The recent increase in oil prices has had a profound impact on the international economy. Never before except in major wars has such a rapid change occurred in the structure of world trade and payments. In the aggregate, the conditions obliging these nations to pay their debts—the OPEC current-account deficit—will also allow the payment to be made. On a per-country basis, the prospective accumulations of oil debt will not exceed proportions of exports and gross national product (GNP) that have frequently been experienced in the past without undermining the economic vitality of the capital-im-
