Francophone Writing Susan Bainbrigge, 2009 Few full length studies exist in English on French speaking authors from Belgium What if any are the particular features of francophone Belgian writing This book explores questions of cultural and literary identity and offers an overview of currents in critical debate regarding the place of francophone Belgian writing and its relationship to its larger neighbour but also engages with broader questions concerning the classification of francophone literature The study brings together well known and less well known modern and contemporary writers Suzanne Lilar Neel Doff Dominique Rolin Jacqueline Harpman Fran oise Mallet Joris Jean Muno Nicole Malinconi and Am lie Nothomb whose works share a number of recurring themes and features notably a preoccupation with questions of identity and alterity Overall the study highlights the diverse ways in which these questions of cultural identity and alterity emerge as a dominant theme throughout the corpus viewed through a series of literary and cultural frameworks which bring together perspectives both local and global

Consuming Autobiographies Claire Boyle, 2017-12-02 Since 1975 French literary writing has been marked by an autobiographical turn which has seen authors increasingly often tap into the vein of what the French term écriture de soi This coincides paradoxically with the death of autobiography as these authors self consciously distance themselves and their writings from conventional autobiography founding a nouvelle autobiographie where the very possibility of autobiographical expression is questioned In the first book length study in English to address this phenomenon Claire Boyle sheds a new light on this hostility toward autobiography through a series of ground breaking studies of estrangement in autobiographical works by major post war authors Nathalie Sarraute Georges Perec Jean Genet and Helene Cixous She identifies autobiography as a site of conflict between writer and reader as authors struggle to assert the unknowableness of their identity in the face of a readership resolutely desiring privileged knowledge Autobiography emerges as a deeply troubling genre for authors with the reader as an antagonistic consumer of the autobiographical self

Queer Writing E. Stephens, 2009-07-16 Queer Writing provides the first full length study of homoeroticism in Jean Genet's fiction It shows how the theory of writing elaborated in his work provides a new way to understand homosexual literature not as the inscription of a stable sexual subjectivity but as the mobilization of a perverse dynamic within the text

The Resilient Female Body Women in French (Organization). Conference, 2007 The chapters in this book were first presented at the Women in French Biennial Conference held in Leeds in May 2004 The twelve essays explore the multifaceted commodification of the female body and provide insights into the mutations of French society and culture British and French scholars examine the paradoxes and contradictions embodied in various images and discourses related to health and illness from different perspectives ranging from sociological studies to analyses of working diaries children's medical encyclopaedias and literary texts The resilient female body as epitomised by the First World War nurse tends by the end of the twentieth century to be construed as the sanitised female body subjected to mind body dualities largely controlled by the medical professions Thus maternity and related issues such as birth and contraceptive technologies figure as major themes with contributors revealing unresolved ambivalences Other chapters focus on how women s economic activity can affect their individual health and potentially that of others A further prominent theme shows how for contemporary women writers serious illnesses such as cancer and madness in women can be seen as rich metaphors for the ills of a male dominated society Duras s alcoholism and Aragon s portrayals of prostitution are also discussed Cultural Studies Review Chris Healy and Stephen Muecke (eds),2009-03-01 This edition of Cultural Studies Review brings together a diverse set of essays and new writing that identify particular national tendencies notions of family epistemological worries about postmodernity s represented purpose and queries about cultural studies as it is taught and as it could be understood There is also some careful exploring of where and why we might be at home in our differences and what a felt homelessness might be To gather these varied strands beneath the heading Homefronts acknowledges as always the plurality of the environments that we call home and the battles of representation and being that make up the experiences of nation family philosophy and academic discipline that render those sites particular and so personal to us Personal Effects Sonia Wilson,2017-12-02 Five months before her death of tuberculosis in 1884 Marie Bashkirtseff an aspiring artist and a would be mondaine composed a preface to her personal diary In it she brazenly declared that in the event of her early death her diary was to be published Three years later a truncated version of the diary appeared Translated into English championed by Barres and Gladstone taken up by young diarists from France to the US the diary created a major sensation remaining standard reading for young women in both the anglophone and francophone worlds until the 1930s The first full length study to explore the questions that reading Bashkirtseff s journal raises with respect to both genre and gender construction Personal Effects examines the genre and gender issues at stake in Bashkirtseff s bid to go public with the personal and explores the discursive strategies by which Bashkirtseff writes her journal from the private context of its keeping to a public context of reading Wilson reads the diary as a performance of writing one in which a display of the personal mediates between the subjective and the social the private and the public

Flamboyant Fictions Ian Fleishman,2024-12-15 Exposes a stylistic tradition of flamboyantly failed passing in queer literature and film This book posits formal experimentation as an index for evolving expressions of male homosexuality from literary modernism to the German New Wave and the present day Ian Fleishman exposes a tradition of flamingly failed passing that is itself a surreptitious mode of passing the flaunting of queer style as an intentionally unconvincing cover for queer content Exploring a corpus of films and novels by Andr Gide Jean Genet Rainer Werner Fassbinder Werner Schroeter Fran ois Ozon and Xavier Dolan among others Flamboyant Fictions The Failed Art of Passing intervenes in trenchant debates about queer agency visibility negativity and disidentification Mapping queer strategies of storytelling onto queer practices of self invention Flamboyant Fictions wagers that it is precisely in instances of conflict between these auteurs and their inventions that narrative becomes a laboratory for testing the sovereignty and self determination of queer identity
