Social Aspects Of Mental Retardation:

Social Aspects of Mental Retardation Richard A. Kurtz,1977-01-01 Medical and Psychosocial Aspects of Chronic Illness and Disability Donna R. Falvo,2005 A comprehensive text that provides easy to understand explanations of medical aspects of common chronic illnesses and disabilities The Social Sciences and Mental Retardation ,1968 The Social Sciences and Mental Retardation: Family Components National Institute of Child Health and Human Development (U.S.),1968 Moral Issues in Mental Retardation Ronald S. Laura,Adrian F. Ashman,2018-09-03 First published in 1985 Despite the vast number of books available on mental handicap there had been little published about moral philosophical or ethical issues Yet such issues must be faced and indeed answered either explicitly or implicitly before any system of education or care for mentally handicapped people can be put into practice This book reviews a number of issues in this field Key topics addressed include respect for retarded people the notion of equal rights terminating the lives of severely handicapped infants and genetic engineering With the current emphasis on recognising the rights and needs of the handicapped as individuals this book should represent an important review and be of interest to all concerned with mentally handicapped people International Review of Research in Mental Retardation ,2006-04-11 Volume 31 of the International Review of Research in Mental Retardation is a thematic exploration of personality and motivation in persons with mental retardation Looking at a broad spectrum of intellectual disabilities Mental Retardation Personality and Motivational Systems explores motivation as a moderator for performance and individualized effort Coverage includes discussions of intrinsic and extrinsic motivation in both mentally retarded and non retarded children self determination interpersonal decision making in adolescents and adults with mental retardation interpersonal relationships and the connection between etiological specific differences and motivation to form behavioral phenotypes A final chapter presents a transactional perspective on human ability relying on constructs of intelligence cognitive processes and motivation with implications for developmental interventions in the lives of persons with mental retardation Explores personality and motivation in persons with mental retardation Discusses intrinsic and extrinsic motivation in both mentally retarded and non retarded children A useful reference for researchers and scholars in developmental and cognitive psychology as well as neuropsychology The Psychological and Social Impact of Disability Robert P. Marinelli,1999 Marinelli and Dell Orto continue the premise of their earlier editions of this widely adopted text and present a realistic perspective on disability Carefully selected articles and personal narratives capture the unique aspects of the psychological and social effects of disability Formatted to include thought provoking study questions and disability awareness exercises this text is recommended for students in rehabilitation counseling and physical therapy education programs as well as professionals in rehabilitation psychology and social work Mental Retardation & Developmental Disabilities Abstracts ,1975 The Psychological and Social Impact of Illness and Disability Arthur E. Dell Orto,Paul W. Power,2007-04-02 The newest edition of The Psychological and Social Impact of Illness and Disability continues the tradition of presenting a realistic perspective on life with disabilities and then improves upon its predecessors with the inclusion of illness as a major influence on client care needs. Articles included represent the best of developing concepts, theory, research, and intervention approaches. Classic articles kept from previous editions round out a diversity of viewpoints that will enrich student understanding of what is important in beginning rehabilitation practice. Further broadening the scope of this edition is the inclusion of personal perspectives and stories from those living with illness or disabilities. These stories offer a glimpse into what it is like to cope day to day with these issues and direct examples of how effective current care models and rehabilitation theories can be. Relevant expert articles plus insightful narratives combine to offer a bridge between theory and reality and guide students and professionals in rehabilitation practice closer to their goal of enhancing the quality of life for all individuals.

Mental Retardation George S. Baroff, J. Gregory Olley, 2014-06-03. Mental Retardation now in the third edition was hailed as a classic when it was first published in the 1970s. This edition provides up-to-date material on the major dimensions of mental retardation: its nature, its causes (both biological and psychological), and its management.

Psychiatric and Behavioural Disorders in Developmental Disabilities and Mental Retardation Nick Bouras, 1999-06-28. Includes index.

What is Mental Retardation? Harvey N. Switzky, Stephen Greenspan, 2006. What is Mental Retardation is a rare peek into the divergent and at times contentious points of view among the world's leading researchers on what the condition of mental retardation is and how it should be defined, measured, and implemented in the 21st century. This candid and insightful collection of 21 essays features expert opinion on issues ranging from whether mental retardation really is a slowing of mental development and what the disability should be called to how cultural norms affect the definition of the condition worldwide and lessons learned from the Atkins v Virginia case. The definitions of mental retardation published from 1921-2002 by the American Association on Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities provide the backdrop for this powerful discussion.

Issues in the Developmental Approach to Mental Retardation Robert M. Hodapp, Jacob A. Burack, Edward Zigler, 1995-01-27. Issues in the Developmental Approach to Mental Retardation is one of the first books exclusively devoted to applying the theories, findings, and approaches used in work with nonretarded children to several types of retarded individuals. The editors and contributors define the developmental approach and explore theoretical issues as they relate to retarded populations. Problems involving similar sequences of development, cross-domain relations, the environment, and motivation are all discussed as is the importance of separating the various etiological groups for research and intervention purposes The contributors also examine the nature of development in specific etiological groups types of retardation that are addressed include cultural familial retardation Down syndrome fragile X syndrome autism and children with sensory and motor handicaps This significant volume demonstrates how data from nonretarded development can inform work with retarded populations and how findings from children with mental retardation enrich developmental theory National institutes of health United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations,1965 Health of Women with Intellectual Disabilities Patricia Noonan-Walsh,Patricia Walsh,Tamar Heller,2008-04-15 The first interdisciplinary book taking a contextual approach to the developing health needs of women with intellectual disabilities It considers the social economic and political contexts of health promotion Its concise but comprehensive evidence base makes it a unique reliable source for a wide readership Research Awards Index ,1986
