Mexican Political Biographies, 1935-2009 Roderic Ai Camp,2011-10-01 This fourth edition of Roderic Camp's highly respected Mexican Political Biographies is an updated comprehensive biographical directory of leading state and national politicians in Mexico covering the years 1935-2009. The original edition published in 1976 was the first and only comprehensive biographical work on contemporary political figures in any language and served as the prototype for the Mexican government's brief foray into its own official biographical directory. The Mexican Supreme Court has cited every biography of justices in the third edition as the basis of its biographies in the late 1980s. With updates of the existing biographies and appendices plus almost 1 000 additional biographies this fourth edition now features close to 3 000 entries and serves as a unique resource list of the chronological occupants of all leading national political posts. The need for such information has become even more pronounced since Mexico's political transformation from a semi authoritarian to a democratic model. This latest edition allows readers access to information about Mexican politicians into the new century and like its earlier versions will be a valuable tool for government officials journalists historians social scientists the business community and students. Finally it includes a detailed bibliographic essay that identifies and explains the significance of biographical sources and has been enhanced by numerous up to date Internet sources. An added convenience is an accompanying CD that allows readers to search the biographies and appendices enhancing the longevity usefulness and uniqueness of this edition.

United States Army in World War II Harry L. Coles, Albert K. Weinberg, 1986 A documentary history with brief narrative introductions illustrating the evolution of civil affairs policy and practice in the Mediterranean and European theaters. Most important of all in World War II soldiers became governors in a much broader sense than ever.

before so much more than was foreseen that the Army's specialized training proved scant preparation for perhaps the most important phase of their role. They became not merely the administrators of civilian life for the Army's immediate needs but at the same time the executors and at times even by force of circumstances the proposers of national and international political policy. This broader role arose from the fact that in World War II the Allies strove to realize from the very beginning of occupation political aims that had usually not been implemented during war or if during war at all not until active hostilities had ended. Thus in enemy countries civil affairs officials were immediately to extirpate totalitarian governmental and economic systems in liberated countries they were as soon as possible to aid in restoring indigenous systems and authorities and in both types of countries they were to make an all out effort to effect gradual transition toward the envisaged postwar national and international order.
