Douglas Robert Hamilton Coats, 2015-06-26 Excerpt from The Makers of Canada Sir James Douglas British Columbia as we know it to day has had an organic existence only since the year 1859 or at the earliest if we include the colony of Vancouver Island since 1849 Its history therefore as Crown colony and province of the Dominion of Canada is contemporary with the lives of many still living In a previous era however the region had bulked large in the annals of the fur trade and in a period still more remote it was a part of the romantic story of the conquest of the Pacific If therefore we would penetrate beyond results to ultimate causes to see the community in its making and the material which the most active of its makers found to his hand as well as the development which sprang from that beginning we should find that the inquiry notwithstanding the remoteness of the region from the political life of the continent with which we are most familiar and the recent date at which its organization was effected leads far into the past We must begin indeed if we would trace the stream of western history to its source with a time almost coeval with the earliest European knowledge of America and but little subsequent to the landing of Columbus on its eastern shores About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Sir James Douglas and British Columbia
