organization It takes place through the attempt to give sacral connotation to a particular ethnonational myth as an integral part of ethnonational ideology with the result that religious feeling is no longer generated on a religious but primarily on an ethnonational base By understanding the proper definition and manifestation of ethnoreligiosity one will have the opportunity to discern the basic components of this phenomenon not only within the countries of the former Yugoslavia but in other countries as well

Agency in Transnational Memory Politics Jenny Wüstenberg,Aline Sierp,2020-07-01 The dynamics of transnational memory play a central role in modern politics from postsocialist efforts at transitional justice to the global legacies of colonialism Yet the relatively young subfield of transnational memory studies remains underdeveloped and fractured across numerous disciplines even as nascent boundary crossing theories on topics such as multi vocal traveling or entangled remembrance suggest new ways of negotiating difficult political questions This volume brings together theoretical and practical considerations to provide transnational memory scholars with an interdisciplinary investigation into agency the who and the how of cross border commemoration that motivates activists and fascinates observers

Dynamic Memory Revisited Roger C. Schank,1999-08-28 Roger Schank s influential book Dynamic Memory described how computers could learn based upon what was known about how people learn Since that book s publication in 1982 Dr Schank has turned his focus from artificial intelligence to human intelligence Dynamic Memory Revisited contains the theory of learning presented in the original book extending it to provide principles for teaching and learning It includes Dr Schank s important theory of case based reasoning and assesses the role of stories in human memory In addition it covers his ideas on non conscious learning indexing and the cognitive structures that underlie learning by doing Dynamic Memory Revisited is crucial reading for all who are concerned with education and school reform It draws attention to how effective learning takes place and provides instruction for developing software that truly helps students learn

Autobiographical Memory and Moral Agency Daniel Vanello,2025-10-27 This volume brings together for the first time perspectives from philosophy and psychology to investigate the role of autobiographical memory in moral agency Autobiographical memory is the ability to recollect events in one s past as part of one s personal history Moral agency is the ability to make moral judgements act morally and have a conception of the good life Although a number of philosophers and psychologists have drawn attention to the role of autobiographical memory in moral agency there is no sustained project that brings together these different lines of inquiry into a unified research area The aim of this volume is to answer this need by bringing together leading voices in research in autobiographical memory and moral agency from both philosophy and psychology to provide a unified framework for a new interdisciplinary research area Key areas of research explored in this volume include temporal perspectives moral identity autobiographical narrative joint reminiscing the internalisation of moral value attachments and amnesia Autobiographical Memory and Moral Agency will appeal to researchers and advanced students in philosophy of mind moral philosophy philosophy of education developmental psychology and educational psychology who are interested in the role of memory in moral psychology and moral development Atonement Eleonore Stump, 2018-11-22 The doctrine of the atonement is the distinctive doctrine of Christianity Over the course of many centuries of reflection highly diverse interpretations of the doctrine have been proposed In the context of this history of interpretation Eleonore Stump considers the doctrine afresh with philosophical care Whatever exactly the atonement is it is supposed to include a solution to the problems of the human condition especially its guilt and shame Stump canvasses the major interpretations of the doctrine that attempt to explain this solution and argues that all of them have serious shortcomings In their place she argues for an interpretation that is both novel and yet traditional and that has significant advantages over other interpretations including Anselm's well known account of the doctrine In the process she also discusses love union guilt shame forgiveness retribution punishment shared attention mind reading empathy and various other issues in moral psychology and ethics The Occult Review ,1921 The Memory Architects: A Sci-Fi Novella Rick Anthony, In a world where memories can be manipulated and altered at will the concept of free will becomes a blurred line The story of Eva the Memory Architect shows us the power of memories and the importance of using them responsibly Eva's journey began with a routine project but it led her down a path of discovery that would change the course of her life and the world around her She discovered a hidden conspiracy that threatened to control the entire population and she was determined to stop it Through her skills and determination Eva was able to defeat the rogue group and expose the conspiracy But she knew that her work was far from over Memories were a powerful tool and they could be used for both good and evil Eva's dedication and commitment to ensuring that memories were used responsibly led to a profound change in the world Memories were being used to heal wounds bring people together and create a better future for all The story of Eva and her team shows us the importance of using technology responsibly and the power of individuals to make a difference in the world It reminds us that memories are not just a tool or a technology but a fundamental part of what it means to be human As we move forward into an increasingly technological world it's important to remember the lessons of Eva's journey We must always be vigilant and responsible in our use of technology and we must never forget the power of individual action to make a difference in the world The Spiritual Diary Emanuel Swedenborg, 1883 The Ladies' Repository ,1850 Christian Right Victory Chet Harnett, 2019-04-20 Medal of Honor recipient Noe Haleakua joins the Christian fundamentalist church Good Day Ministries at the urging of his private business billionaire boss Rolf Lambert where Lambert introduces Noe to the pastor Guy Austin Fanning Through Pastor Fanning's powerful inspirational sermons reinforcing the righteousness of the fundamentalist Christian path Noe works to resolve his personal PTSD ridden conflict from his Afghanistan tour of duty A life long admirer of the Knights of The Round Table Noe tries his hand at learning to ride and joust where his liberal British trainer in equestrian sport Fiona attempts to destroy Noe's Christian Right faith on his path to absolution Through the strength of Pastor Fanning's sermons Noe is able to hold firm in his Christian faith and commit to becoming a Christian soldier fighting for Christian Right victories in politics and life Ultimately Noe is victorious in his fight against the practice of abortion

Episodes in Early Modern and Modern Christian-Jewish Relations Paolo L. Bernardini, 2016-09-23 The history of the Christian Jewish relations is full of curious intense and occasionally tragic episodes In the dialectical development of the Western monotheistic religions Judaism plays the role of the thesis of the origins and background for the rise of Christianity and Islam With the rise of Christianity Judaism was progressively marginalized since it was denied the same essence and validity of Christianity which grew immensely in terms of spiritual and secular power Christian scholars since the Middle Ages looked at Judaism as at the broken staff in the evolutionist line of religion to quote the insightful work of the late Frank E. Manuel At the same time while re-discovering Judaism Christian scholars redefined themselves and Christianity as well However while Christianity encompassed many sects and many nations the relatively weak diversity within Judaism the religion of a single nation seemed to hinder its evolution and development While the intellectual battle was fought in a scholarly way the emergence of the Christian State condemned the Jews to perpetual discrimination and occasional toleration until a lay State Nazi Germany threatened the survival of the Jewish people Neutral controversial works became powerful extermination tools when used in the political arena This volume casts light on some crucial episodes in the long dialectics within the same intellectual and religious framework touching upon themes such as the conception of time future in the age of Spinoza the early encounters of Judaism and Christianity in eighteenth century England the memory of the Shoah and the political revolution present in the system of the Jewish Commonwealth From early to late Modernity there is a history of friendship and diffidence mutual understanding and dramatic disagreements which even today largely conditions the Western intellectual world Memory and Confession in Middle English Literature Kisha G. Tracy, 2017-05-06 This book argues that the traditional relationship between the act of confessing and the act of remembering is manifested through the widespread juxtaposition of confession and memory in Middle English literary texts and furthermore that this concept permeates other manifestations of memory as written by authors in a variety of genres This study through the framework of confession identifies moments of recollection within the texts of four major Middle English authors Langland Chaucer Gower and the Gawain Poet and demonstrates that these authors deliberately employed the devices of recollection and forgetfulness in order to indicate changes or the lack thereof both in conduct and in mindset in their narrative subjects Memory and Confession in Middle English Literature explores memory's connection to confession along with the recurring textual awareness of confession's ability to transform the soul demonstrating that memory and recollection is used in medieval literature to emphasize emotional and behavioral change
