Textual Practice Issue 2:

Textual Practice V13 Taylor & Francis Group, Textual Practice Terence Hawkes, 2005-08-03 Textual Practice has established itself as Britain's leading journal of radical literary theory Textual Practice Terence Hawkes, 1992-07-23 Textual Practice has established itself as Britain's leading journal of radical literary theory Textual Practice Jean Howard, Alan Sinfield, Lindsay Smith, 1997-07-10 In this volume Textual Practice brings together some of its most pressing concerns by exploring the interaction of texts with language politics gender and history Textual Practice has a theoretical approach that crosses over into a range of other apparently disparate disciplines philosophy history law medicine science architecture gender and media studies Key Features Features the most exciting new voices and the most influential new scholars in the field Multidisciplinary Includes two articles on Ireland _ _ _ Textual Practice Professor Paul Edwards, Terence Hawkes, 1991-08-22 This issue of Textual Practice includes an exclusive interview with Julia Kristeva as well as the usual mix of scholarly discourse and lively reviews Were Early Modern Lives Different? Andrew Hadfield, 2016-03-16 Should we assume that people who lived some time ago were quite similar to us or should we assume that they need to be thought of as alien beings with whom we have little in common This specially commissioned collection explores this important issue through an analysis of the lives and work of a number of significant early modern writers Shakespeare is analysed in a number of essays as authors ask whether we can learn anything about his life from reading the Sonnets and Hamlet Other essays explore the first substantial autobiography in English that of the musician and poet Thomas Wythorne 1528-96 the representation of the self in Holbein's great painting The Ambassadors whether we have a window into men's and women's souls when we read their intimate personal correspondence and whether modern studies that wish to recapture the intentions and inner thoughts of early modern people who left writings behind are valuable aids to interpreting the past This book was originally published as a special issue of Textual Practice EJBRM Volume 9 Issue 2 , After Postmodernism Christopher K. Coffman, Theophilus Savvas, 2020-12-18 Several of American literature's most prominent authors and many of their most perceptive critics and reviewers argue that fiction of the last quarter century has turned away from the tendencies of postmodernist writing Yet the nature of that turn and the defining qualities of American fiction after postmodernism remain less than clear This volume identifies four prominent trends of the contemporary scene the recovery of the real a rethinking of historical engagement a preoccupation with materiality and a turn to the planetary Readings of works by various leading figures including Dave Eggers Jonathan Franzen A M Homes Lance Olsen Richard Powers William T Vollmann and David Foster Wallace support a variety of arguments about this recent revitalization of American literature The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal Textual Practice Textual Practice Terence Hawkes, 1993-07-22 Since its launch in 1987 Textual Practice has established itself as Britain's leading journal of radical literary theory Textual Practice Lindsay Deputy Editor: Smith, Alan Sinfield, Jean US

Associate Editor: Howard,1995-07-13 Since its launch in 1987 Textual Practice has been Britain's principal international journal of radical literary studies continually pressing theory into new engagements

Futures of Literary Studies Tim Lanzendörfer, Mathias Nilges, 2024-08-30 This book brings together essays that ask how one may chart more productive engagements with the methodological foundations of literary studies a discipline that is finding itself in a moment of severe crisis The temptation to reduce methodological debates to method wars constitutes one of the main obstacles for what ought to be the common goal of our discipline to articulate the possible and indeed necessary futures of literary studies How do we think about the future of literary studies in the funerary climate that has engendered the belief that we need to fight our internal wars for survival How might must our understanding of what literary criticism is and does change How do we formulate possible futures for literary studies while grappling with the significant problems that our present poses The chapters in this volume stage hopeful interventions that seek to contribute to the effort to explore the futures of literary studies by way of and conceived as a collective endeavor Together the authors advance a call for better more useful more active more networked and yes even for abandoned versions of the always multiple and joyously contradictory discipline that is called literary studies This book will be beneficial to students and scholars of English literature literary theory and literary studies The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Textual Practice and are accompanied by a new Preface

Deliberations: The Journals of Roland Barthes Neil Badmington, 2018-11-08 I've never kept a journal Roland Barthes declared in 1979 or rather I've never known if I should keep one The form itself he continued was inferior and unnecessary a minor mania of writing Barthes died months making this statement and the years since then have revealed that he had actually been concealing a fondness for diary writing The publication in 1985 of Incidents brought to light an intimate journal entitled Soirées de Paris while 2009 saw the appearance of two much longer diaries kept by Barthes following the death of his mother in 1977 and during a trip to China in 1974 respectively Further journals lie in the archive unpublished and largely unseen it is not clear if these will ever enter the public domain This collection which brings together some of the most prominent scholars in the field considers the present implications of Roland Barthes journals How do these diaries invite us to reconsider aspects of Barthes work which have become familiar through his reception as one of the twentieth century's most influential literary and cultural critics What do they allow us to see for the first time What is their relation to the works whose appearance Barthes authorised during his lifetime Where and how do they fit in his oeuvre How do they relate to each other across moment and mood Why might they call for deliberations This book was originally published as a special issue of Textual Practice

Textual Practice Lindsay Deputy Editor: Smith, Alan Sinfield, Jean US Associate Editor: Howard, 2006-02-01 Since its launch in 1987 TP has been Britain's principal international journal of radical literary studies continually pressing theory into new engagements

Neoliberalism and the Novel Emily Johansen,Alissa Karl,2017-12-22 The novel form has long been connected to modern capitalism and is arguably the literary genre most prominently enmeshed in contemporary global markets Yet as many critics have suggested about capital something has changed in the last forty years With the rise of neoliberalism as the dominant global economic rationality and mode of governance the experience of capital has produced new ways of seeing and relating to the world leading as David Harvey observes to the financialization of everything The novel indexed to capital in myriad ways then must similarly have been transformed Neoliberalism and the Novel investigates both those changes wrought to the novel form by changing arrangements of capital and the novel s broader engagement with neoliberalism itself The chapters in this book consider these questions from a variety of angles attending to the way in which the neoliberal novel deploys familiar generic patterns as a site from which to offer critique examining the changing operation of labour and time under neoliberalism and its effect on novel form and offering a broader call for new reading and interpretative practices to respond to changing socio economic realities This book was originally published as a special issue of Textual Practice

Textual Practices of Literary Training in Medieval China Christopher M.B. Nugent,2023-10-20 Through close examination of a set of educational works discovered among the Dunhuang manuscripts this book presents new insights into the literary training undertaken by the elite of medieval China In their contents and structures these works tell us what parts of the literary and cultural inheritance the elite were expected to learn and how they learned them The material aspects of these manuscripts including handwriting copying errors and paratextual additions show how students in Dunhuang used and reproduced them What emerges is a picture of a literary education that is more diverse in its sources and also more haphazard than previously imagined

Transitional Selves Marcus Bussey,Meera Chakravorty,Camila Mozzini-Alister,2023-05-30 This book engages with the ethics and practices of identity formation in a world experiencing identity stress It engages with crucial questions such as What models are shaping our view of ourselves and the society in which we live What images ground our perception of what is true and real How have the images been historically produced What are the effects of such models on definitions of self Should we break free from these images if we get to know what they are Is it possible to change our models in order to create freer identities Through a range of distinctive lenses the essays in the volume deals with the ideas of the liminal self the digital self identities in flux and offers up anthropologies of self selves that situates current identity processes within their cultures and explores strategies and dilemmas from this perspective This key volume will be of interest to scholars and researchers of literary studies critical theory social theory social anthropology philosophy and political philosophy      Leonora Carrington: Living Legacies Ailsa Cox, Roger Shannon, James Hewison, Michelle Man, 2020-03-03 The English born artist and writer Leonora Carrington 1917 2011 has received much critical acclaim and achieved stellar status in Mexico where she lived and worked for most of her life having fled Europe via Spain in tormenting circumstances Leonora Carrington Living Legacies brings together a collection of chapters that constitute a range of artistic scholarly and creative responses to the realm of Carrington emphasizing how her work becomes a medium a milieu and a provocation for new thinking being and imagining in the world The diversity of contributions from scholars early career researchers and artists include unpublished papers interviews creative provocations and writing from practice led interventions Collectively they explore question and enable new ways of thinking with Carrington s legacy Wishing to expand on recent important scholarly publications by established Carrington researchers which have brought historical and international significance to the artist s legacy this volume offers new perspectives on the artist s relevance in feminist thinking and artistic methodologies Conscious of Carrington s reluctance to engage in critical analysis of her artwork we have approached this scholarly task through a lens of give and return that the artist herself musingly articulates in her 1965 mock manifesto Jezzamathatics I was decubing the root of a Hyperbollick Symposium when the latent metamorphosis blurted the great unexpected shriek into something between a squeak and a smile IT GAVE so to speak in order to return Aberth 2010 149 In adopting her playful conjecture this publication seeks to bring Carrington and her work to further prominence      Textual Practice Christopher Norris, Journal, 1990-12-31 A general issue of Textual Practice with the usual combination of scholarly discourse and reviews This book should be of interest to academics and students of literature literary criticism media studies and philosophy      Class Issues Amitava Kumar, 1997-08 On the challenges of progressive pedagogy
