Soldier Boy The Letters And Memoirs Of Gunner W J Duffell 1915 1918:

More than Bombs and Bandages Kirsty Harris, 2024-06-05 More than Bombs and Bandages exposes the false assumption that military nurses only nursed. Based on author Kirsty Harris CEW Bean Prize winning PhD thesis this is a book that is far removed from the devotion to duty stereotyping offering an intriguing and sometimes gut wrenching insight into the Australian Army Nursing Service AANS during World War I. More than Bombs and Bandages provides rich pickings for all those interested in nursing history women in the Australian military the application of medical treatments and World War I. What I enjoyed most about is Dr Kirsty Harris's ability to reflect those nurses' voices in a way that was so real one could be there the settings were so well understood from her research and the language kind of made a time warp in the reading. Very satisfying. As you know I have that Peter Rees book but I could not get into it after reading the historical one. It was like comparing a great documentary to Facebook trivia. Rev d Dr Barbara Oudt Fighting the Kaiserreich Bruce Gaunson, 2018-09-01 This book portrays a modern epic of an army that sailed across the world to fight a war. Its struggle with the Kaiserreich German empire became the most formidable campaign Australian troops have ever fought. By the time Monash's soldiers broke through the Hindenburg Line their achievement and its cost were staggering. This epic was created by normal Australians and is understandable to normal Australians. Here you won't need expertise in military terminology. But to appreciate the titanic conflict the Diggers had entered you'll find a clear picture of the Great War its key issues and extraordinary events. Before this book was written Australians could not get in one concise volume the two interwoven sagas of Australia's epic and the Great War itself. That's what this lively and vigorous book offers. It draws on the sources of thirteen countries to present as many good unknowns women men and fascinating situations as it does big leaders events generals and battles. In debate it's not shackled to old predictables and while mindful of general readers it relies throughout on sound scholarship. For good measure it bombards a few fallacies and their well overdue authors Theatre at War, 1914-18 L. have been Their sons they gave their immortality Rupert Brooke In deciding to publish some of the letters written by the late Lieutenant H P M Jones during his twenty seven months service with the British Army accompanying them with a memoir I was actuated by a desire first to enshrine the memory of a singularly noble and attractive personality secondly to describe a career which though tragically cut short was yet rich in honourable achievement thirdly to show the influence of the Great War on the mind of a public school boy of high intellectual gifts and sensitive honour who had shone with equal lustre as a scholar and as an athlete My choice of the title of this book was determined by the frequent allusions made by my son in his war letters to his old school He spent six and a half years at Dulwich College His career there was gloriously happy and very distinguished On the scholastic side it culminated in December 1914 in the winning of a scholarship in History and Modern Languages at Balliol College Oxford on the athletic side in his carrying off four silver cups at the Athletic Sports in March 1915 and tieing for the Victor Ludorum shield We are delighted to publish this classic book as part of our extensive Classic Library collection Many of the books in our collection have been out of print for decades and therefore have not been accessible to the general public The aim of our publishing program is to facilitate rapid access to this vast reservoir of literature and our view is that this is a significant literary work which deserves to be brought back into print after many decades The contents of the vast majority of titles in the Classic Library have been scanned from the original works To ensure a high quality product each title has been meticulously hand curated by our staff Our philosophy has been guided by a desire to provide the reader with a book that is as close as possible to ownership of the original work We hope that you will enjoy this wonderful classic work and that for you it becomes an enriching experience
