Soft Tissue Sarcomas: New Developments in the Multidisciplinary Approach to Treatment H.M. Pinedo, J. Verweij, H.D. Suit, 2012-12-06 Where do you begin to look for a recent authoritative article on the diagnosis or management of a particular malignancy? The few general oncology textbooks are generally out of date. Single papers in specialized journals are informative but seldom comprehensive; these are more often preliminary reports on a very limited number of patients. Certain general journals frequently publish good in-depth reviews of cancer topics, and published symposium lectures are often the best overviews available. Unfortunately, these reviews and supplements appear sporadically, and the reader can never be sure when a topic of special interest will be covered. Cancer Treatment and Research is a series of authoritative volumes that aim to meet this need. It is an attempt to establish a critical mass of oncology literature covering virtually all oncology topics, which is revised frequently to keep the coverage up to date and which is easily available on a single library shelf or by a single personal subscription. We have approached the problem in the following fashion: first by dividing the oncology literature into specific subdivisions such as lung cancer genitourinary cancer pediatric oncology etc and second by asking eminent authorities in each of these areas to edit a volume on the specific topic on an annual or biannual basis Each topic and tumor type is covered in a volume appearing frequently and predictably discussing current diagnosis staging markers all forms of treatment modalities basic biology and more

Treatment of Soft Tissue Sarcomas H.M. Pinedo, J. Verweij, 2012-12-06 One of the major advances of the last decade concerning the treatment of patients with soft tissue sarcomas is that an increased number of patients are being discussed in multidisciplinary teams prior to the initial treatment The present volume on soft tissue sarcomas in the series Cancer Treatment and Research reflects the multidisciplinary approach with a focus on recent developments The availability of new histopathologic techniques has reduced the number of unclassified sarcomas and has further increased the importance of the histopathologist in providing estimates of the prognosis of the patient as well as data for the planning of treatment strategy Further data for this strategy will be provided by diagnostic imaging In this field the role of magnetic resonance imaging has been further defined Of utmost importance is the recent trend toward consensus in staging The modification of the staging system of the American Joint Commission for Cancer Staging and End Results Reporting brings the possibility of a single staging system within reach in the next decade As surgery still provides the only chance for cure the importance of being the most sparing as possible is obvious For this reason radiotherapy has been applied with success The introduction of relatively new radiation techniques is therefore being observed with interest
