Lamia, 2022-04-05 The loss of a loved one can be overwhelming. How do we endure grief? Can we simply forget or get over it? This book explains the science behind bereavement from emotion to the persistence of memory and shows readers how to understand and adapt to death as a part of life. Responses to loss are typically associated with negative emotions: traumatic memories or separation distress, but we grieve because we care. This book demonstrates how negative emotional responses experienced in grief often follow experiences with positive emotional memories. Dr. Lamia emphasizes an understanding and acceptance of post-loss emotions. Grief Isn't Something to Get Over aims to expand our understanding of bereavement, placing it in alignment with how emotions work. Using numerous case examples and personal vignettes, this book helps readers recognize the ways in which emotions are connected to memories and influence our experiences of loss. The Big

Top on the Big Screen Teresa Cutler-Broyles, 2020-01-10 Circuses and film are a natural pairing and the new essays making up this volume begin the exploration of how these two forms of entertainment have often worked together to create a spectacle of onscreen alchemy. The films discussed herein are an eclectic group ranging from early silent comedies to animated 21st century examples in which circuses serve as liminal or carnivalesque spaces wherein characters and by extension audience members can confront issues as far reaching as labor relations, sensuality, identity, ethics, and more. The circus, as discussed in these essays, encompasses the big top, the midway, the sideshow, and the freak show; it becomes backdrop, character, catalyst, and setting, and it is welcoming, malicious, or terrifying. Circus performers are family, friends, foe, or all of the above. And film is the medium that brings it all together. This volume starts the conversation about how circuses and film can combine to form productive, exciting spaces where almost anything can happen. Hopscotch and Queenie-i-o

But kids being kids found endless ways to have fun. Do you remember Dith Lacha, Radio Caroline, and holidays in Butlin's Mosney? Then this is the book for you. Damian Corless takes us on a tongue-in-cheek trip down memory lane to the age of Let's Draw With Blith, instant mashed potato, and Yellow Submarine. Set against a backdrop of the space race and the miniskirt, this is a delightful celebration of the days we thought would never end and some we're glad are gone forever. Dark City Charles Bernstein, 1994
