Textual Awareness A Genetic Study Of Late Manuscripts By Joyce Proust And Mann:

Textual Awareness Dirk Van Hulle, 2009-12-14 Aware of the act of writing as a temporal process many modernist authors preserved numerous manuscripts of their works which themselves thematized time Textual Awareness analyzes the writing processes in James Joyce's Finnegans Wake Marcel Proust's la recherche du temps perdu and Thomas Mann's Doktor Faustus and relates these to Anglo American French and German theories of text By relating theory to practice this comparative study reveals the links between literary and textual criticism A key issue in both textual criticism and the so called crisis of the novel is the tension between the finished and the unfinished After a theoretical examination of the relationship between genetic and textual criticism Dirk Van Hulle uses the three case studies to show how at each stage in the writing process the text still had the potential of becoming something entirely different how and why these geneses proceeded the way they did how Joyce Proust and Mann allowed contingencies to shape their work how these authors recycled the words of their critics in order to inoculate their works against them how they shaped an intertextual dimension through the processing of source texts and reading notes and how text continually generated more text Van Hulle's exploration of process sheds new light on the remarkable fact that so many modernist authors protected their manuscripts implying both the authors urge to grasp everything and their awareness of the dangers of their encyclopedic projects Textual Awareness offers new insights into the artificiality of the artifact the novel that are relevant to the study of literary modernism in general and the study of James Joyce Marcel Proust and Thomas Mann in particular Dirk Van Hulle is Assistant Professor of English and German Literature University of Antwerp

Editing the Nation's Memory, 2015-07-14 Europe's nation states emerged from a complex of nineteenth century developments in which cultural consciousness raising played a formative role The nineteenth century reflection on Europe's national identities involved a re inventory and revalorisation of the vernacular cultural past and above all the nation's literary heritage Everywhere in Europe foundational texts including medieval epics and romances ancient laws and chronicles were retrieved from their obscure repositories In new printed editions prepared according to the emerging academic standards of textual scholarship they were appropriated contested and canonised as public symbols of the nation's permanence in history This often neglected but crucially important Europe wide process of editing the nation's memory involved old states and emerging nations large and small countries metropolitan and peripheral regions it straddled politics the academic professionalization of textual scholarship and of the human sciences and literary taste This collection of studies by outstanding specialists offers a comparative synopsis on exemplary cases from all corners of the European continent

Digital Scholarly Editions Beyond Text Tessa Gengnagel, 2024-02-07 Scholarly editions contextualize our cultural heritage Traditionally methodologies from the field of scholarly editing are applied to works of literature e g in order to trace their genesis or present their varied history of transmission What do we make of the variance in other types of cultural heritage How can we describe record and reproduce it systematically From medieval to modern times from image to audiovisual media the book traces discourses across different disciplines in order to develop a conceptual model for scholarly editions on a broader scale By doing so it also delves into the theory and philosophy of the digital humanities as such

Microscopy, Magnification and Modernist Fiction Patrick Armstrong, 2024-12-26 Exploring how modernism registered shock experiences of the microscopic and extended vision in prose fiction through the work of four modernist writers D H Lawrence Marcel Proust Virginia Woolf and Samuel Beckett this book is the first substantial study of the interrelations between microscopy and modernist fiction Illustrating ways in which optical instruments had the capacity to change displace and reframe ideas of what the world is like this book argues that encounters with the microscopic are often depicted as thresholds between the human and the non human in ways that reverberate through modernist fiction Exploring a period of significant developments in microscopical tools and techniques from the light microscope to the electron microscope this book traces a shift that reconfigured the limits of the observable

Textual Scholarship and the Material Book Wim Van Mierlo, 2007 In the last decades the emphasis in textual scholarship has moved onto creation production process collaboration onto the material manifestations of a work onto multiple rather than single versions onto reception and book history Textual scholarship now includes not only textual editing but any form of scholarship that looks at the materiality of text of writing of reading and of the book The essays in this collection explore many questions about methodology and theory arising from this widening scope of textual scholarship The range of texts discussed from Sanskrit epic via Medieval Latin commentary through English and Scottish Ballads to the plays of Samuel Beckett and the stories of Guimarães Rosa testifies to the vigour of the discipline The range of texts is matched by a range of approach from theoretical discussion of how text happens to analysis of issues of book design and censorship the connections between literary and textual studies exploration of the links between reception and commodification in George Eliot and between information theory and paratext Through this diversity of subject and approach a common theme emerges the need to look further for common ground from which to continue the debate from a comparative perspective

Textuality and

Knowledge Peter Shillingsburg, 2017-06-01 In literary investigation all evidence is textual dependent on preservation in material copies. Copies however are vulnerable to inadvertent and purposeful change. In this volume Peter Shillingsburg explores the implications of this central concept of textual scholarship. Through thirteen essays Shillingsburg argues that literary study depends on documents, the preservation of works and textual replication, and he traces how this proposition affects understanding. He explains the consequences of textual knowledge and ignorance in teaching reading and research and in the generous impulses behind the digitization of cultural documents. He also examines the ways in which facile assumptions about a text can lead one astray, discusses how differing international and cultural understandings of the importance of documents and their preservation shape both knowledge about and replication of works, and assesses the dissemination of information in the context of ethics and social justice. In bringing these wide-ranging pieces together, Shillingsburg reveals how and why meaning changes with each successive rendering of a work, the value in viewing each subsequent copy of a text as an original entity, and the relationship between textuality and knowledge. Featuring case studies throughout, this erudite collection distills decades of Shillingsburg's thought on literary history and criticism and appraises the place of textual studies and scholarly editing today. Edinburgh Companion to Children's Literature Clementine Beauvais, 2017-09-08 This collection takes informed and scholarly readers to the utmost frontier of children's literature criticism, from the intricate worlds of children's poetry, picturebooks, and video games to the new theoretical constellations of critical plant studies, non-fiction studies, and big data analyses of literature. Poetry in the Making Daniel Tyler, 2021 An edited collection on poetic creation in the Victorian period that studies nine major Victorian poets: Wordsworth, Tennyson, Robert and Elizabeth Barrett Browning, Clough, Christina Rossetti, Hopkins, Swinburne, and Yeats. Companion to the History of the Book Simon Eliot, Jonathan Rose, 2019-08-08 The celebrated text on the history of the book completely revised, updated, and expanded. The revised and updated edition of The Companion to the History of the Book offers a global survey of the book's history through print and electronic text. Already well established as a standard survey of the historiography of the book, this new expanded edition draws on a decade of advanced scholarship to present current research on paper, printing, binding, scientific publishing, the history of maps, music, and print, the profession of authorship, and lexicography. The text explores the many approaches to the book from the early clay tablets of Sumer, Assyria, and Babylonia to today's burgeoning electronic devices. The expert contributions delve into such fascinating topics as archives and paperwork and present new chapters on Arabic script, the Slavic, Canadian, African, and Australasian book, new textual technologies, and much more. Containing a wealth of illustrative examples and case studies to dramatize the exciting history of the book, the text is designed for academics, students, and anyone interested in the subject. Publishing Blackness George Hutchinson, John Young, 2018-05-09 The first of its kind, this volume sets in dialogue African Americanist and textual scholarship, exploring a wide range of African American textual history and work. Texts in Multiple Versions -

Histories of Editions ,2006-01-01 Texts in multiple versions constitute the core problem of textual scholarship For texts from antiquity and the medieval period the many versions may be the result of manuscript transmission requiring editors and readers to discriminate between levels of authority in variant readings produced along the chain of copying For texts of all periods and particularly for more modern authors there may also be multiple authorial versions These are of particular importance for genetic criticism as they offer a window on the author s thinking through the developing work The different contexts in which multiple versions may occur different languages different genres different cultures ranging in this collection from ancient Greek texts to novels by Cervantes and Aub dramatic texts from Portugal and Germany poetry from The Netherlands and Lithuania scientific texts from the 19th century provide further layers of complexity The histories of countries are reflected in the histories of editing In Europe this can be seen particularly in the great period of nation building of the 19th century Essays in this volume survey editorial activity in The Netherlands Belgium and Germany in the nineteenth century concluding that nation building and scholarly editing are twinned As a nation searches for its own identity textual scholarship is pressed into service to find and edit the texts on which to establish that identity The two strands of this volume multiple versions of texts editions and national histories testify to the centrality of textual editing to many fields of research There is material here for literary scholars historians and for readers interested in texts from Ancient Greece to modernist classics

The Textuality of Soulwork Tim Hunt, 2014-03-25 A new critical perspective on Kerouac's work and his textual practices

Traces of the Old, Uses of the New Amy E. Earhart, 2015-11-12 Digital Humanities remains a contested umbrella term covering many types of work in numerous disciplines including literature history linguistics classics theater performance studies film media studies computer science and information science In Traces of the Old Uses of the New The Emergence of Digital Literary Studies Amy Earhart stakes a claim for discipline specific history of digital study as a necessary prelude to true progress in defining Digital Humanities as a shared set of interdisciplinary practices and interests Traces of the Old Uses of the New focuses on twenty five years of developments including digital editions digital archives e texts text mining and visualization to situate emergent products and processes in relation to historical trends of disciplinary interest in literary study By reexamining the roil of theoretical debates and applied practices from the last generation of work in juxtaposition with applied digital work of the same period Earhart also seeks to expose limitations in need of alternative methods methods that might begin to deliver on the early but thus far unfulfilled promise that digitizing texts allows literature scholars to ask and answer questions in new and compelling ways In mapping the history of digital literary scholarship Earhart also seeks to chart viable paths to its future and in doing this work in one discipline this book aims to inspire similar work in others

Proofs of Genius Amanda Gailey, 2015-10-19 The first extensive study of the collected edition as an editorial genre and its obscured role in shaping the American literary canon

Publishing Scholarly Editions Christopher Ohge, 2021-12-02 Publishing Scholarly Editions offers new intellectual tools for publishing digital editions that bring readers closer to the experimental practices of literature editing and reading After the Introduction Section 1 Sections 2 and 3 frame intentionality and data analysis as intersubjective interrelated and illustrative of experience as experimentation These ideas are demonstrated in two editorial exhibitions of nineteenth century works Herman Melville's Billy Budd Sailor and the anti slavery anthology The Bow in the Cloud edited by Mary Anne Rawson Section 4 uses pragmatism to rethink editorial principles and data modelling arguing for a broader conception of the edition rooted in data collections and multimedia experience The Conclusion Section 5 draws attention to the challenges of publishing digital editions and why digital editions have failed to be supported by the publishing industry If publications are conceived as pragmatic inventions based on reliable open access data collections then editing can embrace the critical aesthetic and experimental affordances of editions of experience

J. M. Synge and Travel Writing of the Irish Revival Giulia Bruna, 2017-10-31 Between the late 1890s and the early 1900s the young Irish writer John Millington Synge journeyed across his home country documenting his travels intermittently for ten years His body of travel writing includes the travel book The Aran Islands his literary journalism about West Kerry and Wicklow published in various periodicals and his articles for the Manchester Guardian about rural poverty in Connemara and Mayo Although Synge's nonfiction is often considered of minor weight compared with his drama Bruna argues persuasively that his travel narratives are instances of a pioneering ethnographic and journalistic imagination J M Synge and Travel Writing of the Irish Revival is the first comprehensive study of Synge's travel writing about Ireland compiled during the zeitgeist of the preindependence Revival movement Bruna argues that Synge's nonfiction subverts inherited modes of travel writing that put an emphasis on Empire and Nation Synge's writing challenges these grand narratives by expressing a more complex idea of Irishness grounded in his empathetic observation of the local rural communities he traveled amongst Drawing from critically neglected revivalist travel literature newspapers and periodicals and visual and archival documents Bruna sketches a new portrait of a seminal Irish Literary Renaissance figure and sheds new light on the itineraries of activism and literary engagement of the broader Revival movement
