most productive period in Althusser's life and the time when his most characteristic works were being elaborated and first received. This correspondence allows therefore a unique insight into Althusser's theoretical and political trajectory giving an intimate account of the establishment of Althusserian Marxism and the intellectual historical and institutional milieu within which it came to prominence. It also charts the singular story of Althusser's relationship with Franca whom he encountered in 1961 and who became his lover, intellectual confidante and Italian translator; the letters thus have a quasi-novelistic dimension and afford a gripping vision of a remarkable couple, the chronicle of a passion. Their correspondence consequently exhibits an exceptionally diverse tonal range, alternately analytical, lyrical, ludic and sombre, displaying an investment in language and expression barely suggested by Althusser's previously published work. At once the diary of an intellectual, political existence and the narrative of a coup de foudre, these letters also uniquely provide an astonishingly self-reflexive account of Althusser's experience of manic depression, inviting the reader to witness its sometimes exhilarating, sometimes devastating effects upon his private and public being. Featuring an extensive record of Althusser's long-term engagement with the thought and practice of psychoanalysis, Letters to Franca bids the reader here and throughout to accompany Althusser on a fascinating journey between theory and life.

Street Performance and Alternative Organisation

Marta Połec, 2025-08-15. The book presents a description of the phenomenon of organising street performances both informal and within formalised structures as well as its interpretation from the point of view of humanistic management. The book is a result of ethnographic fieldwork conducted in Polish and European cities from 2014 to 2024. The central focus is the aspects of organisational aesthetics of the activities of street performers and street festival organisers. The dynamics of street performances are structured and emerge as a type of alternative organisation. The book aims at throwing light on these processes from the point of view of humanistic management, which is a relatively new topic in organisational studies and overlooked in other academic fields. The book also identifies and outlines some research implications for the combined area of humanistic management and arts management. It offers a model of the management of street performance embedded in a theoretical context of 1. humanistic management, 2. arts management and 3. organisation informed by values such as community and social entrepreneurship. Ultimately, the organisation of art in the urban sphere can gain from lessons from the alternative organisational practices depicted in this book, which in turn can inform broader humanistically oriented managerial visions.
