Documents of Dying Paganism Paul Friedländer,1945 The Triumph of Dionysus on Textiles of Late Antique Egypt Victor Fritz Lenzen,1960 Textiles and Gender in Antiquity Mary Harlow,Cecile Michel,Louise Quillien,2020-11-12 This volume looks at how the issues of textiles and gender intertwine across three millennia in antiquity and examines continuities and differences across time and space with surprising resonances for the modern world The interplay of gender identity textile production and use is notable on many levels from the question of who was involved in the transformation of raw materials into fabric at one end to the wearing of garments and the construction of identity at the other Textile production has often been considered to follow a linear trajectory from a domestic female activity to a more commercial or industrial male centred mode of production In reality many modes of production co existed and the making of textiles is not so easily grafted onto the labour of one sex or the other Similarly textiles once transformed into garments are often of unisex shape but worn to express the gender of the wearer As shown by the detailed textual source material and the rich illustrations in this volume dress and gender are intimately linked in the visual and written records of antiquity The contributors show how it is common practice in both art and literature not only to use particular garments to characterize one sex or the other but also to undermine characterizations by suggesting that they display features usually associated with the opposite gender The Triumph of Dionysus on Textiles of Late Antique Egypt Victor Fritz Lenzen,1960 Dress and Personal Appearance in Late Antiquity Faith Pennick Morgan,2018-01-22 This book examines the dress and personal appearance of members of the middle and lower classes in the eastern Mediterranean region during the 4th to 8th centuries Written art historical and archaeological evidence is assessed with a view to understanding the way that cloth and clothing was made embellished cared for and recycled during this period Beginning with an overview of current research on Roman dress the book looks in detail at the use of apotropaic and amuletic symbols and devices on clothing before examining sewing and making methods the textile industry and the second hand clothing trade The final chapter includes detailed information on the making and modelling of exact replicas based on extant garments Textiles and Cult in the Ancient Mediterranean Cecilie Brøns,Marie-Louise Nosch,2017-07-31 Twenty four experts from the fields of Ancient History Semitic philology Assyriology Classical Archaeology and Classical Philology come together in this volume to explore the role of textiles in ancient religion in Greece Italy The Levant and the Near East Recent scholarship has illustrated how textiles played a large and very important role in the ancient Mediterranean sanctuaries In Greece the so called temple inventories testify to the use of textiles as votive offerings in particular to female divinities Furthermore in several cults textiles were used to dress the images of different deities Textiles played an important role in the dress of priests and priestesses who often wore specific garments designated by particular colours Clothing regulations in order to enter or participate in certain rituals from several Greek sanctuaries also testify to the importance of dress of ordinary visitors Textiles were used for the furnishings of the temples for example in the form of curtains draperies wall hangings sun shields and carpets This illustrates how the sanctuaries were potential major consumers of textiles nevertheless this particular topic has so far not received much attention in modern scholarship Furthermore our knowledge of where the textiles consumed in the sanctuaries came from where they were produced and by who is extremely limited Textiles and Cult in the Ancient Mediterranean examines the topics of textile production in sanctuaries the use of textiles as votive offerings and ritual dress using epigraphy literary sources iconography and the archaeological material itself Greek and Roman Textiles and Dress Mary
