Girard, Timothy K. Perttula, Mary Beth Trubitt, 2014-04-10 Drawing on the latest archaeological fieldwork Caddo Connections looks at the highly dynamic cultural landscape of the Caddo Area and its complex interconnections and exchanges with surrounding regions The authors employ a multiscale approach to examine cultural diversity through time and across space within the Caddo Area They explore how and why this diversity developed consider what allowed it to stabilize during the Mississippian period and analyze changes following contact between historic Caddo peoples and Europeans Looking beyond individual river valleys to the broader macroregion they also address the linkages connecting the Caddo Area with the Southeast southern Plains and Southwest Looting Spiro Mounds David La Vere, 2007 Author raises questions about the looting of the lost Indian burial crypt in Le Flore Co OK in 1935 Blackland Prairies of the Gulf Coastal Plain Evan Peacock, Timothy Schauwecker, 2003-03-05 Taking a holistic approach this compilation gathers ecological historical and archaeological research written on the distinctive region of the US Southeast called the Gulf coast blackland prairie Ranging from the last glacial period to the present day the case studies provide a broad picture of how the area has changed through time and been modified by humans first with nomadic bands of Indians trailing the grazing animals and then by Euro American settlers who farmed the rich agricultural area Contemporary impacts include industrialization aquaculture population growth land reclamation and wildlife management Geochemical Evidence for Long-Distance Exchange Michael D. Glascock, 2002-12-30 Studies of prehistoric exchange of goods provide information about the types of economic interaction social organization or political structures in which prehistoric peoples were engaged

Long distance exchange is a special situation where the materials exchanged crossed significant boundaries whether they were geographic social political or otherwise By examining the types and quantities of goods exchanged along with the directions and distances they moved archaeologists are able to examine the dynamic properties of exchange systems i e how they operate and why they undergo change The purpose of this volume is to present a number of case studies of long distance exchange from around the world which demonstrate the use of geochemical analysis of artifacts to find evidence of exchange More important than the use of analytical technique employed or the types of artifacts studied are the interpretations themselves which illustrate that exchange studies are maturing and helping archaeologists to develop more accurate models of exchange
