Parliament. House of Commons. Environmental Audit Committee,2008 This is the thirteenth report from the Environmental Audit Committee of the 2007 08 session HCP 743 ISBN 9780215524843 The Committee states that the Government will fail to meet the 2010 target to halt biodiversity loss although the target might have been unrealistic The Committee does see some progress with 80% of Sites of Special Scientific Interest SSIs in a favourable condition with a number of rare species having recovered In general though biodiversity loss continues in the wider countryside with many species and habitats facing severe declines and local extinctions The Committee does believe though that with leadership and effective policies biodiversity loss could in fact be reversed and states the Government should adopt a new target to halt the loss Biodiversity policies need to be cross departmental and the Government s ecosystem assessment is a way forward by encouraging such an approach and promoting biodiversity protection at the regional and local scales The Committee further states that the Government could make a large contribution in preventing biodiversity loss through more support for the UK Overseas Territories
