central message of the Gospel of Rev Marvin Knife Sotelo is not as one whose ideas of Satanism have been shaped by pantomimes contrary to the human condition rather the very opposite It is a message that resonates through every chapter of Humanism Believe nothing but that which you alone can determine to be truth Man can free himself and it is the duty of all men to work towards this end What is pronounced is that the created does not need the Creator to attain its highest and most fruitful expression Such fulfillment including the residues of peace and prosperity of bliss and true happiness can only and will only be achieved from within

A Delicate Choreography David Sabeen, 2023-10-24 The origins of the incest taboo have puzzled many of the most influential minds of the West from Plutarch to St Augustine St Thomas Aquinas Martin Luther David Hume Lewis Henry Morgan Sigmund Freud Emile Durkheim Edward Westermarck and Claude Lévi Strauss This book puts the discussion of incest on a new foundation It is the first attempt to thoroughly examine the rich literature from philosophical theological and legal treatises to psychological and biological genetic studies to a wide variety of popular cultural media over a long period of time The book offers a detailed examination of discursive and figurative representations of incest during five selected periods from 1600 to the present The incest discussion for each period is complemented with a presentation of dominant kinship structures and changes without arguing for causal relations Part I deals with the legacy of ecclesiastical marriage prohibitions of the Middle Ages Historians dealing with the Reformation have wondered about the political and social implications of theological debates about the incest rules the Enlightenment opted for sociological considerations of the household and a new anthropology based on the passions Baroque discourse focused upon sexual relations among kin by marriage while Enlightenment and Romantic discussions worried the intimacy of siblings The first section of Part II deals with the six decades around 1900 during which European and American cultures obsessed about the sexuality of women Almost everyone concurred in the idea that mother made the family what it was that she configured the household kept the lines of kinship vibrant and stood at the threshold as stern gatekeeper and many thought that she managed these tasks through her sexuality and an eroticized relationship with sons Another story line taken up in the section Intermezzo this one about the physical and mental consequences of inbreeding appeared after 1850 To what extent do close kin marriages pose risks for progeny At its center lay the incest problematic now restated Is avoidance of kin genetically programmed Do all cultures know about risks of consanguinity As for the twenty first century evolutionary and genetic assumptions are challenged by a living world population containing roughly one billion offspring of cousin marriages Part III deals with one of the perhaps most remarkable reconfigurations of Western kinship in the aftermath of World War I The shift from an endogamous to an exogamous alliance system centered on the nuclear family An historical anomaly this family form began to dissolve almost as soon as it came together and in the process shifted the focus of incest concerns to a new pairing father and daughter By the 1970s when the father daughter problematic swept all other considerations of incest aside that relationship had come to be modeled for the most part around power and its abusive potential As for incest its representations in the last three decades of the twentieth century no longer focused on biologically damaged progeny but rather on power abuses in the nuclear family sexual abuse By the mid 1990s Western culture at least partly redirected its gaze away from father and daughter towards siblings especially towards brothers and sisters and the sexual boundaries and erotics of their relationships Correspondingly siblings became a model organism for psychotherapy evolutionary biology and the science of genetics

Sexual Violence Against Children in Britain Since 1965 Nick Basannavar, 2021-11-30 This book investigates the changes and continuities in the ways in which sexual violence has been interpreted and represented in Britain since 1965 It explores the representational trail of the Moors murders and subsequent trial of 1966 the emergence of age of consent abolitionism in the 1970s Cleveland's child sexual abuse crisis of 1987-8 and 2010 and 20s contemplations on the Jimmy Savile scandal Harnessing research into popular media forms and a huge range of personal political and professional records Nick Basannavar carefully parses and illustrates the ways in which journalists medical workers politicians lobbyists and other groups assembled and animated their narratives revealing complex rhetorical and emotional processes This book challenges problematic conceptual dichotomies such as silence noise or ignorance knowledge It shows instead that although categories such as child sexual abuse and paedophilia may be relatively recent linguistic value constructs sexual violence against children has existed and been represented across historical moments in changeable and challenging ways
