prism that bends and deflects light in order to produce a spectrum of twentieth century thought emanating from the late nineteenth century French literary avant garde Because the works of Mallarmé and Cixous are often described as hermetic and illisible Jacques Derrida intervenes to play the role of intermediary through his separate writings on these poets Important questions arise How does the elliptical writing of Mallarmé relate to the hyperbolic writing of Cixous What common strategies emerge and how do these strategies address the critical areas of sexual difference and political testimony for each writer

A Sun within a Sun Claire Chi-ah Lyu, 2010-11-23 A Sun within a Sun is a sustained poetic reflection on the enterprise of poetry on what poetry is and might be not only for poet and theorist but also for reader critic teacher and student It sees poetry as life at its most genuine Using Baudelaire and Mallarmé as principal examples but drawing on a wide range of poets and thinkers from Greek mythology to Poe Rimbaud Rilke and Blake from Nietzsche Gilles Deleuze and Italo Calvino to William James and Henry Miller Claire Chi ah Lyu challenges contemporary poetic theory using precise and acute deconstruction of poetic imagery to reconstruct language so that it celebrates both meaning and beauty A Sun within a Sun explores the notions of lightness and weight discipline and indulgence freedom and loss of will that are inherent in the poetic enterprise It poses that lightness discipline freedom and risk are essential for an approach to the enigma of beauty through an elegant shaping of form that holds true not only in poetry but also in pure science and even fashion Poetry is a language within a language a heightened and intense awareness of what words mean and what they can do at its best creating an intensity of a sun within a sun The poet and reader of poetry must take the risk Icarus took of approaching the sun for without the risk there is no fulfillment A Sun within a Sun seeks a shaping of form and content that discovers poetry as power as a practice of life that honors and makes possible both thought and feeling

Passing and Pedagogy Pamela L. Caughie, 1999 The current academic milieu displays a deep ambivalence about the teaching of Western culture and traditional subject matter This ambivalence the product of a unique historical convergence of theory and diversity opens up new opportunities for what Pamela Caughie calls passing recognizing and accounting for the subject positions involved in representing both the material being taught and oneself as a teacher Caughie's discussion of passing illuminates a recent phenomenon in academic writing and popular culture that revolves around identities and the ways in which they are deployed both in the arts and in lived experience Through a wide variety of texts novels memoirs film drama theory museum exhibits legal cases she demonstrates the dynamics of passing presenting it not as the assumption of a fraudulent identity but as the recognition that the assumption of any identity including for the purposes of teaching is a form of passing Astutely addressing the relevance of passing for pedagogy Caughie presents the possibility of a dynamic ethics responsive to the often polarizing difficulties inherent in today's culture Challenging and thought provoking Passing and Pedagogy offers insight and inspiration for teachers and scholars as they seek to be responsible and effective in a complex rapidly changing intellectual and cultural environment

Feminist Literary Theory Joan Nordquist, 1998

Writing the Voice of Pleasure A. Callahan, 2001-11-09 The Voice of Pleasure makes a persuasive and fascinating argument that the romantic couple of Western representation is not heterosexual Nor is it homosexual With insightful new readings of landmarks of Western culture from Tristan and Yseult to Seinfeld Callahan demonstrates that the illusion of heterosexuality is created by a male artist's assumption of a feminine voice to express desire Named the troubadour effect for the first time here this tradition of male femininity in romantic writing results in a cultural model of desire best described as heterosexuality without women The most compelling aspect of the book is its attention to the effect of this paradox on women writers Illuminating her argument with striking examples from the troubadours to Toni Morrison the author shows how women writers inscribe their vagabondage a term she coins to name the consequences of the troubadour effect for women's agency as both writers and lovers
