

The series "Advances in Soft Computing" contains publications on various areas within so-called soft computing which include fuzzy sets, rough sets, neural networks, evolutionary computations, probabilistic and evidential reasoning, multi-valued logic, and related fields. The publications within "Advances in Soft Computing" are primarily textbooks and proceedings of important conferences, symposia and congresses. They cover significant recent developments in the field, both of a foundational and applicable character. An important characteristic feature of the series is the short publication time and world-wide distribution. This permits a rapid and broad dissemination of research results.

Soft Computing in Industrial Applications

Saad · Avineri · Dahal
Sarfriz · Roy (Eds.)

Soft Computing admits approximate reasoning, imprecisions, uncertainty and partial truth in order to mimic aspects of the remarkable human capability of making decisions in real life and ambiguous environments. "Soft Computing in Industrial Applications" contains a collection of papers that were presented at the 10th On-line World Conference on Soft Computing in Industrial Applications, held in September–October 2006. This carefully edited book provides a comprehensive overview of the recent advances in the industrial applications of soft computing and covers a wide range of application areas, including data analysis and data mining, computer graphics, intelligent control systems, pattern recognition, classifiers, as well as modeling optimization. The book is aimed at researchers and practitioners who are engaged in developing and applying intelligent systems principles to solving real-world problems. It is also suitable as reader material for science and engineering postgraduate students.
