am a widow she said It is another fact that I am going to be married again There she paused and smiled at some thought that occurred to her Doctor Wybrow was not favourably impressed by her smile there was something at once sad and cruel in it It came slowly and it went away suddenly He began to doubt whether he had been wise in acting on his first impression His mind reverted to the commonplace patients and the discoverable maladies that were waiting for him with a certain tender regret The lady went on My approaching marriage she said has one embarrassing circumstance connected with it The gentleman whose wife I am to be was engaged to another lady when he happened to meet with me abroad that lady mind being of his own blood and family related to him as his cousin I have innocently robbed her of her lover and destroyed her prospects in life Innocently I say because he told me nothing of his engagement until after I had accepted him When we next met in England and when there was danger no doubt of the affair coming to my knowledge he told me the truth I was naturally indignant He had his excuse ready he showed me a letter from the lady herself releasing him from his engagement A more noble a more high minded letter I never read in my life I cried over it I who have no tears in me for sorrows of my own If the letter had left him any hope of being forgiven I would have positively refused to marry him But the firmness of it without anger without a word of reproach with heartfelt wishes even for his happiness the firmness of it I say left him no hope He appealed to my compassion he appealed to his love for me You know what women are I too was soft hearted I said Very well yes In a week more I tremble as I think of it we are to be married She did really tremble she was obliged to pause and compose herself before she could go on The Doctor waiting for more facts began to fear that he stood committed to a long story Forgive me for reminding you that I have suffering persons waiting to see me he said The sooner you can come to the point the better for my patients and for me The strange smile at once so sad and so cruel showed itself again on the lady's lips Every word I have said is to the point she answered You will see it yourself in a moment more She resumed her narrative
