From Web to Workplace Kaj Grøn bæk, Randall H. Trigg, 1999 Kaj Grøn bæk and Randall H Trigg present a set of principles for the design of open hypermedia systems and provide concrete implications of these principles for issues ranging from data structures to architectures and system integration and for settings as diverse as the World Wide Web and the workplace In this book Kaj Grøn bæk and Randall H Trigg present a set of principles for the design of open hypermedia systems and provide concrete implications of these principles for issues ranging from data structures to architectures and system integration and for settings as diverse as the World Wide Web and the workplace The principles which cover both hypermedia system processing and data structures reflect results from decades of hypermedia research including the popular Dexter hypertext reference model and the authors own extended object oriented version of the Dexter model One important principle is the notion of links as first class objects outside the data Emerging systems such as HyperWave Microcosm and Devise Hypermedia apply this principle to extend the capabilities of the Web The authors also discuss the management of incomplete and dangling links time based media including video and sound support for collaboration and shared hypermedia structures worldwide distribution and integration of third party applications in open hypermedia systems Crypto Anarchy, Cyberstates, and Pirate Utopias Peter Ludlow, 2001-05-25 A wide ranging collection of writings on emerging political structures in cyberspace In Crypto Anarchy Cyberstates and Pirate Utopias Peter Ludlow extends the approach he used so successfully in High Noon on the Electronic Frontier offering a collection of writings that reflects the eclectic nature of the online world as well as its tremendous energy and creativity This time the subject is the emergence of governance structures within online communities and the visions of political sovereignty shaping some of those communities Ludlow views virtual communities as laboratories for conducting experiments in the construction of new societies and governance structures While many online experiments will fail Ludlow argues that given the synergy of the online world new and superior governance structures may emerge Indeed utopian visions are not out of place provided that we understand the new utopias to be fleeting localized islands in the Net and not permanent institutions The book is organized in five sections The first section considers the sovereignty of the Internet The second section asks how widespread access to resources such as Pretty Good Privacy and anonymous remailers allows the possibility of Crypto Anarchy essentially carving out space for activities that lie outside the purview of nation states and other traditional powers The third section shows how the growth of e commerce is raising questions of legal jurisdiction and taxation for which the geographic boundaries of nation states are obsolete The fourth section looks at specific experimental governance structures evolved by online communities The fifth section considers utopian and anti utopian visions for cyberspace Contributors Richard Barbrook John Perry Barlow William E Baugh Jr David S Bennahum Hakim Bey David Brin Andy Cameron Dorothy E Denning Mark Dery Kevin Doyle Duncan Frissell Eric Hughes Karrie Jacobs David Johnson Peter Ludlow Timothy C May Jennifer L Mnookin Nathan Newman David G Post Jedediah S Purdy Charles J Stivale Building a Scholarly Communication Center Boyd Collins,1999-11 Building a Scholarly Communication Center is a unique guide based on the successful model for planning the scholarly communication center at Rutgers University The planning process at Rutgers is used as the springboard to identify issues potential problems and solutions in planning and development Technology-Enhanced Human Interaction in Modern Society Cipolla-Ficarra, Francisco Vicente,Ficarra, Maria Valeria,Cipolla-Ficarra, Miguel,Quiroga, Alejandra,Alma, Jacqueline,Carré, Jim,2017-09-30 Technology has changed the way people carry out their daily lives and communicate with one another Society has become dependent on technology and with that comes the need to understand the advantages and disadvantages that come along with it Technology Enhanced Human Interaction in Modern Society is an essential reference source for the latest scholarly research on the technological advances of applied aspects of life such as training health information gathering and social communication Featuring coverage on subjects including biomedical test instruments computer animation and mobile phones this publication is ideally designed for researchers and academicians seeking current material on technology based communication Contextual Media Edward Barrett,Marie Redmond,1997 On multimedia technology Cases on Usability Engineering: Design and Development of Digital Products Garcia-Ruiz, Miguel A.,2013-05-31 Information technologies play a significant role in modern information driven societies making a comprehensive understanding of digital media a fundamental requisite to success Cases on Usability Engineering Design and Development of Digital Products provides readers with case studies and real life examples on usability methods and techniques to test the design and development of digital products such as web pages video games and mobile computer applications Students lecturers and academics concentrating in computer science can use these cases to investigate how and why usability can improve the design of digital technology offering diverse technological solutions that many academics have largely failed to disseminate This book is part of the Advances in Human and Social Aspects of Technology series collection High Noon on the Electronic Frontier Peter Ludlow,1996 This collection of articles on cyberspace policy issues has been collated from print and electronic sources together with extracts from on line discussions of these issues The topics covered include privacy property rights hacking encryption censors The Digital Dialectic Peter Lunenfeld,2000 How our visual and intellectual cultures are changed by the new interaction based media and technologies Women, Work and Computerization Ellen Balka,Richard

Smith, 2013-11-11 ELLENBALK Simon Fraser University ebalka Sfu ca 1 INTRODUCTION In developing the call for papers for the 7th International Federation of Information Processors IFIP Women Work and Computerization Conference we sought to cast our net widely We wanted to encourage presenters to think broadly about women work and computerization Towards this end the programme committee developed a call for papers that in its final form requested paper submissions around four related themes These are 1 Setting the Course Taking Stock of Where We Are and Where We re Going 2 Charting Undiscovered Terrain Creating Models Tools and Theories 3 Navigating the Unknown Sex Time Space and Place and 4 Taking the Helm Education and Pedagogy Our overall conference theme Charting a Course to the Future was inspired in part by Vancouver s geography which is both coastal and mountainous As such navigation plays an important part in the lives of many as we seek to enjoy our environs In addition as the first Women Work and Computerization conference of the new millennium we hoped to encourage the broad community of scholars that has made past Women Work and Computerization conferences a success to actively engage in imagining and working towards a better future for women in relation to computers The contributions to this volume are both a reflection of the hard work undertaken by many to improve the situation of women in relation to computerization and a testament to how much work is yet to be done and success in our electronic global village increasingly depends on the complex interactions of culture communication and technology This book offers both theoretical approaches and case studies of these interactions from diverse cultural domains including Europe the Middle East Asia and the United States This global perspective helps to counteract the Anglo American presumptions that have dominated discussion and literature on computer mediated communication CMC technologies The contributors uncover and challenge the culture bound values and communicative preferences inherent in CMC technologies including values and preferences related to gender and also document non Western examples of implementing these technologies in ways that catalyze global communication while preserving and enhancing local cultures Taken together these essays articulate the interdisciplinary foundations and practical models necessary to design and use CMC technologies in ways that help us to avoid the choice between a global but culturally homogenous McWorld and fragmented local cultures
