The Ohlone Past and Present Lowell John Bean,1994-01-01 A People's Guide to the San Francisco Bay Area Rachel Brahinsky,Alexander Tarr,2020-10-06 An alternative history and geography of the Bay Area that highlights sites of oppression resistance and transformation A People s Guide to the San Francisco Bay Area looks beyond the mythologized image of San Francisco to the places where collective struggle has built the region Countering romanticized commercial narratives about the Bay Area geographers Rachel Brahinsky and Alexander Tarr highlight the cultural and economic landscape of indigenous resistance to colonial rule radical interracial and cross class organizing against housing discrimination and police violence young people demanding economically and ecologically sustainable futures and the often unrecognized labor of farmworkers and everyday people The book asks who had and who has the power to shape the geography of one of the most watched regions in the world As Silicon Valley s wealth dramatically transforms the look and feel of every corner of the region like bankers wealth did in the past what do we need to remember about the people and places that have made the Bay Area with its rich political legacies With over 100 sites that you can visit and learn from this book demonstrates critical ways of reading the landscape itself for clues to these histories A useful companion for travelers educators or longtime residents this guide links multicultural streets and lush hills to suburban cul de sacs and wetlands stretching from the North Bay to the South Bay from the East Bay to San Francisco Original maps help guide readers and thematic tours offer starting points for creating your own routes through the region The Gale Encyclopedia of Native American Tribes: California, Pacific Northwest, Pacific Islands Sharon Malinowski,1998 Although there have been a number of recent reference titles on the history and culture of Native Americans Gale s encyclopedia offers exceptional scope clarity and content Covering almost 400 North American tribes each essay contains information on both the historical and contemporary issues for the tribe All entries begin with an introduction about the tribal roots historic and current location population data and language family This is followed by segments covering the history religious beliefs language buildings means of subsistence clothing healing practices customs oral literature and current tribal issues Several black and white illustrations and bibliographies for further research are included A cumulative index of tribes relevant nonnative peoples historic dates and battles treaties legislation associations and religious groups adds value Outstanding Reference Sources the 1999 Selection of New Titles American Libraries May 1999 Comp by the Reference Sources Committee RUSA ALA The Presidio Lisa Benton-Short,1998 The story of the Presidio s conversion from military post to national park The Historical Ecology Handbook Dave Egan,Evelyn A. Howell,2005-08-12 A fundamental aspect of the work of ecosystem restoration is to rediscover the past and bring it into the present to determine what needs to be restored why it was lost and how best to make it live again This handbook makes essential connections between past and future ecosystems bringing together leading experts to offer a much needed introduction to the field of historical ecology and its practical application by on the ground restorationists from publisher description Juana Briones of Nineteenth-Century California Jeanne Farr McDonnell, 2008-09-15 Juana Briones de Miranda lived an unusual life which is wonderfully recounted in this highly accessible biography She was one of the first residents of what is now San Francisco then named Yerba Buena Good Herb reportedly after a medicinal tea she concocted She was among the few women in California of her time to own property in her own name and she proved to be a skilled farmer rancher and businesswoman In retelling her life story Jeanne Farr McDonnell also retells the history of nineteenth century California from the unique perspective of this surprising woman Juana Briones was born in 1802 and spent her early youth in Santa Cruz a community of retired soldiers who had helped found Spanish California Native Americans and settlers from Mexico In 1820 she married a cavalryman at the San Francisco Presidio Apolinario Miranda She raised her seven surviving sons and daughters and adopted an orphaned Native American girl Drawing on knowledge she gained about herbal medicine and other cures from her family and Native Americans she became a highly respected curandera or healer Juana set up a second home and dairy at the base of then Loma Alta now Telegraph Hill the first house in that area After gaining a church sanctioned separation from her abusive husband she expanded her farming and cattle business in 1844 by purchasing a 4 400 acre ranch where she built her house located in the present city of Palo Alto She successfully managed her extensive business interests until her death in 1889 Juana Briones witnessed extraordinary changes during her lifetime In this fascinating book readers will see California s history in a new and revelatory light Indigenous Cities Laura M. Furlan, 2017-11 In Indigenous Cities Laura M Furlan demonstrates that stories of the urban experience are essential to an understanding of modern Indigeneity She situates Native identity among theories of diaspora cosmopolitanism and transnationalism by examining urban narratives such as those written by Sherman Alexie Janet Campbell Hale Louise Erdrich and Susan Power along with the work of filmmakers and artists In these stories Native peoples navigate new surroundings find and reformulate community and maintain and redefine Indian identity in the postrelocation era These narratives illuminate the changing relationship between urban Indigenous peoples and their tribal nations and territories and the ways in which new cosmopolitan bonds both reshape and are interpreted by tribal identities Though the majority of American Indigenous populations do not reside on reservations these spaces regularly define discussions and literature about Native citizenship and identity Meanwhile conversations about the shift to urban settings often focus on elements of dispossession subjectivity and assimilation Furlan takes a critical look at Indigenous fiction from the last three decades to present a new way of looking at urban experiences one that explains mobility and relocation as a form of resistance In these stories Indian bodies are not bound by state imposed borders or confined to Indian Country as it is traditionally conceived Furlan demonstrates that cities have always been Indian land and Indigenous peoples have always been cosmopolitan and urban We Are Not Animals Martin Rizzo-Martinez, 2022-02 Winner of the 2023 John C Ewers Award from the Western History Association 2023 Choice Outstanding Academic Title By examining historical records and drawing on oral histories and the work of anthropologists archaeologists ecologists and psychologists We Are Not Animals sets out to answer questions regarding who the Indigenous people in the Santa Cruz region were and how they survived through the nineteenth century Between 1770 and 1900 the linguistically and culturally diverse Ohlone and Yokuts tribes adapted to and expressed themselves politically and culturally through three distinct colonial encounters with Spain Mexico and the United States In We Are Not Animals Martin Rizzo Martinez traces tribal familial and kinship networks through the missions chancery registry records to reveal stories of individuals and families and shows how ethnic and tribal differences and politics shaped strategies of survival within the diverse population that came to live at Mission Santa Cruz We Are Not Animals illuminates the stories of Indigenous individuals and families to reveal how Indigenous politics informed each of their choices within a context of immense loss and violent disruption Historic Bay Area Visionaries Robin

Chapman,2018-10-15 For centuries California s environment has nurtured remarkable people Ohlone Lope Inigo found a way to protect his family in troubled times on the shores of San Francisco Bay Pioneer Juana Briones made a fortune from her rancho yet took the time to care for those in need Innovator Thomas Foon Chew discovered a climate for success in spite of the obstacles Around the region that became Silicon Valley filmmaker Charlie Chaplin found inspiration poet Robert Louis Stevenson uncovered adventure and Sarah Winchester built a house that would intrigue people long after she was gone Author Robin Chapman shares fascinating tales of those who exemplify the enterprising spirit of the Golden State Global Perspectives on Long Term Community Resource Management Ludomir R. Lozny,Thomas H. McGovern,2019-06-21

Communal level resource management successes and failures comprise complex interactions that involve local regional and increasingly global scale political economic and environmental changes shown to have recurring patterns and trajectories The human past provides examples of long term millennial and century scale successes followed by undesired transitions collapse and rapid failure of collaborative management cooperation on the decadal scale Management of scarce resources and common properties presents a critical challenge for planners attempting to avoid the tragedy of the commons in this century Here anthropologists human ecologists archaeologists and environmental scientists discuss strategies for social well being in the context of diminishing resources and increasing competition The contributors in this volume revisit tragedy of the commons also referred to as drama or comedy of the commons and examine new data and theories to mitigate pressures and devise models for sustainable communal welfare and development They present twelve archaeological historic and ethnographic cases of user managed resources to demonstrate that very basic community level participatory governance can be a successful strategy to manage short term risk and benefits The book connects past present future by presenting geographically and chronologically spaced out examples of communal level governance strategies and overviews of the current cutting edge research The lesson we learn from studying past responses to various ecological stresses is that we must not wait for a disaster to happen to react but must react to mitigate conditions for emerging disasters
