Patel launched a comprehensive investigation into the global food network. It took him from the colossal supermarkets of California to India's wrecked paddy fields and Africa's bankrupt coffee farms while along the way he ate genetically engineered soy beans and dodged flying objects in the protestor packed streets of South Korea. What he found was shocking from the false choices given us by supermarkets to a global epidemic of farmer suicides and real reasons for famine in Asia and Africa. Yet he also found great cause for hope in international resistance movements working to create a more democratic sustainable and joyful food system. Going beyond ethical consumerism, Patel explains the steps from seed to store to plate to regain control of the global food economy, stop the exploitation of both farmers and consumers and rebalance global sustenance.
