The 2003 Federal Budget Conflicting Tensions:

Health Services Restructuring in Canada Charles M. Beach, Richard Chaykowski, Shortt, 2007-01-18 The recent Chaoulli Supreme Court decision and health care proposals by Quebec and Alberta have led to renewed debate on how best to restructure the Canadian health care system This volume offers a timely analysis of access and wait times alternative modes of health care delivery and funding methods from the perspective of evidence based policy making Choice of Force David Last, Bernd Horn, 2005-05-01 Twenty years from now security issues may dictate that counter terrorism is more important than operations to secure stability and rule of law Security at the border ethnic demography and the perspective of the next generation will determine what strategic choices Canada will make about special military operations and the elite forces developed to carry out special missions The 2003 Federal Budget John Deutsch Institute for the Study of Economic Policy, 2004 The 2003 Federal Budget was the first for a new Minister of Finance who was running for higher office and likely the last of an outgoing long time Prime Minister It thus represents the outcome of many conflicting tensions within a context of a rapidly changing political economic and international environment The papers in this volume arising from an April 2003 conference on the Budget examine the political context and economic context informing the Budget and quantitatively evaluate the impact of the overall Budget package on the Canadian economy the different economic regions and the fiscal health of public accounts On the one hand are political pressures for long term legacy commitments while on the other is the fiscal reality of a slowdown in growth of the Canadian economy and the immediacy of public resources to be devoted to health and to post 9 11 security concerns Specific attention is devoted to fiscal aspects of Kyoto health and social policy and tax changes from the current and longer run perspective The volume also looks at recent changes in budgetary accounting practices brought in with this Budget full accrual accounting and changes in transparency in recent years budgets

Thinking Outside the Box Keith G. Banting, Richard P. Chaykowski, Steven F. Lehrer, 2015-11-30 Building on the work presented in Styran and Taylor's This Great National Object which told the story of the first three Welland canals built in the nineteenth century This Colossal Project chronicles an impressive milestone in the history of Canadian technological achievement and nation building Canadian Fiscal Arrangements Harvey Lazar, 2005-08-18 The key issues in fiscal federalism will be debated once again when the federal government the provinces and the territories return to the negotiating table Ottawa has appointed an expert panel on equalization and territorial formula financing and the provinces and territories have established an advisory panel on fiscal imbalance Both will report in the first half of 2006 after which the negotiating pace will accelerate In a timely collection contributors from the government and academia tackle these fiscal policy issues from a broad spectrum of perspectives Governance, Development and Conflict Manas Chatterji, Darvesh Gopal, Savita Singh, 2011-08-17 A considerable amount of work has been conducted in the field of peace studies conflict management peace science in economics sociology anthropology and management This title presents research with an emphasis on theoretical and mathematical constructs in the area of peace economics peace science      The 2006 Federal Budget Charles M. Beach, Thomas A. Wilson, Michael Smart, 2007 The 2006 federal budget was the first for a new Conservative minority government led by a prime minister from the west As a platform for implementing distinctive election promises the 2006 budget offered ample opportunity for rethinking fiscal priorities in Canada such as cutting the GST addressing fiscal imbalance with the provinces and finding a different approach to childcare and child benefits The papers in this volume examine the political and economic context informing the 2006 budget as well as lessons from recent U S tax policy debates and a quantitative evaluation of the impact of the overall budget package on the Canadian economy Special attention is devoted to alternative federal tax structures fiscal imbalance and the recent federal Blue Ribbon report Contributors also look at the new federal policy on childcare and child benefits how the budget relates to productivity and competitiveness and general sustainability of the new fiscal plan      Defense Spending, Natural Resources, and Conflict Christos Kollias, Hamid E. Ali, 2017-10-02 This book is an intellectual contribution of policy scientists and researchers from different academic institutions in different parts of the world The Arab Spring the rise of ISIS and terrorism ignite the debate on studying conflict and natural resources Uniquely the book discusses the sources of the conflicts and the institutions that are managing the conflicts The natural resources defense spending conflict and human welfare are intertwined In support of the resource curse hypothesis the book shows that an abundance of natural resources particularly oil encourages an increase in military spending and lower economic growth In addition the good economic and political institutions do reduce the hazard of conflict and strong political institutions for checks and balances appear to weaken the impact of natural resources on conflicts The book also examines the relationship between defense and social welfare expenditures specifically health and education Shedding light on the complicated nature of the relationship between defense spending inequality and types of political and welfare regimes gives us a deeper understanding of the type of democratic systems that will likely improve social welfare In studying the political economy of defense spending the book shows the link between public opinion toward defense spending and voters support for candidates The analysis shows that party identification or having a vested interest in defense industries do correlate with a preference for increasing defense spending This book was published as a special issue of Defence and Peace Economics      Armed Conflict Survey 2017 The International Institute for Strategic Studies (IISS), 2023-05-31 The Armed Conflict Survey provides in depth analysis of the political military and humanitarian dimensions of all major armed conflicts as well as data on fatalities refugees and internally displaced persons Compiled by the IISS publisher of The Military Balance it is the standard reference work on contemporary conflict The book assesses key developments in 36 conflicts including those in Iraq Syria Afghanistan South Sudan Israel Palestine Southern Thailand Colombia and Ukraine The Armed Conflict Survey also features chapters on UN peacekeeping sexual violence the Islamic State s shifting narrative governance by armed groups and rebel to party transitions      Departments of Transportation,

Conflict and Peacebuilding in Sri Lanka Jonathan Goodhand, Benedikt Korf, Jonathan Spencer, 2010-12-14 The period between 2001 and 2006 saw the rise and fall of an internationally supported effort to bring a protracted violent conflict in Sri Lanka to a peaceful resolution A ceasefire agreement signed in February 2002 was followed by six rounds of peace talks but growing political violence disagreements over core issues and a fragmentation of the constituencies of the key parties led to an eventual breakdown In the wake of the failed peace process a new government pursued a highly effective war for peace leading to the military defeat of the LTTE on the battlefields of the north east in May 2009 This book brings together a unique range of perspectives on this problematic and ultimately unsuccessful peace process The contributions are based upon extensive field research and written by leading Sri Lankan and international researchers and practitioners The framework of liberal peacebuilding provides an analytical starting point for exploring the complex and unpredictable interactions between international and domestic players during the war peace war period The lessons drawn from the Sri Lankan case have important implications in the context of wider debates on the liberal peace and post conflict peacebuilding particularly as these debates have largely been shaped by the high profile cases such as Kosovo Afghanistan and Iraq This book is of interest not only to Sri Lanka specialists but also to the wider policy practitioner audience and is a useful contribution to South Asian studies

State Control over Private Military and Security Companies in Armed Conflict Hannah Tonkin, 2011-08-11 The past two decades have witnessed the rapid proliferation of private military and security companies PMSCs in armed conflicts around the world with PMSCs participating in for example offensive combat prisoner interrogation and the provision of advice and training The extensive outsourcing of military and security activities has challenged conventional conceptions of the state as the primary holder of coercive power and raised concerns about the reduction in state control over the use of violence Hannah Tonkin critically analyses the international obligations on three key states the hiring state the home state and the host state of a PMSC and identifies the circumstances in which PMSC misconduct may give rise to state responsibility This analysis will facilitate the assessment of state responsibility in cases of PMSC misconduct and set standards to guide states in developing their domestic laws and policies on private security

Encyclopedia of Violence, Peace, and Conflict ,2008-09-05 The 2nd edition of Encyclopedia of Violence Peace and Conflict provides timely and useful information about antagonism and reconciliation in all contexts of public and personal life Building on the highly regarded 1st edition 1999 and publishing at a time of seemingly inexorably increasing conflict and violent behaviour the world over the Encyclopedia is an essential reference for students and scholars working in the field of peace and conflict resolution studies and for those seeking to explore alternatives to violence and share visions and strategies for social justice and social change Covering topics as diverse as Arms Control Peace Movements Child Abuse Folklore Terrorism and Political Assassinations the Encyclopedia comprehensively addresses an extensive information area in 225 multi disciplinary cross referenced and authoritatively authored articles In his Preface to the 1st edition Editor in Chief Lester Kurtz wrote The problem of violence poses such a monumental challenge at the end of the 20th century that it is surprising we have addressed it so inadequately We have not made much progress in learning how to cooperate with one another more effectively or how to conduct our conflicts more peacefully Instead we have increased the lethality of our combat through revolutions in weapons technology and military training The Encyclopedia of Violence Peace and Conflict is designed to help us to take stock of our knowledge concerning these crucial phenomena Ten years on the need for an authoritative and cross disciplinary approach to the great issues of violence and peace seems greater than ever More than 200 authoritative multidisciplinary articles in a 3 volume set Many brand new articles alongside revised and updated content from the First Edition Article outline and glossary of key terms at the beginning of each article Entries arranged alphabetically for easy access Articles written by more than 200 eminent contributors from around the world

Corruption and Post-Conflict Peacebuilding Dominik Zaum,Christine Cheng,2012-02-20 This edited volume explores and evaluates the roles of corruption in post conflict peacebuilding The problem of corruption has become increasingly important in war to peace transitions eroding confidence in new democratic institutions undermining economic development diverting scarce public resources and reducing the delivery of vital social services Conflict affected countries offer an ideal environment for pervasive corruption Their weak administrative institutions and fragile legal and judicial systems mean that they lack the capacity to effectively investigate and punish corrupt behaviour

In addition the sudden inflow of donor aid into post conflict countries and the desire of peacebuilding actors including the UN the international financial institutions aid agencies and non governmental organisations to disburse these funds quickly create incentives and opportunities for corruption While corruption imposes costs and compromises on peacebuilding efforts opportunities for exploiting public office can also be used to entice armed groups into signing peace agreements thus stabilising post war environments This book explores the different functions of corruption both conceptually and through the lens of a wide range of case studies It also examines the impact of key anti corruption policies on peacebuilding environments The dynamics that shape the relationship between corruption and the political and economic developments in post conflict countries are complex This analysis highlights that fighting corruption is only one of several important peacebuilding objectives and that due consideration must be given to the specific social and political context in considering how a sustainable peace can be achieved This book will be of great interest to students of peacekeeping and peacebuilding criminology political economy war and conflict studies international security and IR

International Conflict in the Asia-Pacific Jacob Bercovitch, Mikio Oishi, 2010-06-23 This book analyses four major long standing and intractable conflicts in the Asia Pacific region the Korean Peninsula the Taiwan Strait the South China Sea Spratly Islands and India Pakistan and aims to identify the mechanisms used to manage these conflicts International Conflict in the Asia Pacific brings together in one volume four major international conflicts that have shaped the region and studies how they evolved and how best to manage them The book seeks to find a pattern common to the four conflicts and their management as well as taking note of variations among them hereby aiming to establish what might be called the Asia Pacific way of managing intractable conflicts This book will be of much interest to students of international conflict management Asian politics security studies and IR in general Jacob Bercovitch is Professor of International Relations in the Political Science Department at the University of Canterbury in New Zealand Widely regarded as one of the most influential scholars in the field of international conflict resolution he is author of more than 15 books and numerous articles Mikio Oishi is a Visiting Fellow with the National Centre for Peace and Conflict Studies NCPACS University of Otago and a Research Fellow with Political Science Programme of University of Canterbury

Security and Hybridity after Armed Conflict Rens C. Willems, 2015-04-17 This book examines the dynamics of security provision in international interventions in post conflict states It focuses on how international security interventions such as Disarmament Demobilisation and Reintegration DDR programmes Security Sector Reform SSR and Armed Violence Reduction AVR play out in the post civil war context in which they are implemented The underlying assumptions of such interventions are that the state is the best placed to organise violence that the ideal state has to function as an organisation with the legitimate monopoly on the use of violence and that the primary task of the state is the provision of security Post civil war contexts however are characterised by hybridity in which various authority structures are overlapping cooperating and competing The interactions between different security actors both state and non state create struggles in society about whose security interests are promoted which actions to provide security are considered legitimate and about who is considered a legitimate security actor This book investigates the interactions between international actors organising and supporting security interventions and the local security dynamics created by the interactions between both state and non state actors involved in security It draws on extensive field research in Eastern Democratic Republic of Congo Burundi and South Sudan This book will be of much interest to students of statebuilding peacebuilding peace and conflict studies security studies and IR

The Arab-Israeli Conflict in the Media Tamar Ashuri, 2010-10-30 The television industry has metamorphosed from a national and largely monopolized sector to a commercial and global enterprise This has profoundly altered the way historical truth and shared memory are constructed and conveyed Here Ashuri provides a groundbreaking study of the changes through the vantage point of an illuminating mode of television production international co productions By taking an example based on current events in the Middle East a television documentary on the Arab Israeli conflict co produced by three television networks BBC PBS MBC her study enriches contemporary media research providing an unprecedented behind the scenes look at the entire production process of a co produced television history She shows that making the documentary on the Arab Israeli struggle turned into a war a war over competing memories interpretation editing and finally narration Ashuri s analysis of transnational documentary collaborations reveals inherent tensions between economic constraints and cultural forces between the local and global and between shared and cosmopolitan memory Enriching political economy studies of media by exploring the cultural negotiations at the heart of television production process and highlighting the economic processes that underlie the contested constructions of national histories The Arab Israeli Conflict in the Media will be essential reading for those interested in media and television studies as well as globalization and cultural identity
