Sociological Re-Imaginations in & of Universities Mohammad H. Tamdgidi, 2009-06-01 This Summer 2009 VII 3 issue of Human Architecture Journal of the Sociology of Self Knowledge is devoted to the theme Sociological Re-Imaginations in & of Universities. As part of the journal's continuing series critically engaging with C Wright Mills' sociological imagination, i.e. the proposition that the best way to theorize and practice sociology is via a continual conversation between the study of one's personal troubles and that of broader public issues, the present issue turns its attention to fostering sociological re-imaginings in and of universities. Several faculty, recent graduates or alumni, and current undergraduate students advance insightful critical perspectives about their own learning and teaching experiences and personal troubles and broader university disciplinary and administrative public issues that in their view merit immediate attention in favor of fundamental rectifications of outdated procedures and educational habits that continue to persist at the cost of more creative and in fact more scientific and rational approaches to production and dissemination of knowledge.
