The 1911 Revolution The Chinese In British And Dutch Southeast Asia:

The 1911 Revolution Lai To Lee, 1987 Sun Yat-Sen, Nanyang and the 1911 Revolution Lai To Lee, Hock Guan Lee, 2011 In view of the 100th anniversary of the 1911 Revolution and Sun Yat sen s relations with the Nanyang communities the Institute of Southeast Asian Studies and the Chinese Heritage Centre came together to host a two day bilingual conference on the three way relations between Sun Yat sen Nanyang and the 1911 Revolution in October 2011 in Singapore This volume is a collection of papers in English presented at the conference Backcover The Chinese in Southeast Asia and Beyond Ching-Hwang Yen, 2008 The Chinese in Southeast Asia with their growing economic clout have been attracting attention from politicians scholars and observers in recent decades The rise of China as a global economic power and its profound influence over Southeast Asia has cast a spotlight on the role of Southeast Asian Chinese in the region s economic relations with China The Southeast Asian Chinese as an economic force and their growing importance with China are to a certain extent determined by the nature and development of their communities This book uses a multifaceted approach to unravel the forces that helped to transform the communities in the past Containing 17 papers written within a span of six and a half years from 2000 to 2006 the book focuses on the social economic and political aspects of these communities with special emphasis on the Chinese in Malaysia and Singapore The Cambridge History of Southeast Asia: Volume 2, The Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries Nicholas Tarling, 1992 Southeast Asia has long been seen as a unity although other terms have been used to describe it Further India Little China the Nanyang The region has had a protracted maritime history Confucianism Buddhism Islam Hinduism Christianity are all represented It has seen a quintet of colonial powers Britain France The Netherlands Spain the United States Most recently it has become one of the fastest growing parts of the world economy The very term Southeast Asia is clearly more than a geographical expression The Cambridge History of Southeast Asia is a multi authored treatment of the whole of mainland and island Southeast Asia from Burma to Indonesia Unlike other histories of the region it is not divided on a country by country basis and is not structured purely chronologically but rather takes a thematic and regional approach to Southeast Asia s history This volume the second and final in the series takes us into the nineteenth and twentieth centuries from the late eighteenth century of the Christian era when most of the region was incorporated into European empires to the complexity and dramatic change of the post World War II period It covers the economic and social life as well as the religious and popular culture of the region as they develop over two centuries The political structures of the region are also closely examined from the insurgencies and rebellions of early this century to the modern Nationalist movements which challenged the control of the colonial powers and led to the formation of independent states Under the editorship of Nicholas Tarling Professor of History at the University of Auckland New Zealand each chapter is well integrated into the whole Professor Tarling has assembled a highly respected team of international scholars who have presented the latest historical research on the region and succeeded in producing a provocative and exciting account of the region's history The Kuomintang Movement in British Malaya, 1912-1949 Ching Fatt Yong, R. B. McKenna, 1990 The Kuomintang KMT the first legalized political party and movement in modern Malaysian and Singaporean history is studied against the background of British colonial rule the changing political circumstances and fortunes in China and the rising and waning of Malayan Chinese nationalism from 1894 While it highlights the development of the Malayan KMT Movement in terms of leadership organization and ideology it also analyzes changing British colonial policy and management techniques toward the Movement Chinese In Southeast Asia And Beyond, The: Socioeconomic And Political Dimensions Ching-hwang Yen, 2008-07-21 The Chinese in Southeast Asia with their growing economic clout have been attracting attention from politicians scholars and observers in recent decades The rise of China as a global economic power and its profound influence over Southeast Asia has cast a spotlight on the role of Southeast Asian Chinese in the region's economic relations with China The Southeast Asian Chinese as an economic force and their growing importance with China are to a certain extent determined by the nature and development of their communities This book uses a multifaceted approach to unravel the forces that helped to transform the communities in the past Containing 17 papers written within a span of six and a half years from 2000 to 2006 the book focuses on the social economic and political aspects of these communities with special emphasis on the Chinese in Malaysia and Singapore The Cambridge History of Southeast Asia Nicholas Tarling, 1999 Volume 2 discusses Southeast Asia's interaction with foreign countries during the period c 1500 to c 1800 Hegemonies Compared Ting-Hong Wong, 2002-04-24 This book explores the impact of cultural identity the internal configurations of the educational field and the struggles both inside and outside the educational systems of post World War II Singapore and Hong Kong By comparing the school politics of these two nations Wong generates a theory that illuminates connections between state formation education and hegemony in countries with dissimilar cultural makeups

Power and Identity in the Chinese World Order Billy K.L. So, John Fitzgerald, Jianli Huang, James K. Chin, 2003-03-01 Wang Gungwu is one of the most influential historians of his generation Initially renowned for his pioneering work on the structure of power in early imperial China he is more widely known for expanding the horizons of Chinese history to include the histories of the Chinese and their descendents outside China It is probably no coincidence Philip Kuhn observes that the most comprehensive historian of the Overseas Chinese is the historian most firmly grounded in the history of China itself This book is a celebration of the life work and impact of Professor Wang Gungwu over the past four decades It commemorates his contribution to the study of Chinese history and the abiding influence he has exercised over later generations of historians particularly in the Asia Pacific region The book begins with an historiographical survey by Philip Kuhn Francis Lee Higginson Professor of History at Harvard University of Wang Gungwu's enduring contribution to scholarship It concludes with an engaging oral history of Professor Wang's life career and research trajectory The intervening chapters explore many of the fields in which Wang Gungwu's influence has been felt over the years including questions of political authority national identity commercial life and the history of the diaspora from imperial times to the present day Each of these chapters is authored by a former student of Professor Wang now working and teaching in Hong Kong Southeast Asia Australasia Taiwan and Canada

The Asian Mediterranean François Gipouloux, 2011-01-01 This intensive monograph The Asian Mediterranean is a great synthesis of east west maritime worlds under an emerging global world Professor Gipouloux has combined historical studies on global maritime seas with regional economic studies on Asia He also integrates historical interaction between maritime seas and coastal port cities by creating the imaginative geo economical concept of the East Asian economic corridor running between Vladivostok and Singapore and locating China Japan and Southeast Asia into this maritime area To attain this goal Professor Gipouloux globalises China through north south east west and past present combinations using cross disciplinary approaches political economy geography and international relations under wide historical perspectives The Asian Mediterranean opens a new horizon to look into Asia from a global perspective and at the same time reminds us of the connection beyond contrast between East and West Takeshi Hamashita Tokyo University Japan and Sun Yat sen University Guangzhou China A fascinating analysis of the proposition that the start of the 21st century is witnessing the rapid rise in South East Asia of a new and powerful transnational economic zone the Asian Mediterranean It uses a wide range of historical and contemporary multidisciplinary sources to systematically explore how why and in what ways we can better interpret and understand this contemporary version of economic globalisation by looking back to the equivalent processes centred on the ports around the Mediterranean and the Baltic seas during the late 16th century Peter Daniels University of Birmingham UK François Gipouloux has written a vast and comprehensive history of the Asian economic system In the tradition of Braudel he paints a picture that is detailed full of insight and essentially very long term On the basis of an analysis of the old Mediterranean and Hanseatic economic networks he surveys the pre modern Asian system bringing it up to date with studies of Yokohama Hong Kong Singapore and other Asian hubs The culmination of many years work Gipouloux throws light on a new China a China no longer land based and inward looking but dependent on and a power in a maritime world Christopher Howe University of London UK Gipouloux's ground breaking study based on a long career as a scholar of Asia's past is a most original contribution to the study of globalization Connecting past and present the author has further developed the somewhat vague metaphor of an Asian Mediterranean into a well defined concept that can also be applied to analyzing contemporary affairs While in the past the traditional Chinese and Japanese state systems were failing to formulate adequate answers on a more informal level the port cities were able to meet with the maritime challenges of the emerging modern world system The author convincingly shows how also in the age of globalization a string of coastal metropolises continues to be instrumental in opening up the Far Eastern economy to the global economy Leonard Blussé Leiden University The Netherlands This insightful book draws upon a wide range of disciplines political economy geography and international relations to examine how Asia has returned to its central position in the world economy As in the case of the hosting of the Olympic games it is cities rather than states which compete whether as financial centres logistical hubs or platforms for coordinating international subcontracting Analysing the historical precedents of the Mediterranean maritime republics the Baltic Sea Hanseatic League and the South China Sea mercantile kingdoms the book delineates the way stable economic and legal institutions were developed largely beyond the purview of and at times in conflict with the State Discussing the strong link between history and contemporary economic situation The Asian Mediterranean will appeal to academics including Studies in Modern Overseas Chinese History Qinghuang Yan,1995 Fuzhou Protestants and the Making of a Modern China, 1857-1927 Ryan Dunch,2001-01-01 He shows how Chinese Protestants with a distinctive vision for constituting China as a modern nation state contributed to the dissolution of the imperial regime enjoyed unprecedented popularity following the 1911 revolution and then saw their dreams for social and political change dashed

Singapore and the Asian Revolutions Geoffrey C. Gunn,2008 The Ethnic Chinese in the ASEAN States Leo Suryadinata,1989 The bibliographical essays on the studies of the ethnic Chinese in the ASEAN states will be extremely useful as it is the first monograph of its kind and also up to date It begins with a general overview on the studies of the ethnic Chinese in the ASEAN states and is followed by five country studies and two essays on specific topics All essays in this volume were written by specialists Understanding the Ethnic Chinese in Southeast Asia Leo Suryadinata,2007 About 80 percent of the ethnic Chinese outside China live in Southeast Asia This book examines that community in the context of both national and international dimensions Contestations of Memory in Southeast Asia Kwok Kian-Woon,Roxana Waterson,2012-01-01 Contestations of Memory in Southeast Asia applies a new theoretical literature on social memory to remembered events in Burma Laos Vietnam Malaysia Singapore the Philippines and Indonesia Highlighting connections between theorizing based on European examples and unresolved memory issues in East and Southeast Asia the authors show how comparative study of the interpenetration of politics and lived bodily experience of communal and personal memories and of dominant and suppressed narratives can yield insights into the human potential to become either perpetrators victims or bystanders The memories found within different groups in any society are open to negotiation suppression contestation or revision in the ever evolving politics of the present The searching and close grained analyses of contemporary issues found in the volume vividly illustrate the essentially plural and multivocal nature of social memories and demonstrate the intricate connection between transnational national and sub national politics Readers seeking a more nuanced and complex understanding of the past and of its continued relevance to the present and future will find here much food for thought

World War One in Southeast Asia Heather Streets-Salter,2017-04-13 An original study of the First World War s impact in Southeast Asia extending our understanding of the conflict as a global phenomenon The Politics of Nation Building and Citizenship in Singapore Michael Hill,Kwen Fee Lian,2013-06-17 The creation of a national identity has been a central feature of political life in Singapore A broad strategy of multiculturalism together with the creation of Asian values has served the purpose of building a new national identity

Histories of Scale: Java, the Indies and Asia in the Imperial Age, 1820-1945. Vincent Houben, 2021-08-19 This major study explores the spatial history of the Dutch East Indies as an imperial formation between the early nineteenth century and the end of empire It consists of six in depth case studies on pertinent themes such as rural capitalism indirect colonial rule border politics coolie circulations un modern nationalism and the beginning of Indonesian independence These studies are set within a novel theory which connects local intra imperial transimperial and global history in the format of specific toponomes As such this book is a contribution both to Indonesian transcultural history and the field of New Area Studies

Ethnicities, Personalities And Politics In The Ethnic Chinese Worlds Ching-hwang Yen, 2016-08-18 The rise of the economic power of the ethnic Chinese known also as overseas Chinese Chinese overseas or Chinese diaspora was a late 20th century phenomenon It was partly the result of the rise of the Four Little Asian Dragons in the 1970s and was speeded up by the tempo of globalization towards the end of that century This book explores the ethnic identity and boundary of the Chinese as minority groups in foreign lands and as sub groups among the Chinese themselves It examines prominent personalities that had wielded considerable influence in the ethnic Chinese communities in the economic social and educational arenas It also discusses the type of politics that had impacted their relationship with their mother country China Containing 16 papers presented at various international conferences in Singapore Malaysia Hong Kong China and Taiwan as keynote speeches and research findings which are predominantly unpublished in English this book provides fresh perspectives and re interpretations on the issues of ethnicity leadership and politics in the ethnic Chinese worlds
