Thank God For The Atom Bomb And Other Essays:

Thank God for the Atom Bomb, and Other Essays Paul Fussell, 1990 This is not a book to promote tranquility and readers in quest of peace of mind should look elsewhere writes Paul Fussell in the foreword to this original sharp tart and thoroughly engaging work The celebrated author focuses his lethal wit on habitual euphemizers artistically pretentious third rate novelists sexual puritans and the Disneyfiers of life He moves from the inflammatory title piece on the morality of dropping the bomb on Hiroshima to a hilarious disquisition on the naturist movement to essays on the meaning of the Indy 500 race on George Orwell and on the shift in men s chivalric impulses toward their mothers Fussell s frighteningly acute eye for the manners mores and cultural tastes of Americans The New York Times Book Review is abundantly evident in this entertaining dissection of the enemies of truth beauty and justice

Oceanic Becoming Rob Wilson, 2025-02-14 From disappearing coral reefs and ocean acidification to floating great garbage patches the Pacific Ocean is an ever present reminder of the Anthropocene In Oceanic Becoming Rob Wilson demonstrates that in the midst of the planetary crises the Pacific now faces it must be understood as interconnected to the other oceans Wilson frames this interconnection as Oceania reconceiving the world oceans as tied to sites of urban dwelling and life sustenance from Boston to Brisbane that are increasingly threatened by late capitalism Confronting these threats Wilson argues requires a project he theorizes as worlding a process of world making and world remaking across Oceania that would create new forms of belonging and connection at local regional and transnational levels Wilson shows how Oceania is not just a site of peril but one charged with emergent literary and social formations that can provide the basis for new solidarities futures and ecologies

Richard Tregaskis Ray E. Boomhower, 2021-11-15 In the late summer of 1942 more than ten thousand members of the First Marine Division held a tenuous toehold on the Pacific island of Guadalcanal As American marines battled Japanese forces for control of the island they were joined by war correspondent Richard Tregaskis Tregaskis was one of only two civilian reporters to land and stay with the marines and in his notebook he captured the daily and nightly terrors faced by American forces in one of World War II s most legendary battles and it served as the premise for his bestselling book Guadalcanal Diary One of the most distinguished combat reporters to cover World War II Tregaskis later reported on Cold War conflicts in Korea and Vietnam In 1964 the Overseas Press Club recognized his first person reporting under hazardous circumstances by awarding him its George Polk Award for his book Vietnam Diary Boomhower s riveting book is the first to tell Tregaskis s gripping life story concentrating on his intrepid reporting experiences during World War II and his fascination with war and its effect on the men who fought it

the fall of 1943 armed with only his notebooks and pencils Time and Life correspondent Robert L Sherrod leapt from the safety of a landing craft and waded through neck deep water and a hail of bullets to reach the shores of the Tarawa Atoll with the US Marine Corps Living shoulder to shoulder with the marines Sherrod chronicled combat and the marines day to day struggles as they leapfrogged across the Central Pacific battling the Japanese on Tarawa Saipan Iwo Jima and Okinawa While the marines courageously and doggedly confronted an enemy that at times seemed invincible those left behind on the American home front desperately scanned Sherrod s columns for news of their loved ones Following his death in 1994 the Washington Post heralded Sherrod s reporting as some of the most vivid accounts of men at war ever produced by an American journalist Now for the first time author Ray E Boomhower tells the story of the journalist in Dispatches from the Pacific The World War II Reporting of Robert L Sherrod an intimate account of the war efforts on the Pacific front Across the Lines ,2022-05-16 This third volume of ASNEL Papers covers a wide range of theoretical and thematic approaches to the subject of intertextuality Intertextual relations between oral and written versions of literature text and performance as well as problems emerging from media transitions regionally instructed forms of intertextuality and the works of individual authors are equally dealt with Intertextuality as both a creative and a critical practice frequently exposes the essential arbitrariness of literary and cultural manifestations that have become canonized The transformation and transfer of meanings which accompanies any crossing between texts rests not least on the nature of the artistic corpus embodied in the general framework of historically and socially determined cultural traditions Traditions however result from selective forms of perception they are as much inventions as they are based on exclusion Intertextuality leads to a constant reinforcement of tradition while at the same time intertextual relations between the new literatures and other English language literatures are all too obvious Despite the inevitable impact of tradition the new literatures tend to employ a dynamic reading of culture which fosters social process and transition thus promoting transcultural rather than intercultural modes of communication Writing and reading across borders becomes a dialogue which reveals both differences and similarities More than a decolonizing form of deconstruction intertextuality is a strategy for communicating meaning across cultural boundaries

Atomic Fragments Mary Palevsky,2000-06-29 More than most of us Mary Palevsky needed to come to terms with the moral complexities of the atomic bomb Her parents worked on its development during World War II and were profoundly changed by that experience After they died unanswered questions sent their daughter on a search for understanding This compelling sometimes heart wrenching chronicle is the story of that quest It takes her and us on a journey into the minds memories and emotions of the bomb builders Scientists Hans Bethe Edward Teller Joseph Rotblat Herbert York Philip Morrison and Robert Wilson and philosopher David Hawkins responded to Palevsky s personal approach in a way that dramatically expands their previously published statements Her skill and passion as an interlocutor prompt these men to recall their lives vividly and to reexamine their own decisions debating within themselves the complex issues raised by the bomb The author herself seeking to comprehend the widely differing ways in which individual scientists made choices about the bomb and made sense of their work deeply reconsiders those questions of commitment and conscience her parents faced In personal vignettes that complement the interviews she captures other remembrances of the bomb through commemorative events and chance encounters with people who were there Her concluding chapter reframes the crucial moral questions in terms that show the questions themselves to be the abiding legacy we all share This beautifully written book bridges generations to make its readers participants in the ongoing dialogue about science and philosophy war and peace
