Textures Of Irish America:

Textures of Irish America Lawrence J. McCaffrey, 1998-10-01 The textures of the Irish American experience have been manifold greatly influencing this country's economic social and cultural development over the past two centuries Unlike that of many other European immigrants the Irish journey to America was viewed largely as a one way trip They quickly adjusted to America soon becoming citizens and active participants in politics By the end of the 19th century they dominated not only most American cities but also sports especially baseball and many were prominent in show business In this entertaining study of one of America's most engaging and controversial groups Lawrence McCaffrey reveals how the Irish adapted to urban life progressing from unskilled working class to solid middle class Denied power and influence in business and commerce they achieved both through politics and the Catholic church In addition to politicians and churchmen McCaffrey discusses the roles of writers such as Finley Peter Dunne James T Farrell Eugene O'Neill J F Powers Edwin O'Connor William Kennedy Elizabeth Cullinan Tom Flanagan Thomas Fleming Jimmy Breslin and John Gregory Dunne as well as such film stars as Jimmy Cagney Bing Crosby Grace and Gene Kelly and Spencer Tracy McCaffrey completes the story with a look at the role of Irish nationalism in developing the personality of Irish America and in liberating Ireland from British colonialism The result of some forty years of thinking and writing about Irish American life McCaffrey's Textures will appeal to scholars and general readers alike and may very well become the standard work on Irish America

Ireland's New Worlds Malcolm Campbell, 2007-11-14 In the century between the Napoleonic Wars and the Irish Civil War more than seven million Irish men and women left their homeland to begin new lives abroad While the majority settled in the United States Irish emigrants dispersed across the globe many of them finding their way to another New World Australia Ireland's New Worlds is the first book to compare Irish immigrants in the United States and Australia In a profound challenge to the national histories that frame most accounts of the Irish diaspora Malcolm Campbell highlights the ways that economic social and cultural conditions shaped distinct experiences for Irish immigrants in each country and sometimes in different parts of the same country From differences in the level of hostility that Irish immigrants faced to the contrasting economies of the United States and Australia Campbell finds that there was much more to the experiences of Irish immigrants than their essential Irishness America's Irish for example were primarily drawn into the population of unskilled laborers congregating in cities while Australia's Irish like their fellow colonialists were more likely to engage in farming Campbell shows how local conditions intersected with immigrants' Irish backgrounds and traditions to create surprisingly varied experiences in Ireland's new worlds Outstanding Book selected by the American Association of School Librarians and Best Books for Special Interests selected by the Public Library Association Well conceived and thoroughly researched This clearly written thought provoking work fulfills the considerable ambitions of comparative migration studies Choice

Irish America, 1999 How Celtic Culture Invented Southern Literature Cantrell, James P., A Memoir of an Educational Biographer Gerald L.

Gutek, 2024-09-01 In his interdisciplinary memoir Gerald Gutek applies history and philosophy of education to educational biography. The author was guided by his focusing goals of exploring his path to becoming an educational biographer and working generalizations with his colleagues in the field. Gutek's narrative begins with the author's childhood experiences that inclined him to a career in education followed by chapters on his doctoral program in the College of Education at the University of Illinois in Champaign Urbana his teaching of history and philosophy and education in the School of Education at Loyola University Chicago his research and writing of biographies of Johann Heinrich Pestalozzi and Joseph Neef and his textbook Historical and Philosophical Foundations of Education a Biographical Introduction and issues and strategies in writing about Maria Montessori. Throughout the book Gutek analyzes concepts and applications he developed as an educational biographer such as parallel biographies slice of life writing reconsidering overlooked and understudied educators and the role of place and space in telling life stories. ENDORSEMENTS Readers both new to educational biography or familiar with the discipline will find a valuable account of the author's long and varied career as a biographer. From his childhood memory of listening to neighbors' stories in his grandfather's grocery store to encounters with the important teachers in his life Gutek brings his own story to life. As he recounts the influences on his personal intellectual history and the processes of his research and writing readers gain valuable insights into the methods of an experienced educational biographer. Larry Prochner, University of Alberta. For fifty years Gerald Gutek has been and remains one of the seminal and leading voices in the field of educational biography thus it only makes sense for him to create something new an intellectual memoir. From his work on Counts in 1970 to his work on Montessori 2016 and her acolytes in the US 2020 Gutek has reliably bridged the worlds of educational history educational biography and philosophical foundations of education this work cements his legacy. Gutek skillfully interweaves personal and family history with movements in educational history both formal and informal then explains how these impacted his thinking and writing. Throughout this eminently readable memoir Gutek also includes political and historical context without engaging in divisiveness. Scholars of life writing should give this a close reading as Gutek sprinkles nuggets of methodological brilliance throughout the manuscript. Junior scholars would do well to read Gutek's more substantive sections on the methods used to write each of his books it is the academic equivalent of Master Class in textual form. Ed Janak, University of Toledo.

History and Memory in Modern Ireland Ian

McBride, 2001-11-08 Discussing the relationship between the past and the present in Irish society this 2001 title outlines the ways in which Irish identities have been shaped by oral tradition icons and images rituals and re enactments. It examines pivotal moments in Irish history such as the 1798 rebellion the Famine the Great War and the Northern Ireland troubles investigating the ways in which they have been recalled commemorated and mythologised. Beginning with the conviction that commemoration has its own history the essays address questions concerning the workings of communal memory. How have particular political and social groups interpreted appropriated and distorted the past for their own purposes? How are collective memories transmitted from one generation to the next Why does collective amnesia work in some situations and not in others What is the relationship between academic history and popular memory

Multiculturalism in the United States John D. Buenker,Lormen A. Ratner,2005-03-30 Interest in ethnic studies and multiculturalism has grown considerably in the years since the 1992 publication of the first edition of this work. Co editors Ratner and Buenker have revised and updated the first edition of Multiculturalism in the United States to reflect the changes, patterns and shifts in immigration showing how American culture affects immigrants and is affected by them. Common topics that helped determine the degree and pace of acculturation for each ethnic group are addressed in each of the 17 essays providing the reader with a comparative reference tool. Seven new ethnic groups are included: Arabs, Haitians, Vietnamese, Koreans, Filipinos, Asian Indians, and Dominicans. New essays on the Irish, Chinese, and Mexicans are provided as are revised and updated essays on the remaining groups from the first edition. The contribution to American culture by people of these diverse origins reflects differences in class, occupation, and religion. The authors explain the tensions and conflicts between American culture and the traditions of newly arrived immigrants. Changes over time that both of the cultures brought to America and of the culture that received them is also discussed. Essays on representative ethnic groups include African Americans, American Indians, Arabs, Asian Indians, Chinese, Dominicans, Filipinos, Germans, Haitians, Irish, Italians, Jews, Koreans, Mexicans, Poles, Scandinavians, and the Vietnamese.
