Skara Brae D. V. Clarke, Patrick Maguire, C. J. Tabraham, 2000-01-01 Skara Brae D. V. Clarke, Patrick Maguire, Historic Scotland, 1996 Skara Brae D. V. Clarke, DAVID. HISTORIC SCOTLAND. CLARKE, 2020-03-19 The Neolithic village known as Skara Brae was continuously occupied for about 300 to 400 years before being abandoned around 2500 BC Despite severe coastal erosion eight houses and a workshop have survived largely intact with their stone furniture still in place This is the best preserved settlement of its period in northern Europe and thousands of artefacts were discovered during excavations of the site Who lived here How did they live And why did they ultimately abandon the village In this lively account Dr David Clarke who led major excavations at Orkney's Skara Brae describes the details of the site and explores some of the enigmas posed by this extraordinary survival Northern Europe Trudy Ring, Noelle Watson, Paul Schellinger, 2013-10-28 First published in 1996 Volume 2 of the International Dictionary of Historical Places covers Northern Europe British Isles to Russia out of a set of five The dictionary spans from Aachen to Ypres and includes an index by country This five volume set presents some 1 000 comprehensive and fully illustrated histories of the most famous sites in the world Entries include location description and site details and a 3 000 to 4 000 word essay that provides a full history of the site and its condition today An annotated further reading list of books and articles about the site completes each entry Shadowlands: A Journey Through Britain's Lost Cities and Vanished Villages Matthew Green, 2022-07-19 Beguiling Elizabeth Lowry Wall Street Journal A brilliant London historian BBC Radio tells the story of Britain as never before through its abandoned villages and towns Drowned Buried by sand Decimated by plague Plunged off a cliff This is the extraordinary tale of Britain's eerie and remarkable ghost towns and villages shadowlands that once hummed with life Peering through the cracks of history we find Dunwich a medieval city plunged off a cliff by sea storms the abandoned village of Wharram Percy wiped out by the Black Death the lost city of Trellech unearthed by moles in 2002 and a Norfolk village zombified by the military and turned into a Nazi Soviet and Afghan village for training Matthew Green a British historian and broadcaster tells the astonishing tales of the rise and demise of these places animating the people who lived worked dreamed and died there Traveling across Britain to explore their haunting and often beautiful remains Green transports the reader to these lost towns and cities as they teeter on the brink of oblivion vividly capturing the sounds of the sea clawing away row upon row of houses the taste of medieval wine or the sights of puffin hunting on the tallest cliffs in the country We experience them in their prime look on at their destruction and revisit their lingering remains as they are mourned by evictees and reimagined by artists writers and mavericks A stunning and original excavation of Britain's untold history Shadowlands gives us a truer sense of the progress and ravages of time in a moment when many of our own settlements are threatened as never before Plants in Neolithic Britain and Beyond Andrew S. Fairbairn, 2000-12-01 Plant centred issues are fundamental in the definitions and explanations of the Neolithic as a phenomenon The meeting of the Neolithic Studies Group from which this volume developed aimed to provide a forum for the wide range of approaches now applied to Neolithic archaeobotany at site and landscape scales of resolution

The Greenwood Encyclopedia of Homes through World History James M. Steele, 2009-03-30 The house throughout history in every place in the world has been built to provide shelter from the elements The dwellings that have resulted are as different as the people that have built them the social norms that prevailed at the time and place in which they were built and the natural environment that they adapted to Studying them now in a comprehensive way allows us to understand the social political economic and religious conditions that existed for their inhabitants They are a three dimensional record of culture Twenty four pages of color images along with black and white images through three volumes illustrate the homes of people throughout the world The volumes cover ancient times to the late Middle Ages the Renaissance to the Industrial Revolution and the Post Industrial Revolution to the Present

The Mystery of Doggerland Graham Phillips, 2023-07-25 A scientific exploration of the advanced ancient civilization known as Doggerland or Fairland that disappeared 5 000 years ago Looks at the latest archaeological and scientific evidence preserved beneath the North Sea and on the tiny island of Fair Isle Examines Doggerland s sophisticated technology including how its people were able to melt solid rock to create vitrified structures far stronger than concrete Shows how the survivors of the destruction of Doggerland sailed to the British Isles and established the megalithic culture that built Stonehenge New marine archaeological evidence has revealed the remains of a large landmass to the north of Britain that hosted an advanced civilization 1 000 years before the recognized first civilizations of ancient Egypt Mesopotamia or India Remembered in Celtic legends as Tu lay and referred to by geologists as Doggerland or Fairland this civilization began at least as early as 4000 BCE but was ultimately destroyed by rising sea levels huge tsunamis and a terrible viral epidemic released from melting permafrost during a cataclysmic period of global warming Exploring the latest archaeological findings and recent scientific analysis of Doggerland s underwater remains Graham Phillips shows that this ancient culture had sophisticated technology and advanced medical knowledge He looks at evidence detected with remote sensing and seismic profiling of many artificial structures complex settlements gigantic earthworks epic monoliths and huge stone circles dated to more than 5 500 years ago preserved beneath the ground and on the ocean floor He also looks at the small part of the Fairland landmass that still exists Fair Isle a tiny island some 45 miles north of the Orkney Islands of Scotland Phillips shows how when Fairland sank beneath the waves around 3100 BCE its last survivors traveled by boat to settle in the British Isles where they established the megalithic culture that built Stonehenge Revealing the vast archaeological evidence in support of the existence of Doggerland as well as its threads of influence in early cultures around the world Phillips also shows how the fate of this sophisticated ancient culture is a warning from history the cataclysmic events that happened to the first civilizations could happen again as the world heats up

The Development of Neolithic House Societies in Orkney Colin Richards, Richard Jones, 2016-04-30 Considering that Orkney is a group of relatively small islands lying off the northeast coast of the Scottish mainland its wealth of Neolithic archaeology is truly extraordinary. An assortment of houses, chambered cairns, stone circles, standing stones, and passage graves provides an unusually comprehensive range of archaeological and architectural contexts. Yet in the early 1990s there was a noticeable imbalance between 4th and 3rd millennium cal BC evidence, with house structures and villages being well represented in the latter but minimally in the former. As elsewhere in the British Isles, the archaeological visibility of the 4th millennium cal BC in Orkney tends to be dominated by the monumental presence of chambered cairns or tombs. In the 1970s Claude Lévi-Strauss conceived of a form of social organization based upon the house, sociétés matriarcales, in order to provide a classification for social groups that appeared not to conform to established anthropological kinship structures. In this approach the anchor point is the house, understood as a conceptual resource that is a consequence of a strategy of constructing and legitimizing identities under ever-shifting social conditions. Drawing on the results of an extensive program of fieldwork in the Bay of Firth, Mainland Orkney, the text explores the idea that the physical appearance of the house is a potent resource for materializing the dichotomous alliance and descent principles apparent in the archaeological evidence for the early and later Neolithic of Orkney. It argues that some of the insights made by Lévi-Strauss in his basic formulation of sociétés matriarcales are extremely relevant to interpreting the archaeological evidence and providing the parameters for a social narrative of the material changes occurring in Orkney between the 4th and 2nd millennia cal BC. The major excavations undertaken during the Cuween Wideford Landscape Project provided an unprecedented depth and variety of evidence for Neolithic occupation, bridging the gap between domestic and ceremonial architecture and form, exploring the transition from wood to stone and relationships between the living and the dead, and the role of material culture. The results are described and discussed in detail here, enabling tracing of the development and fragmentation of sociétés matriarcales over a 1500-year period of Northern Isles prehistory.

Researching the Archaeological Past through Imagined Narratives Daniël van Helden, Robert Witcher, 2019-11-26

Archaeological interpretation is an imaginative act. Stratigraphy and artefacts do not tell us what the past was like; that is the task of the archaeologist. The diverse group of contributors to this volume address the relationship between archaeology and imagination through the medium of historical fiction and fictive techniques, both as consumers and as producers. The fictionalisation of archaeological research is often used to disseminate the results of scholarly or commercial archaeology projects for wider public outreach. Here instead the authors focus on the question of what benefits fiction and fictive techniques as inspiration and method can bring to the practice of archaeology itself. The contributors, a mix of archaeologists, novelists, and other artists, advance a variety of theoretical arguments and examples to advance the case for the value of a reflexive engagement between archaeology and fiction. Themes include the similarities and differences in the motives and methods of archaeologists and novelists, translation, empathy, and the need to humanise the past and diversify archaeological narratives. The authors are sensitive to the epistemological and ethical issues surrounding the influence of fiction on researchers and the incorporation of fictive techniques in their work. Sometimes dismissed as distracting, just so stories or even as dangerously relativistic narratives the use of fictive techniques has a long history in archaeological research and examples from the scholarly literature on many varied periods and regions are considered The volume sets out to bring together examples of these disparate applications and to focus attention on the need for explicit recognition of the problems and possibilities of such approaches and on the value of further research about them Stone Age Farmers Beside the Sea Caroline Arnold,1997 Describes the Stone Age settlement preserved in the sand dunes on one of Scotland s Orkney Islands telling how it was discovered and what it reveals about life in prehistoric times Lonely Planet Great Britain Lonely Planet,Neil Wilson,Oliver Berry,Fionn Davenport,Marc Di Duca,Belinda Dixon,Peter Dragicevich,Damian Harper,Catherine Le Nevez,Andy Symington,2017-05-01 Lonely Planet The world s leading travel guide publisher Lonely Planet Great Britain is your passport to the most relevant up to date advice on what to see and skip and what hidden discoveries await you Ponder the mysteries of Stonehenge explore the many sides of Edinburgh or try new versions of British pub favourites at a gastropub all with your trusted travel companion Get to the heart of Great Britain and begin your journey now Inside Lonely Planet s Great Britain Travel Guide Full colour maps and images throughout Highlights and itineraries help you tailor your trip to your personal needs and interests Insider tips to save time and money and get around like a local avoiding crowds and trouble spots Essential info at your fingertips hours of operation phone numbers websites transit tips prices Honest reviews for all budgets eating sleeping sight seeing going out shopping hidden gems that most guidebooks miss Cultural insights give you a richer more rewarding travel experience history architecture landscape wildlife literature cinema television music painting sculpture theatre sports cuisine politics Covers London Canterbury Cambridge Oxford Birmingham Yorkshire Newcastle The Lake District Cardiff Snowdonia Glasgow Argyll Inverness Stirling and more eBook Features Best viewed on tablet devices and smartphones Downloadable PDF and offline maps prevent roaming and data charges Effortlessly navigate and jump between maps and reviews Add notes to personalise your guidebook experience Seamlessly flip between pages Bookmarks and speedy search capabilities get you to key pages in a flash Embedded links to recommendations websites Zoom in maps and images Inbuilt dictionary for quick referencing The Perfect Choice Lonely Planet Great Britain our most comprehensive guide to Great Britain is perfect for both exploring top sights and taking roads less travelled About Lonely Planet Lonely Planet is a leading travel media company and the world s number one travel guidebook brand providing both inspiring and trustworthy information for every kind of traveler since 1973 Over the past four decades we ve printed over 145 million guidebooks and grown a dedicated passionate global community of travelers You ll also find our content online and in mobile apps video 14 languages nine international magazines armchair and lifestyle books ebooks and more Important Notice The digital edition of this book may not contain all of the images found in the physical edition Revisiting Grooved Ware Mike Copper,Alasdair Whittle,Alison Sheridan,2024-01-18 Following its appearance arguably in Orkney in the 32nd century cal BC Grooved Ware soon became widespread across Britain and Ireland seemingly replacing earlier pottery styles and being deposited in contexts as varied as simple pits passage tombs ceremonial timber circles and henge monuments As a result Grooved Ware lies at the heart of many ongoing debates concerning social and economic developments at the end of the 4th and during the first half of the 3rd millennia cal BC Stemming from the 2022 Neolithic Studies Group autumn conference and following on from Cleal and MacSween s 1999 NSG volume on Grooved Ware this book presents a series of papers from researchers specializing in Grooved Ware pottery and the British and Irish Neolithic offering both regional and thematic perspectives on this important ceramic tradition Chapters cover the development of Grooved Ware in Orkney as well as the timing and nature of its appearance development and subsequent demise in different regions of Britain and Ireland In addition thematic papers consider what Grooved Ware can contribute to understandings of inter regional interactions during the earlier 3rd millennium cal BC the possible meaning of Grooved Ware s decorative motifs and the thorny issue of the validity and significance of the various Grooved Ware sub styles The book will be of great value not only to archaeologists and students with a specific interest in Grooved Ware pottery but also to those with a more general interest in the development of the Neolithic of Britain and Ireland
