The Origins Of The Lms In South Wales:

Lms in South Wales Gwyn Briwnant-Jones, Denis Dunstone, 1998-12-01 The World's First Railway System Mark Casson, 2009-09-10 This is the first history of the British railway system written from a modern economic perspective It uses counterfactual analysis to construct an alternative network to represent the most efficient alternative rail network that could have been constructed given what was known at the time the first time this has been done The Merthyr, Tredegar & Abergavenny Railway Chris Barber, 2017-11-15 To commemorate the sixtieth anniversary of its closure Chris Barber offers a fascinating insight into the history behind this picturesque railway line David Griffiths and the Missionary "History of Madagascar" Gwyn Campbell, 2012-04-03 This book reveals the hitherto hidden history of inter missionary dispute that split the first LMS mission to Madagascar Focussing on David Griffiths whose pivotal role was concealed by the LMS it suggests that Welsh English rivalry moulded the mission's destiny The Origins of an Experimental Society Erik Olssen, 2025-04-10 In this major work one of our leading historians offers a new account of the origins of New Zealand how Pakeha settlers a Better Britain While both experiments were first conceived by savants and philosophers they gained ongoing support by lodging in the hearts and minds of the settlers whalers and missionaries mothers and farmers In turn Maori adapted these new ideas to their own ends giving up slavery and inter tribal warfare and adapting the institutions of the colonisers in ways that would re define the experiments This then is an ethnography of tangata Pakeha a people of European descent changed by their encounters with tangata Maori and their land just as Maori were themselves changed and the story of the society they built together Ranging across intellectual and cultural history from the beach at Paihia to the coffee houses of Paris Olssen enables us to understand the origins of New Zealand anew Colonization and the Origins of Humanitarian Governance Alan Lester, Fae Dussart, 2014-04-17 How did those responsible for creating Britain's nineteenth century settler empire render colonization compatible with humanitarianism Avoiding a cynical or celebratory response this book takes seriously the humane disposition of colonial officials examining the relationship between humanitarian governance and empire The story of humane colonial governance connects projects of emancipation amelioration conciliation protection and development in sites ranging from British Honduras through Van Diemen's Land and New South Wales New Zealand and Canada to India It is seen in the lives of governors like George Arthur and George Grey whose careers saw the violent and destructive colonization of indigenous peoples at the hands of British emigrants The story challenges the exclusion of officials humanitarian sensibilities from colonial history and places the settler colonies within the larger historical context of Western humanitarianism To Live Among the Stars John Garrett, 1982 Representing the South Pacific Rod Edmond, 1997-11-20 This book examines how the South Pacific was represented by explorers missionaries travellers writers and artists between 1767 and 1914 by drawing on history literature art history and anthropology Edmond engages with colonial texts and postcolonial theory criticising both for their failure to acknowledge the historical specificity of colonial discourses and cultural encounters and for continuing to see indigenous cultures in essentially passive or reactive terms The book offers a detailed and grounded reading back of these colonial discourses into the metropolitan centres which gave rise to them while resisting the idea that all representations of other cultures are merely self representations Among its themes are the persistent myth making around the figure of Cook the western obsession with Polynesian sexuality tattooing cannibalism and leprosy and the Pacific as a theatre for adventure and as a setting for Europe s displaced fears of its own cultural extinction

History of Congregationalism in Cardiff and District John Williamson, 1920 A Bibliography of British History, 1914-1989 Keith Robbins, American Historical Association, Royal Historical Society (Great Britain), 1996
